NEW CURBS PUT ON MANY HOME GOODS, SERVICE

Hit Phones, Girdles, Store Deliveries.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—A wide range of goods and services closely affecting the lives of civilian consumers were placed under new restrictions today by government wartime agencies. The orders follow:

1. New telephone installations were restricted to the extent that only persons engaged in direct war work or occupations essential to the public welfare can be sure of obtaining new service in the future.
2. The use of elastic fabric in women's corsets, girdles, and other garments was curtailed about 50 per cent, and the manufacture of noncommercial fishing tackle was halted.
3. Cotton products such as sheets, blankets, diapers, and towels, as well as china, pottery, and new tires were placed under price ceilings.
4. Special delivery services of merchants were ordered eliminated and other mileage of trucks curtailed at least 25 per cent.
5. All used railroad rail was frozen in present hands except for disposition under government authority.

TELEPHONES

The installation of new telephones was restricted by the War Production board because of war demands on communication facilities. The board said that in the future an applicant for such service may have to show that it is essential to public welfare.

"New service," the WPB explained, "may be denied to groups outside the preferred category unless existing exchange lines capacity can take care of their needs without disrupting essential service."

New installations of exchange lines and central office equipment are restricted to essential requirements to conserve critical materials.

Estimate Saving in Materials.

The order is expected to result in total annual savings of 53,000 tons of lead, 35,000 tons of iron and steel, 54,000 tons of copper, 6,500 tons of zinc, 1,890 tons of crude rubber, and quantities of other vital materials.

The Bell system, operator of the largest part of the nation's telephone network, estimated for WPB that the restrictions would result in denial of about 200,000 applications this year for residential telephone service.

A previous telephone restriction order, issued March 2, banned residential telephone extensions, replacement of wall or desk sets with hand sets, some new individual line service, and the construction of new dial stations.

ELASTICS AND TACKLE

The WPB order on corsets and girdles reduced by about 50 per cent the amount of elastic fabric that may be used in each foundation garment. It also cut manufacturers' output by 25 per cent. The purpose was to make existing supplies of elastic fabric do for as many garments as possible. The number of garments, it was said, would consequently be doubled. Production of elastic fabric has been banned.

Elastic fabric is described in the order as any material in which rubber thread is used. The amount that may be used under the order varies for different classes of garments and for different sizes.

Extends Output Eight Months.

The WPB estimated that the order will result in extending by at least eight or nine months the production from present stocks of elastic fabric. Consequently, it was said, adequate supplies of corsets, girdles, combinations, and brassieres will be available for many months ahead, particularly since retail stores have large stocks on hand at the present time.

In addition to curtailing the use of elastic fabric, the number of garments that manufacturers may cut or knit in any month was cut to 75 per cent of their average monthly production during the three months ended March 31, 1941. The cut is to be applied pro rata for the balance of April.

Fishing tackle manufacturers were ordered to stop using metals, plastics, and cork in the manufacturing of noncommercial tackle after May 31. The

SUMMARY OF WAR DEVELOPMENTS ON MAIN FRONTS

Latest war developments:

Chinese and British defenders of Burma have withdrawn from three more towns in the face of superior Japanese forces aided by planes and tanks, according to a communique from Chungking.

Allied flyers again bombed Rabaul, Japanese base on New Britain island, while Dutch and Australian forces still fought the invaders on Timor Island, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced. In the Philippines, it was reported American-Filipino troops were fighting the Japs on Cebu and Panay Islands and that Corregidor had been subjected to more dive bomber attacks.

Reds Intern U. S. Plane.

Moscow announced that an American bomber, identified as one of those participating in the air raid on Japan, landed in Siberia on April 18. The plane's crew was interned. The flyers were said to have lost their bearings and made a forced landing in the Maritime province, about 200 miles northwest of the northern tip of Japan.

On the Russian front, Finnish troops were reported in battle for the first time on the Kalinin sector, northwest of Moscow. The Germans said their offensive operations on the central and northern sectors had been successful.

CHICAGO PILOT DIES IN CRASH OF ARMY PLANE

Milton E. Connelly Jr.

First Lieut. Milton E. Connelly Jr., son of the assistant secretary of the Chicago park district, was killed yesterday when the army pursuit plane he was piloting crashed in East Spokane, Wash. He was 22 years old and had been stationed at Felts field, near Spokane, for only a few days.

Lieut. Connelly was graduated from Culver Military academy, Culver, Ind., in 1938 and entered the air corps a little more than a year ago after attending Wisconsin, Notre Dame, and De Paul universities.

He was the only child of his parents, who live at 2456 East 72d street.

BROOKS OFFERS BILL FOR VETS' POLICY RENEWAL

Washington, D. C., April 23 [Special].—A bill authorizing World War I. veterans holding five year term policies of government insurance to renew them for a fourth five year period was introduced in the senate today by Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.]. The proposed legislation affects about 45,000 veterans.

The Brooks' bill is similar to legislation enacted in 1937 which permitted renewal of veterans' term insurance for the third five year period.

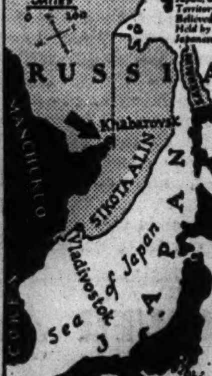
LOST FLYERS REACH SIBERIA; TELL OF RAID

Russia Interns Crew and Plane.

MOSCOW, April 24, Friday (AP).—The official Tass news agency today announced that an American plane identified by its crew as a participant in the air raids on Japanese cities last Saturday made a forced landing in the Siberian maritimes after losing its bearings.



Arrow points to where plane may have landed.

[The phrase "Siberian maritimes" apparently refers to the Maritime province of Russia, which lies about 200 miles northwest of the northern tip of Japan. A Berne dispatch quoted the Moscow radio as saying the plane flew over Sikota Alin province and landed at Khabarovsk.]

Text of Statement.

The Tass statement broadcast by the Moscow radio follows:

"On April 18 an American war plane landed in maritime territory.

"According to the statement of the plane's crew on that day this plane had participated in an American air raid on Japanese islands and, having lost its bearings, made a false landing on soviet territory.

"In accordance with international law, soviet authorities interned the American plane and its crew."

[The Russian announcement was the first direct word of the landing of any of the American planes, altho roundabout Japanese reports have said several American flyers were captured in occupied China after forced landings. The Japanese contended the Americans flew from aircraft carriers off eastern Japan, bombed Tokio, Yokohama, Nagoya, and Kobe, and then headed for prearranged bases in free China. The landing, far north of the target cities, suggested the raiders might have swept on Japan from bases in Alaska's Aleutian Islands. In this case they might have flown on to land bases in China.]

Washington Is Silent.

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—Official Washington maintained silence tonight on word from Moscow that an American plane identified by its crew as a participant in recent bombings of Japanese cities had made a forced landing in Siberia.

So far as the war, navy, and state departments are concerned there has been no official confirmation of Japanese accounts of air raids said to have been made last Saturday.

Informed of tonight's report state department officials said they were withholding comment pending receipt of official word from the United States embassy in Moscow. War and navy department press officials simply said they had no comment.

Japs Bomb Chinese Airfields.

CHUNGKING, China, April 23.—Acting on the theory that the American planes which raided Japan's major cities last Saturday landed in China, Japanese warplanes are frantically flying up and down China, reconnoitering all airdromes where they think the Americans might have landed.

A Chinese military spokesman suggested the recent and repeated bombings of Chinese airfields by the Japanese were "attributable to Japanese fears that these bases will be utilized for bombing attacks on Japan proper."

Today 19 planes pounded scattered points in Kiangsi province, while Kian, provisional capital of the province, was under a day long alarm.

Calls Bombing Blow to Morale.

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—H. H. J. Lovink, a foreign office official of the Netherlands East Indies, said today that the bombing of Japan undoubtedly was a great psychological blow to the Japanese.

"The psychological effect will be great," Lovink said. "The Japanese believe their soil is sacred and should be protected against the enemy. If the life of their emperor is endangered it may prove to be the first pin prick, the first doubt, that Japan is invincible."

TRIBUNE COLOR MAPS WIN PRAISE OF BRITISH OFFICIALS AND EDITORS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 23.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S color maps have caused something of a sensation in Britain, and have won the praise of government departments and editors.

The air ministry, in its confidential publication for service airmen only, reproduced THE TRIBUNE'S map showing air distances over the roof of the world. Squadron Leader Hector Bolitho, noted author who edits the air ministry publication, wrote the London office of THE TRIBUNE a letter of congratulations on the maps. J. H. Brebner, director of the news division of the ministry of information, has the walls of his office covered with the maps.

Frank Owen, editor of the Evening Standard who recently was called to service, said the art department of the Standard found the maps invaluable. The Standard is owned by Lord Beaverbrook, Britain's lend-lease coordinator, who now is in the United States.

2 BRITISH GIRLS MISS WORK; GET JAIL SENTENCES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 23.—Two girls today were sentenced to 28 days in jail for absenting themselves from work to which they were directed against their will by the ministry of labor. They are Jean Addison, 21 years old, and Jean Fotheringham, 22, lathe operators in a Coventry factory.

They pleaded guilty and the prosecutor pointed out that this is no isolated case, but formed part of a "course of conduct deliberately followed by the girls over many months." Miss Addison, he said, had only worked 45 per cent of the maximum hours possible at her job and Miss Fotheringham, 43 per cent.

Both the girls won a case against the government last year when they refused to work in a Birmingham factory and went to Coventry.

Chicago's Pups to Sport New Licenses of Fiber

Chicago's 65,000 dogs will do their part in the war effort by wearing license tags of fiber instead of the customary metal, according to an announcement yesterday from City Clerk Ludwig D. Schreiber. Makers of the tags, of pressed fiber instead of zinc and brass, say the tiny licenses will be satisfactory in every way, and won't disappear if soaked in a heavy rain.

May 1 Is the Day to Move, but It's a Trick

So many Chicago families have undertaken to change homes this May 1 that movers are overburdened, and hundreds will not be able to vacate their present quarters in time to make way for newcomers.

The problems of most of these families, unable to secure truckers to move their furniture either April 30 or May 1, eventually come to rest in the lap of Daniel Healy, secretary of the Movers' association of Chicago. More than 400 such appeals have come to him, and dozens more roll in daily as the day approaches on which most leases expire and new ones start.

Twenty Year Record.

More families are moving this year than in any spring season for the last 20 years, Healy said yesterday. Large numbers waited until too late to hire movers and are caught in an unhappy circle. They can't get into their new places until May 1, can't move on that day because truckers are booked up, so they will not allow new tenants to move in.

Healy has been asked for advice by persons concerned over legal aspects of the household pile-ups.

W. C. Mulfinger, attorney for the association, said those unable to move would be in difficulty if the letter of the law were followed, but that in such cases, law is usually salted with common sense and coöperation between families to make the best of bad situations.

Eviction Unlikely.

"There is no danger of eviction, because that process requires 10 days," he said. "Damage suits in these cases are rare, because hardly worth the cost. Technically, a tenant who overstays his lease one day is liable for a full month's rent, but this always is overlooked during the moving rush period."

The great migration, Healy said, is motivated by raising of rents and readjustments by thousands of families with members in the armed forces or war plant jobs.

EVE CURIE BACK FROM WAR TOUR —AN OPTIMIST

New York, April 23 (AP).—Somewhere in Russia a woman war worker is warmly dressed—in Eve Curie's coat. Somewhere in China a native housewife is protected from the too hot sun—by Eve Curie's smart black straw hat. Somewhere in Libya a Free French nurse wears comfortable canvas oxfords—which once were the property of Mlle. Curie, daughter of the late scientist, Mme. Curie. Mlle. Curie returned by Clipper Tuesday with very light luggage from a trip to the principal battle fronts of the world.

"I bought clothes as I went along, and left them behind me," she said. Her tour made an optimist of her, so far as the war is concerned, she reported. In every country, she said, an "amazing quantity" of American supplies was in use—tanks, trucks, planes, everything.

"I saw more supplies arriving in Africa—and I can tell you that nothing cheers the united nations' fighters more than to get this concrete evidence of American support."

ELEANOR HUTTON TAKES REFUGEE FOR 4TH SPOUSE

New York, April 23 [Special].—Mrs. Eleanor Close Hutton Sturges Gautier Rand, much married daughter of thrice married Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, was honeymooning today with her fourth husband—Hans Habe, anti-Nazi refugee, author and lecturer.

The bride possesses a fortune inherited from her grandfather, C. W. Post, Battle Creek, Mich., cereal magnate.

Habe, a Hungarian whose real name is Jean Bessessi, was married to the heiress yesterday in the First Magyar Presbyterian church.

Serious Delay in Shipbuilding Laid to Loafing

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—The heads of the two governmental agencies dealing with the transportation of war supplies by land and sea gave to the senate defense investigating committee today a gloomy picture of the problems to be met in the future.

Rear Adm. Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime commission, denounced deliberate slowdowns and "loafing" in shipyards and delays in the delivery of steel plate as responsible for a serious lag in the construction of vessels to carry weapons and military stores to our forces and their allies in more than 30 foreign locations.

Trucking Difficulties Seen.

Chairman Joseph B. Eastman of the Defense Transportation board anticipated difficulties in railroad and truck transportation within the continental limits of the United States. There is "great danger," he said, in the rubber shortage because a large part of the nation's freight is carried by truck and many railroads use trucks as auxiliaries. But the government probably will not resort to the policy initiated in World War I. of taking over the nation's railroad system, he said.

"This infernal agitation is going around in everybody's head about whether there should be a closed or open shop, or whether employés should join this or that union," Land testified. "There should be a stabilization of labor relations—sometimes known as freezing relations." The shipbuilding program could be 50 per cent ahead of present production, he said.

"Is loafing responsible for this lag?" inquired Sen. Harold H. Burton [R., O.].

Scores Loafing on Jobs.

"It certainly has a bearing on it," Land replied. "One of my pet peeves is loafing in the yards. We have got to build up morale, and that includes everybody from management to labor."

Beyond remarking that submarine sinkings of American ships in February and March were "really serious," Land refused to say whether ship production was keeping up with losses.

Contracts have been let for the 23,000,000 tons of shipping which is the production goal set by President Roosevelt for 1942-'43, Land said. But delayed deliveries of steel plate and labor delays have built up an unfilled "backlog" of 169,000 tons, he revealed.

"Unfilled orders for steel plate have mounted month by month," he told the committee. "In March we think our requirements were met, but nothing was done about the backlog."

Favors Six Day Week.

"Machines should work seven days a week and men six days a week," he said. "Saturdays, Sundays and holidays should be considered work days. Double time pay should be abolished for the duration of the war. The War Labor board should hold labor relations at a standstill until the war is over."

Eastman said the railroads had been doing a "splendid job" thus far but that if they lost their auxiliary truck equipment because of the rubber shortage, a very serious situation would result.

CUT GAMBLERS' OFFICIAL TIEUP, HE CHALLENGES

Assails Sergeant's Refusal to Talk.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

At the end of the sixth day of his trial before the city civil service commission on charges of inefficiency, neglect of duty, and making false reports on gambling raids, Police Sergt. Tom Lee refused yesterday to take the stand and defend himself.

State's Attorney Courtney [top] and Wendell E. Green.

The civil service commission, political appointees of Mayor Kelly, made no protest at the policeman's refusal to testify.

The aftermath was as dramatic as it was sudden. State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney sent a blistering letter to the commission. In it he flayed the conduct of the trial, the attitude of the members, and what he called the political tieup behind syndicate gambling in Chicago.

Green Conducts Hearing.

The state's attorney's attack on the city hall was made in a letter to Wendell E. Green, colored attorney, who has taken charge of the gambling hearings while the commission president, Joseph P. Geary, busies himself elsewhere. Geary has been in and out of his office at fitful intervals, but has taken no part in the Lee trial.

The prosecutor's ire was particularly aroused by a statement made by Green on Wednesday to the effect that a "coördinator" was needed to bring the state's attorney's office and the police together on their campaign against gambling. Courtney wrote Green that Chicago's real needs are:

1. Honest police work to suppress gambling and keep it suppressed.
2. Complete severance of friendship between syndicate gamblers and the police and other public servants.
3. A commission hearing to determine whether Lee is guilty or not—not whether a coördinator is indicated.
4. Further investigation by the commission and punishment for other city employés who have been shown venal or complaisant in the testimony in the Lee trial.

Cites Effect on Discipline.

Courtney declared that the spectacle of a commission supporting Lee in his refusal to take an oath and tell his own story was a "sorry picture for the future discipline of the police force." He reminded Green that the charges against the sergeant had been made by Chicago's commissioner of police.

"I trust the public will take notice," he continued, "of a civil service commission supporting a policeman refusing to answer the charges of the highest police official in the department."

Allman is to testify today, as is Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney. Courtney said he did not believe the commissioner would relish Green's assertion that Allman had assigned numerically inadequate forces to root out gambling. He suggested that Allman could supply evidence as to Lee's responsibility for gambling in certain specific loop resorts.

Second Commissioner Silent.

Green, who was appointed to the commission as a Republican seven years ago, but is now a Democratic nominee for the Municipal court, has been in full charge; a new commission member, William P. Ronan, has been sitting in silently and letting Green make all the remarks and rulings.

Green has said that it was perfectly possible for Lee to be mistaken when he reported gambling houses closed at about the time the state's attorney's men found them open. Court-

CREW DESCRIBES PLANE WARNING, THEN TORPEDOING

Bring Damaged American Ship Into Port.

Norfolk, Va., April 23 (AP).—Crewmen who brought a damaged American cargo ship into an east coast port the day after it was attacked by an enemy submarine off the Atlantic coast on April 18 said their skipper was warned of the approaching torpedo by a navy plane zooming low over the water.

Capt. John D. Baldwin, of Brooklyn, N. Y., master of the medium sized vessel, barely had time to shout "hard aport" and give the alarm before the torpedo from the unseen raider struck forward on the starboard side. The explosion left a gaping hole, buckled deck plates overhead, made a shambles of the wheel house, and caused minor injuries to the captain and a crewman.

The fifth naval district public relations office, in announcing the torpedoing today, quoted crew members as saying that vessels and planes in the vicinity dropped a number of depth charges in the area where the attack occurred.

SURVIVORS IN BERMUDA

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 23 (AP).—An allied ship has been torpedoed by an axis submarine in the western Atlantic, 33 survivors of the vessel disclosed today when they were landed here after spending 16 hours in one lifeboat. The missing included the 36 year old captain.

Blazing oil gushed from the stricken vessel after the torpedo struck and engulfed one lifeboat and a raft with flames, the men said. Those on this boat and the raft finally were transferred to the remaining boat, in which they were picked up the next morning.

11 SURVIVORS LANDED

Portland, Me., April 23 (AP).—Eleven survivors of a small Canadian freighter who passed 27 hours in a lifeboat after their vessel was torpedoed by a German submarine off the eastern coast of South America were landed here yesterday, naval officials reported today.

Two men lost their lives in the sinking, which occurred late in February.

The survivors were taken aboard a foreign freighter bound for the United States.

TWO VESSELS SALVAGED

Brunswick, Ga., April 23 (AP).—Two merchant vessels, torpedoed off the coast on April 8 with the loss of 21 lives, were brought into port here by salvage boats and will be sent to another port for reconditioning.

Sixteen bodies were recovered from one of the boats and two were missing. Two bodies were found aboard the other vessel and one was still missing. Thirty-five men were rescued from one of the boats and 19 from the other at the time of the attack.

PLANE BRINGS 26 TO U. S.

Miami, Fla., April 23 (AP).—A slow moving United States merchantman, which tried desperately to outrun or outmaneuver a fast axis submarine, was attacked by machinegun and shellfire off the Brazilian coast April 9 with possible loss of 11 lives.

Loss of the ship had been reported earlier from Brazil. Details were made public today by sixth naval district officers after 26 survivors were brought to Miami from a Brazilian port by plane.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 23 (AP).—A dozen firemen suffered minor injuries while battling a three alarm fire in the old 174 Infantry armory here today. The building, former home of Jamestown's National Guard units, had housed the Jamestown welfare department offices since 1934. First reports said welfare records had been destroyed, but the records later were found unharmed in a vault. Welfare department clothing and blankets valued at $6,000 were destroyed.

Less than Three Yards of Material in New Gown

Hollywood, Cal., April 23 (AP).—Two and a quarter yards of material, instead of the usual seven yards, went into an evening gown designed for Alexis Smith, pretty red haired actress, by Milo Anderson, Warner Brothers studio stylist. Miss Smith termed the skimpy gown as satisfactory for screen or social wear as its pre-war counterparts containing much more yardage. Anderson calls it a "priority gown." He first thought of calling it "the frozen silhouette."

Take Measures to Save Liberty Bell from Bombs

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23 (AP).—Precautions have been taken to protect the historic Liberty bell in the event of a bombing raid on Philadelphia. The historic bell at Independence hall has been mounted on a four wheel cart. At the first sign of danger guards will haul the bell into a secret bombproof shelter.

INSTALL DEVICE TO SPOT PLANES 100 MILES AWAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Installation of radio devices capable of detecting approaching enemy planes 100 miles from shore is being speeded by the army, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson reported today. Speed is deemed essential because enemy bombings are expected in retaliation for the American raids on Tokio and other Japanese cities.

Stimson recently inspected several coast defense establishments in the vicinity of Fort Monmouth, N. J., and witnessed demonstrations of the device—first used in Britain and perfected here.

"The thing I looked at picked up an approaching friendly plane 60 miles away," Stimson said. "Other devices can pick up planes well over 100 miles away."

Other developments at the secretary's weekly press conference included announcement of a move to stimulate recruiting of 18 and 19 year old youths, by permitting them to choose the branch of service they prefer.

VICTORY FIRST, THEN IDEALS, U. S. AID TELLS INDIA

NEW DELHI, India, April 23 (AP).—Louis Johnson, President Roosevelt's envoy to India, told the people of India in a broadcast today that the goal of allied victory must come first, and pledged that after that the United States would put her loftiest ideals into the solution of world problems. He asked India's help in winning the war.

"There is no goal for us and for you," he said, "except victory, and in that victory may I say on behalf of the President of the United States that we propose to bring to the problem of eventual peace, no less than to the battlefield of the immediate war, our aroused conscience, our highest resolves, and our loftiest ideals.

"To those high ends we have dedicated our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

FINNISH TROOPS ENTER BATTLE ON MOSCOW FRONT

Nine-Tenths of Nazi Army Claimed Facing Reds.

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, April 23 (AP).—Finnish troops appeared in battle for the first time today on the Kalinin front, the broad area northwest of Moscow, as both the Russian defenders and the axis invaders piled up reserves for the expected gigantic conflict of spring and early summer.

[How or in what strength the Finns got to the Kalinin front was not disclosed.]

Local actions flared on many sectors. These feeler thrusts came as an official soviet spokesman said nine-tenths of the whole German army was on the Russian front and that Adolf Hitler had called up 1,900,000 reserves but that the Red army is moving up men to meet this immense threat.

Claims 900,000 Youths Called.

Of the total German reserves recently called at least 900,000 were said by Solomon A. Lozovsky, the soviet vice commissar of foreign affairs, to be from new military classes of youths 17 and 18 years old. Half a million more, he added, were taken from vital industry and another half a million from "the vassal countries."

Russian reports from the southern sectors, where the ground now is hardening and where the Germans might be expected to strike an early new blow toward the Caucasus, indicated that German counterattacks had waned mysteriously.

Two attacks were reported in the southwest, where the enemy threw a pontoon bridge across a river under cover of a heavy artillery and trench mortar barrage, only to see it destroyed by Russian shells and the crossing frustrated.

In the Bryansk sector, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, soviet units were moving thru German log defenses to widen the wedge which they have driven into the strongly held salient.

German Bombers Attack.

BERLIN, April 23 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—German offensive operations have been successful in the central and northern sectors of the Russian front and local soviet attacks have broken down, the high command said today.

German bombers were said to have caused fires and explosions in an overnight attack on a soviet armament works in Stalingrad, on the lower Volga river, and effectively raided harbor installations of arctic Murmansk, where it was said dive bombers attacked and escorting fighters shot down nine Russian planes.

WARNS AGAINST CENSORSHIP AS A SLAVERY CLOAK

New Haven, Conn., April 23 (AP).—Grove Patterson, editor of the Toledo Blade, asserted today that "anything like autocratic censorship or restriction bearing upon the first 10 amendments to the constitution would be a blackout of the very purposes for which we fight this war.

"Total war means that we must all be enlisted in one way or another," said Patterson in a prepared lecture under the Block Foundation at Yale. "But all this does not mean we are to accept the slavery of silence which the masters of totalitarian nations impose upon their subjects."

The Toledo editor warned that there was sentiment in some government quarters in Washington for general censorship.

"There are members of our growing Washington burocracy," he asserted, "who could immeasurably increase their opportunity to regulate, regiment, and destroy, in the muddy and bewildering darkness of censorship."

BRITISH ATTACK ON NAZIS URGED BY BEAVERBROOK

Briton Says Stalin Can End War in '42.

New York, April 23 (AP).—Lord Beaverbrook, declaring that "Russia may settle the war for us in 1942," called tonight for a great new offensive by the British in the west to help the soviet armies battling Germany.

Lord Beaverbrook.

"By holding the Germans in check, possibly even by defeating them, the Russians may be the means of bringing the whole axis structure down," the British publisher told the annual dinner of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, concluding the 56th annual convention.

"This is a chance, an opportunity to bring the war to an end here and now. But if the Russians are defeated and driven out of the war, never will such a chance come to us again.

"Strike Out Violently."

"Strike out to help Russia. Strike out violently. Strike even recklessly, but in any event such blows that real help will be our share and contribution to the Russian battlefront."

The British publisher, who recently left Prime Minister Winston Churchill's cabinet to come to the United States on a government mission, said that he believed in the Russian theory that "the best form of defense is attack." He paid high tribute to the vital aid the United States has given the soviet armed forces.

Beaverbrook made no effort to minimize the misfortunes the British have been surviving on their present home front, and he also made an ardent defense of Stalin and his Communist generals.

Tells of British Losses.

"We know that the Russians kill more Germans every day than all the allies put together. We know they destroy more enemy tanks, bring down more enemy planes than any of us or all of us. Russia is the fighting front. . . . Communism under Stalin has produced the best generals in this war," Beaverbrook said.

He told the publishers that it was just two years ago that Britain lost everything she possessed except soldiers and that they had had to begin all over again.

"Guns we lost in thousands, vehicles by 50,000. Almost all our tanks, and many airplanes," he said.

Urges Second Front.

In elaborating upon his advocacy of the Russian system of attack, Beaverbrook told the editors that it was his opinion that ". . . Britain should adopt it [the Russian attack idea] by setting up somewhere along the 2,000 miles of coastline now held by the Germans a second front in western Europe. . . ."

Detailing British losses with utter frankness Beaverbrook confessed how close his country was to tragic disaster at several stages before the United States started getting up speed in the war effort against the axis.

Acknowledging that the loss of materials was serious, he also said that ". . . the biggest disaster was our naval losses. Forty-seven warships were sunk in the operations off Norway and Dunkirk. And when the evacuation was over half our destroyer fleet lay awaiting repairs in our shipyards.

Only Five Fighting Planes Left.

"Hardly had we emerged from this peril when we were called upon to fight the battle of Britain. And I must tell you that when that struggle began we had in reserve only five fighter aircraft in the storage units. . . .

"We were defeated in Greece. Crete was a weary burden and cost us many valuable warships, and transports, too. Other events followed swiftly and before the year was out the British army had fought major engagements on seven separate fronts in the middle east.

"Then came the Japs. They caught us unawares in Malaya and Singapore. We have little to say in defense of our errors. . . . But that is the story of the past. Now the day has come when in almost every quarter of Britain the cry goes up: 'ATTACK!' 'Attack in support of Russia.' For the passion to set up a western fighting front in aid of the Russians is deep in the hearts of all our people.

"It is said by one of my neighbors: 'Don't give any more supplies to the Russians lest they use their weapons against us the next time they change sides.'

Defends Churchill.

"That is not possible. There is no crossing that river of martyrs' blood. Maybe more than a million men and women have died to save Russia. The peace will come not from negotiation but from subjugation. Russia or Germany must be destroyed . . . Stalin has pledged his word to make war and peace with Great Britain and America. He will respect his promise."

In a peroration defending Prime Minister Churchill as the "great crusader of modern times" and the "embodiment of the spirit of Britain today," Beaverbrook said:

"I am told here and there, wherever I go, that he will fall before the summer is out. You must help me to kill that bad rumor. Such a disaster we cannot contemplate in Great Britain."

LORD HALIFAX SAYS BRITAIN WILL NEVER GO TOTALITARIAN

New York, April 23 [Special].—In fighting to defeat totalitarianism, England herself never will go totalitarian but, thru a "people's victory," will emerge as an even stronger democracy in which "there will be no room either for selfish privilege or idleness," Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, declared tonight.

Lord Halifax was the principal speaker at the 172d annual banquet of the St. George's Society of New York.

War will change the "old" England, Lord Halifax conceded, but he argued that change has been the oldest tradition of the British race, and England's institutions have survived for so many centuries simply because they have been able to adapt themselves to change.

With emotion, he added: "No war can change the English countryside, the wildness of a Yorkshire moor, the white cliffs of Dover."

British to Attend Canada Air Training Conference

LONDON, April 23 (AP).—The British government has warmly accepted an invitation to a conference at Ottawa, Ont., in May at which representatives of the united nations will discuss the air training program in the United States and Canada, an official spokesman said today. Plans for the conference were announced last Friday by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada. The spokesman said Britain would send a delegation headed by Capt. Harold H. Balfour, undersecretary of state for air.

POLICE TRIAL BOARD LASHED BY COURTNEY

Cut Gamblers' Political Tieup, He Urges.

HIGHLIGHTS OF LETTER

Highlights of Mr. Courtney's letter were:

"Mr. Green is quoted as stating that there appears to be a lack of an agency to coördinate the police and the state's attorney's reports. . . . I do not consider such to be the purpose of this hearing. . . .

"Apparently Mr. Green is poorly informed as to the need of any coördinating agency on gambling. What is needed is honest police work. That, and that alone can suppress gambling and keep it suppressed.

"The state's attorney has no responsibility to do police work in Chicago, nor do I intend in the future to do the police department job or any part thereof. I do however, aim, in the interest of the people of this community to require and compel, insofar as I can, honest police service in connection with syndicate gambling and all other police matters..

Told Mayor of Evil.

"In December, 1940, after seven murders were attributed to the gambling syndicate, with the president of the Chicago Crime commission, I called on the mayor of Chicago and again told him of existing evils and insisted upon honest and proper action to suppress protected syndicated gambling. A list of known gambling places was handed to the mayor. I was informed that the public would thenceforth receive honest public action, and that orders would be given to subordinates in the police department to take action to eliminate the syndicate.

"At that time it was further understood between the mayor, the commissioner of police, and myself that any information secured by my office concering gambling locations would be communicated by my first assistant, Mr. Crowley, to Commissioner Allman. Practically daily thereafter Mr. Crowley notified Commissioner Allman of the places reported by my investigators.

". . . You must check up to find out whether or not duties are being performed. We have never gone around in circles. Is Commissioner Green complaining about the fact that my office checked on police activity? A proper question is why did the Civil Service commission sit idly by all these years and allow a gambling syndicate to be built on the foundation of police inefficiency and corruption? You have the power and it is your duty to investigate police misconduct and, speaking for this office, I would have been delighted to have seen some action on your part instead of your constant indifference.

"Mr. Green is further reported as stating that the mere fact that gambling places were reported closed by Lee, altho on the same day found open by investigators from this office—that such differences were mere discrepancies and that both reports were honest. If this is the conclusion to be arrived at after a partial hearing on this subject, it would seem a useless gesture to continue further production of evidence before your body."

Tells of Evidence Supplied.

"Mr. Green is quoted further as saying that an insufficient number of police were assigned to gambling, and that apparently the inadequate number of police is the excuse to be offered for the existence of a gambling syndicate. It is hard to believe that any public official does not know better. . . . It appears that Mr. Green by his statement indicts the commissioner of police for failure to provide an adequate police assignment. I do not know that this investigation by your commission has as yet determined that all police officers, except those specially assigned, are barred from police action against gambling places. It would be interesting if such were determined to be the fact.

"Thru Commissioner Allman you should be able to determine whether or not Lee had any responsibility for the open gambling operations at 411 South Wabash avenue. We supplied evidence that a gambling group headed by Jimmy the Cat, operated at 316 South Wabash avenue, moved to 24 East Van Buren street, and then to 411 South Wabash avenue, all those locations practically side by side. Lee disclaimed responsibility for gambling at 411 South Wabash avenue, with the excuse that it was a hundred feet away from the south boundary of his then designated area of assignment, altho he knew it was a gambling place operated by Jimmy the Cat. Despite the fact that Lee had not yet testified, your commission has stricken that testimony from the record.

Says Charges Substantiated.

"Are you interested in determining who is responsible for permitting Jimmy the Cat to operate at 411 South Wabash avenue? The commissioner by his charges said that Lee was. . . . We in the state's attorney's office have spent a great deal of time and effort in gathering and correlating the material which we supplied Commissioner Allman as the basis of his charges. We are satisfied that the charges as now made are fully substantiated by the evidence offered your commission.

"As I am about to conclude this letter, I am just informed that Officer Lee has refused to testify in denial of charges made by Commissioner Allman. Am I to understand that your commission has permitted a police officer to sit defiantly by and refuse to answer questions as to his official conduct?

"This represents a sorry picture for the future discipline of the police department. I trust the public will take notice of a civil service commission supporting a policeman refusing to answer charges of the highest police official in the department."

4 ON TRIAL HEAR AN INSIDE STORY OF THEIR UNDOING

Learn How Agents Trail Bootlegger Gangs.

The little band of bootleggers on trial in the federal court of Judge William H. Holly yesterday heard a tale told by a couple of aces of the alcohol tax unit, full of sound, suspense and subterfuge. It revealed how the prisoners' thriving bootleg business was smashed by federal agents.

The defendants are Procopio [Pete] Randozzo, Nick del Vicario, Stanley [Starchy] Romano, and Nick Pettinato. Nine other members of the once prosperous gang have pleaded guilty to bootleg charges and will be sentenced when this trial is completed.

Vincent Russo, an investigator with a soft Alabama drawl, contributed the suspense element to the story. He told of a cold night on Nov. 18, 1938, when he went to a Cicero saloon, posing as a bootlegger, and was held under suspicion while another gangster, Ray Perti, went for a load of alcohol.

Agent Proves Convincing.

"Perti told two pals to watch me till he got back," Russo recalled. "A long time passed and no Perti. It took a lot of talking, but I managed somehow to convince the boys I was all right; nothing but a nice bootlegger from Ohio. They wavered a bit and I skeedaddled."

"Did you know what had happened to Perti?" asked Francis McGreal, assistant United States attorney.

Russo grinned. "Well, yes, he had been arrested by our men."

The seizure of Perti, one of those who pleaded guilty, started the breakup of the band. How it was further weakened was told by the next witness, Col. Thomas E. Bailey, chief investigator.

Col. Bailey disclosed to the defendants how, by crouching for hours in the trunk of an automobile, he was able to find the farm in Franklin Park where the gang's supply of alcohol was being distilled at the rate of 125 gallons a day.

Tell Tale Trail of Oil.

"I was in the government car's trunk, with two quarts of oil," he testified. "We had bored a hole in the bottom. When one of the gang members took the wheel to drive to the still, I would, at various times, pour some of the oil on the concrete below."

This left a revealing trail, it developed, one which the federal agents, after paying for the load of illicit alcohol, were able to trace back to a farm run by Tom and Mabel Maloney, an elderly pair. The still was seized eight days later and in ensuing months the entire gang was rounded up.

The defendants are expected to take the stand today.

CIO DUNS LEWIS FOR MINE UNION'S PER CAPITA TAXES

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—The Congress of Industrial Organizations dunned John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of America for per capita tax payments today and declared its belief that advances made by the mine union to the CIO in the latter's fledgling days did not constitute a debt to be repaid in cash.

The miners have not paid the CIO their February and March tax, amounting to about $60,000. They have asked for repayment of "loans" of about $1,660,000 made to the CIO.

James B. Carey, CIO secretary, in a letter to Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the UMWA, said "one of the basic principles to which every union man subscribes is the sanctity of the obligation to pay his union dues. . . . I therefore respectfully request the payment of your past due per capita tax."

Resolutions adopted by the CIO executive officers declared that organization "and its millions of members expresses and reaffirms its everlasting gratitude to and affection for the United Mine Workers of America."

BOOKIE SQUAD RAIDS HOTEL IN LOOP; 3 SEIZED

Central police yesterday raided an alleged bookie in room 639 of the Morrison hotel and arrested three men as operators. They gave their names as James Wood, William Fox, and Al Jacobs. Police said there were four customers in the place. Hotel officials said they were unaware that the room was being used as a bookie as charged by police. Later another squad arrested Joseph King, 46 years old, at 69 West Monroe street on a charge of taking bets.

SLAYER OF WIFE TAKES HIS LIFE IN LINCOLN PARK

Owen Bradford, 60 years old, 1503 North Clark street, sought for 24 hours for the fatal shooting of his wife, Isabelle, 65, on Wednesday, shot and killed himself last night on the North avenue pier, off Lincoln park. His body fell into the water and was recovered later.

Nelson Hoag, 1211 North La Salle street, heard Bradford's shot and saw him plunge into the water. After police left the scene two men called the station to say they had found Bradford's overcoat on the bank, folded, and with a note inside.

Bradford shot and fatally wounded his wife, pumping five bullets into her body as they quarreled on a stairway leading to her kitchenette apartment at 1504 North Dearborn street. C. W. Lundquist, janitor of the building, said he recognized Bradford as her assailant.

BRITISH, CHINESE WITHDRAW FROM 3 BURMA TOWNS

Battles with Japs Rage at All Key Points.

CHUNGKING, China, April 23 (AP).—Japanese encirclement tactics, pressed home with plane supported tanks and hard driving fresh infantry, have forced the Chinese to fall back from Loikaw and Pyinmana on the east side of the Burma defense line, while the British withdrew from Taungdwingyi on the center.

Battles raged today at key points all along the Burma front, from the Shan states, near the Siamese border, westward to the Yenangyaung sector on the Irrawaddy, but it was on the eastern flanks that the superior forces of the invaders made their most dangerous gains.

A Chinese communique said Loikaw, capital of the Karen-Ni states, on the Nam Pawn river, was abandoned after the Japanese outflanked the town on the north Tuesday evening.

Fight Japs in Streets.

The Chinese garrison forces, however, fought a long delaying action in the streets, struggling hand to hand against 10 to 1 odds, said the communique. Casualties were described as heavy on both sides.

The Japanese, continuing to rush up well rested reënforcements, now are thrusting farther north thru the great teak forests between the Nam Pawn and Salween rivers.

A Chinese army spokesman said terrific Japanese pressure also had forced the Chinese out of Pyinmana on the Sittang river 65 miles northwest of Loikaw and less than 150 miles south of Mandalay.

The front now is in the vicinity of Kyidanggan, north of Pyinmana on the railroad of Mandalay, said the Chinese.

Chinese Outflanked.

The Chinese spokesman said a right flanking movement at Lewe had won Pyinmana for the Japanese after they gained less than six miles in expensive frontal assaults.

Forty miles farther northwest, the British reported they had pulled out of Taungdwingyi, apparently in a line straightening operation necessitated by the loss of Pyinmana.

Another 60 miles northwest, where a Chinese counterattack previously had rescued British forces trapped at Yenangyaung, the Chinese reported that they had mopped up Japanese elements three and four miles south of that ravaged oil town, but that the invaders now had been reinforced and a battle was taking place in the vicinity of the Piur river, a tributary of the broad Irrawaddy.

PLAN THOUSAND RAID SHELTERS IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23 (AP).—This city—the nation's third largest—plans to build 1,000 concrete air raid shelters in a $500,000 program which may entail condemnation of private homes to assure proper construction.

Believed to be the first large scale effort in the United States to provide underground protection against bombs, a survey will begin immediately to determine location of the shelters, Arthur M. Williams, deputy chairman of the Council of Defense, announced.

"They will be placed according to population density and will be equipped with the necessary ventilation, sanitation, and other needed facilities," he said. The shelters are expected to be patterned after those which house London's millions during air raids.

SMASH RABAUL AGAIN; ALLIES FIGHT ON TIMOR

MacArthur Steps Up Raids on Jap Bases.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, April 23 (AP).—A quickening of the tempo of allied air raids on the important and battered Japanese base of Rabaul on New Britain Island was announced today from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, along with word that Dutch and Australian forces still are battling the Japanese on the invaded island of Timor.

Buildings at Stockholm plantation, near Rabaul, were hit directly in a surprise raid Tuesday afternoon, MacArthur's communique said, and on Wednesday morning the allied bombers followed up with attacks on a dock.

Philippines Battles Go On.

Touching also on the continued fighting in the Philippines, the communique said the struggle was continuing on Cebu Island, that American-Filipino forces were in contact with the enemy on southern Panay Island, and that the Manila bay fortresses of Corregidor had undergone intermittent but diminishing dive bomber attacks.

Gen. MacArthur conferred with his air commander, Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett, who has just returned from inspection of bases.

Meanwhile an announcement by Prime Minister Peter Fraser in New Zealand clarified the status of that dominion, more than 1,000 miles east of Australia. He said his government had concurred in placing defense of New Zealand, Fiji, and other islands under a United States naval command.

Claim 140 Allied Planes Downed.

BERLIN, April 23 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The German radio, quoting Japanese advices, said today 68 Australian and United States planes had been downed in combat over Port Moresby, New Guinea, and Darwin, Australia, between April 1 and 20. Prior to April, the advices said, 72 allied planes were shot down by the Japanese over these objectives.

TELLS HOW 2 DAY RAIN SAVED U. S. WARSHIPS FROM 60 JAP PLANES

San Diego, Cal., April 23 (AP).—An American sailor related today that rain squalls which continued two days in Dutch East Indies waters saved an unprotected unit of the United States fleet from 60 heavy Japanese bombers with a fighter escort.

In a letter released by the 11th naval district, written to his former Sunday school teacher here, the sailor said:

"We received word that 60 heavy Japanese bombers with fighter escorts were headed for us at six minutes flying distance. When the word came it was fairly clear with only scattered clouds.

"Yet before we even sighted the planes, we were in the midst of a heavy rain that continued without a letup for two solid days. We could hear the Japs without opposition flying back and forth over us, waiting for the weather to break so they could get us. But when the weather finally did break they had lost us."

The sailor's name was withheld.

2 N. U. GRADS SET SIZZLING PACE IN AUSTRALIAN PORT

Get Ships Unloaded, Goods Stored in a Jiffy.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, April 23.—Two hustling young soldiers from the Chicago area who were in the class of 1937 at Northwestern university have won promotions since arriving in Australia by breaking local records in moving war materials sent to this country.

Lieut. John Auld.

They are First Lieut. Thomas Masterson, formerly of 1748 North Shore avenue, and First Lieut. John Auld, 1372 Prairie avenue, Des Plaines. Both were second lieutenants when I arrived here.

Auld once played on the Oak Park Acorns, a state championship soccer team. In Chicago, he was employed by the Union Tank Car company.

Masterson attended Loyola academy before going to Northwestern. Both men are married.

57 Hours Without a Break.

Auld is in charge of unloading cargoes at an Australian port, and Masterson is a warehouse superintendent. "I take it off the ships and he puts it away," Auld told me.

From other sources I learned that on one occasion they worked 57 hours without a break.

At another time, when it was imperative to unload vessels to clear the wharves, Masterson and his crew of American soldiers and stevedores never left the warehouse for 10 days. Auld worked 10 days too, but he ate and slept on the ship being unloaded.

Lieut. Masterson and the men during their 10 day workout ate canned biscuits and other foods from cases broken in shipment, and caught what sleep they could on piles of blankets and uniforms, anything they could find softer than the concrete floor.

Soldiers Help Unload Ships.

Because Australia is short of man power it has been necessary for American soldiers to help unload cargoes.

Auld told of one warehouse which was erected and filled in 48 hours, and of another into which they moved war materials at one end while Australian goods which had been stored there were moving out the other.

"Australians are friendly," Auld said, "and they make a genuine effort to understand the way we do things. We get along very well together."

F. D. R. REQUESTS FURTHER BOOST FOR HERO O'HARE

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—President Roosevelt asked the senate today to approve his advancement of Lieut. Comm. Edward H. O'Hare, flying hero, 30 numbers of the navy promotion list.

O'Hare shot down five Japanese bombers and damaged a sixth in engagements over the Pacific. The President conferred the congressional medal of honor on him last Tuesday and at the same time promoted him from lieutenant to lieutenant commander.

The advancement on the list will place O'Hare ahead of some of his fellow officers when further promotions are considered.

PROMOTE FRENCH WAR CHIEF.

VICHY, France, April 23 [AP].—France's new secretary of war, Eugene Bridoux, was advanced today to the rank of lieutenant general. Gen. Jean Francois Jannekeyn, new air secretary, left for a tour of French North Africa, including the Atlantic base, Dakar.

PETER KRUG.

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—Peter Krug, a German army combat pilot who escaped from a concentration camp in Canada, is being sought in the United States, the FBI said today. Krug is believed to be trying to return to Germany by way of Mexico and South America. He was aided in his flight by a Detroit restaurant proprietor, according to the FBI.

Mixup on Gasoline Curbs Halts Taxis, Autos in Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, April 23.—Fifty per cent of the taxicabs and a great majority of private cars here ceased running today due to restrictive measures on the sale of gasoline and misunderstanding of the regulation. A month ago the national petroleum council ordered a 10 per cent cut in sales. The council later increased the cut to 30 per cent, to apply exclusively to interior states. Service stations today interpreted that rule as applying to all, and many refused to sell gasoline. Stocks here are sufficient for three months.

AUSSIES TO LIFT BAN ON SUNDAY FUN FOR TROOPS

State Chiefs to Provide More Entertainment.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, April 23.—Brighter Sunday campaigners scored a first round victory tonight when Prime Minister John Curtin announced that the national security acts will be amended to enable state premiers to provide Sabbath entertainment for soldiers.

The prime minister acted after the premiers of all states meeting in conference unanimously agreed that the commonwealth government should pass an enabling act to this effect.

The form and conditions under which entertainments are to be provided and the hours which are to be available are left to individual premiers, as well as the question whether admission fees can be charged.

Cabinet Suggests Hours.

This step to banish gloomy Sundays in Australian towns and cities followed recommendations by the war cabinet to the premiers. The cabinet suggested that places of entertainment should be opened between 2:30 p. m. and 6 p. m., and 8:15 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. These hours were suggested so as not to interfere with church services.

The form entertainments are to take is left by the war cabinet to the premiers, but it was recommended that it include movies, concerts, bands, stage performances, athletics, and organized sports of a nonprofessional nature.

May Include Friends.

One of the issues discussed but not decided was whether soldiers could be accompanied to entertainments by sweethearts, wives, mothers, and friends. Views were strongly expressed that it would be unfair to force the soldiers to go alone on days off, which are usually the only time they have to spend with their families and friends.

Altho the premiers' action does not in itself provide for Sunday recreational facilities, it does lift the ban, and the premiers are expected to take speedy action toward providing entertainment in their states.

Marie, Smallest of Dionne Quints, in Toronto Hospital

TORONTO, Ont., April 23 (AP).—Marie, smallest of the 8 year old Dionne quintuplets, arrived at the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children today, for what was described as "a perfectly routine checkup" to supplement a previous examination for suspected muscular atrophy in one leg. The original examination was made on Jan. 25 and an announcement at that time said physicians found "no serious lesion."

MOTHER SPURNS $5,000 FOR DEATH OF SON IN WAR

Altoona, Pa., April 23 (AP).—A woman who was born in Poland but became an American citizen refused today to accept payment of $5,000 federal insurance in the death of her sailor son, declaring the government needed the money more than she and her husband, a coal miner. Chief Signalman Charles Lynch, navy recruiting officer, identified her only as a resident of Cresson, Pa. Her son was lost in the battle of Java. Lynch said she has another son in the navy.

MUST CHICAGOANS BE FORCED TO PAY MORE FOR MILK?

This question is raised in your interest by 85 principal milk distributors in the Chicago Metropolitan Area

EFFECTIVE May 1, the Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers Union has asked for extraordinary increases in pay and commissions, and for a reduction in working hours.

Because milk is such an important commodity, the Chicago milk distributors believe the public should be informed as to what the new demands of the Union mean to consumers.

Chicago milk distributors maintain that every family should be entitled to buy milk at a reasonable price—whether that milk is delivered to the door, purchased in a retail store or in their favorite eating places.

We believe that families who buy their milk at their neighborhood food store should benefit by the lesser expense of delivering milk in large quantities to stores than is possible in delivering small quantities to homes.

This Advantage Is Threatened

This advantage which is enjoyed by many milk consumers in Chicago is now being threatened.

Officials of the Milk Wagon Drivers Union are now asking for an exorbitant increase in pay and commissions for drivers who deliver milk to stores. This increase would nearly double the present earnings of the average driver. If the Union's demands are granted, the new wage plus commissions paid to some 500 drivers would average about $190 per week, or $9,880 a year. Under the terms of the Union proposal a man could earn as much as $25,376—many would average $10,000 to $15,000 annually.

This increase in the cost of distributing milk to stores could not be borne by the dairies. It could not be absorbed by the storekeepers. The added expense of delivering milk to stores would have to be passed on to the public. The price of milk in stores would have to be substantially increased.

A DECLARATION OF LOYALTIES

We consider the processing and distribution of high-quality Grade A milk for Chicago families and institutions to be a public trust.

We recognize an obligation to pay the farmer a fair price for his product, and to reward dairy workers and drivers with a fair income.

We also maintain that it is our duty to protect the public . . . to do all in our power to see that Chicagoans can obtain milk, either at their door, in stores or eating places, at a reasonable cost that is fair to all.

We do not believe the new demands of the Union officials are consistent with this policy. We believe they would impose a heavy and unnecessary burden on the milk consuming public, and we have therefore rejected them.

Milk Distributors of Chicago

Other Demands Also Made

The Union officials are also asking for a wage increase for drivers who deliver milk to the home—a flat $5 increase in the basic weekly wage. The average retail driver's weekly earnings, including commissions, would total $58 per week or $3,016 per year under the new proposals.

To these wage increases must also be added the expense of shorter working hours. More delivery trucks and more men would be required—more rubber, more fuel, more equipment. In addition, the Dairy Workers Union is asking for a substantial weekly increase in wages for milk plant men and office workers.

These increases in the cost of distributing milk to Chicagoans would have to be passed on to the public.

Chicago Milk Wages Highest in U. S.

In order to attract a high caliber of employe, in order to better serve the public, Chicago dairies have paid high wages. For several years milk wages in Chicago have been the highest milk wages in the U. S.

The Chicago fresh milk industry was the first in this area to give routemen and plant workers two weeks vacation with pay. Chicago's milkmen are given steady work. The present 54-hour-per-week arrangement with our driver-salesmen includes lunch time, in many cases breakfast, and several hours each week for book reports.

Chicago milk distributors have dealt liberally with our employes in the past. The new demands of the Union officials have been carefully weighed. We believe it has been in the public interest that they have been rejected.

We regard annual earnings which would average $3,510 for store delivery drivers and $2,756 for home delivery drivers as fair compensation under existing conditions.

The Union proposals would unduly penalize families who buy their milk from stores and would substantially raise the prices which stores must charge for milk.

These proposals would also raise the cost of milk delivered to the home, and to restaurants, hospitals and other large users of fresh milk.

★ ★ ★

The milk distributors of Chicago do not believe the present demands of the Unions are consistent with the Government's policy to curb inflationary trends and to conserve equipment. We have therefore submitted the facts of the present situation to Price Administrator Leon Henderson, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard and others in government who can represent the public's interest in the solution of this important problem.

CHICAGOANS HELP DESTROY 15 JAP PLANES IN BURMA

AVG Ambushes Enemy Fighters in Sky.

[The following dispatch has been 13 days in transit from the remote interior of Burma. It depicts the battle against great odds being fought by the "Flying Tigers" of the American Volunteer group.]

BY DANIEL DELUCE.

WITH THE AMERICAN VOLUNTEER GROUP IN BURMA, April 10 [Delayed]—(AP).—Driven out of Mingaladon and then Magwe, the Yanks of the American Volunteer group, with the colors of China and Britain on their plane wings, now are fighting heavy Japanese assaults on their new base defending northern Burma.

Already they have destroyed an entire squadron of the invaders' finest aircraft.

In two dogfights 48 hours apart, ranging 100 miles over the mountains of China's Yunnan province and Burma's Shan states, the American pilots broke up a swarm of Japanese air raiders and blasted 15 out of the sky for certain. Five other enemy planes probably were destroyed in the combat.

Tackle Jap Fighters.

The Japanese planes were on a special 1,000 mile mission, equipped with extra gas tanks, and were out to catch the AVG aground. Twice, however, the heavily gunned Japanese Zero fighters fell into an ambush in the clouds.

None of the American flyers was lost.

Wednesday noon [April 8] a fast twin engined Japanese reconnaissance bomber scouted the field and eluded two pursuing American flyers. Then in midafternoon a Japanese fighter formation was reported en route.

Squadron Leader Arvid Olson of 3100 Keating avenue, Chicago, and Bob Little of Seattle, Wash., just arrived from Sinogo, went aloft with Ed Overend of Coronado, Cal.; Johnny Donovan of Montgomery, Ala.; R. T. Smith of Lincoln, Neb.; Fritz Wold of Shawano, Wis.; Cliff Groh, 311 4th street, Wilmette, Ill., and Fred Hodges of Memphis, Tenn.

The Japanese swooped over the runway, but there were no rows of stationary aircraft. They combed the edges of the field for concealed prey. Nearly five miles high more of the enemy hovered.

Score First Victories.

Then the Americans attacked the low flying strafers. The Japanese cruising high in the sky stayed there while, one after another, 10 of their mates died fighting and the remainder broke and fled in their damaged ships.

Wednesday's score was Olson and Donovan one each, their first victories; Overend, Groh, Hodges, and Little, one apiece, and Smith and Wold, two each.

Hodges' pretty bride of six days, the former Helen Anderson of Rangoon, saw from a hilltop the lanky Tennessean's success in the air.

Today [Friday, April 10] at dawn Japanese navy Zero planes sneaked over the Chinese hills and roared toward the Americans' field in a technique apparently borrowed from the American flyers' attacks on Moulmein and Cheingmai.

Mechanics Dan Keller of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Robert A. Smith of Oneonta, N. Y., dived for the nearest ditch. Up and down the field the Japanese emptied their guns. They headed for their base, but not a single allied plane on the ground had been burned.

Turn Tables on Foe.

This afternoon the Japanese returned—in V formations of three planes each—stalking two miles up in puffy thick clouds for the kill. Possibly they expected to find the AVG helpless aground. They tested their guns and made ready to dive.

Then AVG machine guns firing from above and behind their tails with heavy tracers and armor piercing bullets slashed at the unarmored navy Zeros.

Bob Keeton, a former blocking half back in Colorado collegiate football; Bob Brouk of 2130 South 59th court, Cicero, Ill., and Bob Smith were drawing first blood. Three Japanese planes crashed.

100 Frenchmen Facing Death; Count 722 as Ordered Killed

Nazis Release Twenty

VICHY, France, April 23 (AP).—The fate of approximately 100 French hostages being held by the Germans tonight was in doubt as the deadlines for their execution neared. Eighty were scheduled to die tonight unless the persons who wrecked a German troop train at Rouen on April 16 surrendered or were captured. Thirty already have been shot for this sabotage against the Nazis.

A second group of 15 hostages is being held in Paris because of the assassination of a German soldier. They are scheduled to be executed unless the slayers are found by Sunday night. In addition, an unstated number of hostages is being held for other outbreaks.

While the fate of these Frenchmen hung in the balance, the Germans today released 20 hostages at St. Nazaire who had been seized because Frenchmen participated in the British commando raid on the naval base there on March 28.

Second Act of Conciliation

It was the second such act of conciliation toward the French in two days, altho it came after 123 German executions of Frenchmen since April 1 because of outbreaks against the German soldiery in widespread areas of occupied France.

Yesterday the German military commander in Paris released 20 hostages who would have been shot within a week for the killing of a German soldier in Paris Monday night. Fifteen hostages already had been shot Tuesday for this and another German killing, but the Germans explained the 20 were freed because the Monday night killer had been arrested.

Deny Nazis Get Fleet.

The government of Pierre Laval issued a statement denying "Moscow radio reports" that German sailors were arriving at Toulon, the French Mediterranean naval base, or that French naval units were being turned over to the Germans.

At the same time, the French information office put out a story speculating on whether a strong British fleet which steamed into the Mediterranean recently was going to relieve Malta or was replacing units now at Alexandria. The British ships were said to have passed south of the Balearic Islands, far from Toulon.

The new Japanese ambassador, Takonobu Mitani, turned over to Laval a copy of his credentials preliminary to calling upon Marshal Petain, the chief of state. He succeeds Sotomatsu Kato, who was killed in a fall in Paris in February.

Toll Still Incomplete

VICHY, France, April 23 (AP).—At least 722 Frenchmen are known to have been ordered executed in the several months that the German system of executing Frenchmen has been in operation—and this figure admittedly is far from complete.

The hostage institution was not known in the early part of the German occupation of France, not being set up until eight months ago.

An announcement by Fernand de Brinon, Vichy representative in Paris, that he had obtained commuted sentences for three De Gaullist ["Free French"] recruits disclosed that on March 3, 1941, a member of the De Gaullist military recruiting network had been shot by a German firing squad at Nancy.

No more executions were made public until six months later when terrorist activity broke out.

On Aug. 15, after two mass demonstrations in Paris, Gen. Otto von Stuelpnagel, military administrator of occupied France, issued an ordinance making Communist activity there a capital offense. The first two executions, on Aug. 20, were for participation in the Paris demonstrations.

6,000 Jews Arrested.

On the same day, Aug. 20, 6,000 Jews inhabiting the 11th arrondissement [ward] of Paris were arrested in an unsuccessful effort to nab the terrorist leader Gilbert Andre Brustlein, who still is at large. Also, attempts on the lives of German soldiers and railroad sabotage were becoming common.

Three days later the Nazis inaugurated the hostage system.

In spite of this, on Aug. 30 eight more Frenchmen were shot by a Nazi firing squad for espionage and De Gaullism.

The first time the execution of hostages was announced was on Sept. 16, when 10 were shot. The executions continued until Oct. 3, when the Germans announced a total of 71 Frenchmen had been shot.

This was 21 more than any available record showed and was the last time any official total was given. Since then it has been necessary to add day-to-day announcements received from various parts of France.

100 Hostages Executed.

A climax was reached at the end of October, when 100 hostages were executed for two assassinations of German officers in Bordeaux and Nantes.

The last execution before the suspension order took place on Oct. 24. The truce was established after 284 Frenchmen had been executed, practically all in two months. Altogether, five Germans had been killed by terrorists.

On Nov. 28 the executions were resumed after other methods of punishment failed to halt the terrorism.

These quickly reached a new climax when the Germans on Feb. 13 announced 100 hostages would be shot and carried out the order despite a protest by Petain.

The announcements have become more and more incomplete, appearing mainly only in the local papers.

THIRTEEN DUTCH REPORTED SHOT BY NAZIS IN WEEK

LONDON, April 24 [Friday]—(AP).—Thirteen Dutchmen have been shot within the last week for anti-administration offenses in German occupied Holland, and all Jews have been removed from coastal areas, the Free Dutch newspaper Vrij Nederland said today.

The newspaper quoted 13 young Netherlanders to have escaped across the channel to Britain to join the RAF.

"The Netherlands is a headache to the Germans," one youth was quoted as saying. "Every one except a few Dutch Nazis plays a part in trying to upset the German war machine. Even the Black market is organized on 'Robin Hood' lines—the poor get goods at bargain prices and patronage of the gigantic Black market organization is regarded as patriotic because it disrupts the official market plan."

HOW LAST PLANE ON BATAAN FLEW TO ATTACK JAPS

BY CLARK LEE.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, April 23 (AP).—The United States army air force fought to the end on Bataan peninsula and with the Japanese only a few miles away, sent its last flyable plane into the air to attack and attempt to check the enemy's final advance.

Lieut. Jack Donalson.

The plane was flown by Lieut. Jack Donalson of Tulsa, Okla., who has arrived safely in Australia. He told this story of his flight:

"The last days on Bataan were pure hell. The Japs bombed our field day and night, plastering our headquarters dugouts, gasoline stores, munitions dumps, and everything else in the vicinity.

Used Fragmentation Bombs.

"On April 8 the Japanese completed their breakthru and were driving rapidly toward our last air field at the southeastern tip of Bataan. We had a single plane left.

"I loaded the ship with light fragmentation bombs and hopped off in the early evening.

"I located the enemy advancing on foot and in vehicles down the coast road and dove on the columns, letting go my bombs at a low altitude and returning to strafe the lines until my ammunition was exhausted.

"The Japs quickly opened fire and I felt several bumps but did not believe I had been hit badly.

Heads for Landing Field.

"With bombs gone and guns empty, I headed for another point where I had been ordered to report.

"After a long flight I was over what I believed was my destination, but everything was blacked out. I circled in the hope that the ground force would recognize a friendly plane and turn on the lights.

"After a while they did and I went in to land. I started to put down the landing gear and wing flaps, but found the hydraulic machinery had been shot away.

"The plane had only a 10 minute supply of gasoline left, so I slowed the ship down, set her down on her belly, and climbed out unhurt."

SAYS YANKS FLY CASTOFF BRITISH PLANES IN BURMA

New York, April 23 (AP).—American "Flying Tiger" aviators in Burma are handicapped by having to use castoff British planes, Maj. Punyung Hwang, newly appointed Chinese air attaché to London, said today.

Maj. Hwang, who arrived here from Chunking, China, with his wife and 8 month old son, said that even pilots flying up to date American planes had their hands full in combat with Japanese Zero fighter planes. The Zeros are better for dog-fighting," he said. "They can turn quicker tho they are not as fast and are inferior in dives."

He said the Zeros' wing contour was responsible for their greater maneuverability.

Open Bond Drive to Absorb 10% of All Workers' Wages

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—As the first step in the new anti-inflation program, the treasury department tonight launched its drive for greatly increased purchases of war savings bonds, to finance the war program and absorb excess purchasing power.

The treasury established national quotas for the next three months which would raise average monthly purchases from 438 million dollars to 600 millions in May, 800 millions in June, and 1 billion dollars by July.

The May quota for Illinois was set at $49,300,200, against a monthly average of $36,091,571.

Beginning May 1, just one year after war savings bonds and stamps were placed on the market, the treasury will begin pushing doorbells in every county in an effort to have every wage earner invest at least 10 per cent of his or her earnings in war savings bonds and stamps.

Other steps contemplated in the anti-inflation drive include overall price ceilings and general rationing of consumers' goods, drastic excess profits taxes, and restrictions on wage increases.

Drive by "Minute Men."

In the bond drive the treasury expects to reach more than 50 million wage earners thru tens of thousands of "Volunteer Minute Men" operating under the direction of 108,044 war bond committeemen serving in the campaign.

Quotas for each of the 3,070 counties in the nation will be announced next week. In disclosing state quotas, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said:

"This is a vast spring offensive on the home front to help pay for the weapons and munitions needed for victory. The key to our quota drive is 10 per cent. That is the minimum portion of the nation's total income which must be siphoned off in war savings bond purchases to help win the war."

Morgenthau participated tonight in a special radio program boosting the bond drive in which he was joined by Lieut. Comm. Edward H. O'Hare, navy hero, just awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for shooting down five Jap bombers and damaging a sixth.

Others on Program.

Also on the program were Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard; William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations; W. P. Witherow, president of the National Association of Manufacturers; John W. O'Leary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and T. C. Cashen, chairman of the Railway Labor Executive Committee.

In his brief talk O'Hare said: "From what I've seen of the Japanese, I'd say that if we can meet them on anything like even terms, we can beat them!"

Morgenthau urged wide scale adoption of the pay roll savings plan under which employers are authorized by employés to deduct regular amounts from earnings to pay for bonds. Others on the program promised support of the drive.

3 Billion a Month Next Year.

While the 1 billion dollar goal for bond purchases will not be reached until July, under the treasury plan, it is anticipated that this will be doubled to 2 billions monthly later in the year, and reach a goal of 3 billions per month by next year.

In a recent study of bond sales the National Industrial Conference board declared that, to be effective in closing the widening gap between goods available for civilian consumption and funds in the hands of consumers, total war bond sales in 1942 must rise to 15 or 20 billion dollars, instead of the present 9 billions.

National Average $3.32

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Figures released today by the treasury department reveal that citizens of the 48 states made an average purchase of war bonds amounting to $3.32 per month in the period from July, 1941, thru January of this year.

Illinois stands well up in the list, and far above the average, with $4.57 per person per month for the period surveyed.

New York residents led all others with $6.92 each.

DOWNES TELLS HOW TO SUPPORT FIGHTING FORCES

Rear Adm. John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district, yesterday called for the utmost civilian coöperation behind the efforts of the fighting forces.

Speaking at the Army-Navy-Marine day luncheon of the Kiwanis club of Chicago in the Hotel Sherman, Adm. Downes said civilian coöperation with the navy could be enhanced by boosting production of both military and civilian goods, by supporting the efforts of the Office of Civilian Defense, by guarding against sabotage and coöperating with industrial protective agencies, by aiding the navy recruiting and procurement division, and by supporting contributions to the Navy Relief society.

Maj. Gen. George Grunert, who assumed command of the 6th corps area April 1, joined Adm. Downes in urging civilian coöperation with the armed forces.

Among the 66 officers and men of the army, navy, and marines who attended the luncheon were Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, Ret.; Brig. Gen. Joseph Barzynski of the quartermaster corps; Maj. C. L. Jordan, administrative officer of the Chicago marine recruiting office; Commander B. O. Wells, naval intelligence, and Maj. Gen. John V. Clinnin, Ret.

F. D. R. MESSAGE ON INFLATION IS LIKELY MONDAY

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—The White House gave a fairly definite indication today that President Roosevelt's anti-inflation message to congress would be sent up on Monday but that a fireside radio address on the same subject would be deferred to some other day.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

announcement said that since these materials are necessary for such production it means that no more tackle will be made during the war. It was pointed out, however, that a year's supply of tackle is on hand.

No restrictions were placed on sales by retailers. Production of fish hooks will continue at half of last year's rate "to take care of the fellow who goes out to catch himself a mess of fish every once in a while."

The industry produced approximately 15 million dollars' worth of tackle in 1941, using considerable quantities of scarce materials. There are 171 firms in the industry, of which approximately 15 per cent is converted to war work, with some manufacturers converted 50 per cent.

COTTON, CHINA, TIRES

The campaign against the rising cost of living was carried into the kitchen, cupboard, and closet with price ceilings on china, pottery, and a long list of cotton goods. The Office of Price Administration said the orders should bring about considerably lower prices than those prevailing.

The cotton products action, supplementing seven existing price orders on cotton yards and goods, brought practically every product of the cotton textiles industry under price control. It is effective May 4 and bases prices on the levels prevailing July 21 to Aug. 15, 1941. The ceiling is flexible, being designed to let prices fluctuate with raw cotton quotations.

The finished articles affected include bedspreads, tablecloths, napkins, corduroys, flannels, cottonades, and chambrays. Among the unfinished goods covered are shirting, sateens, gabardine, industrial fabrics, ducks, and wide goods of 42 inches and over.

The chinaware order covers hundreds of china and pottery items, including cups, saucers, dishes, plates, and bowls. It imposes on manufacturers of vitreous ware a ceiling at the price levels of Oct. 1 to 15, 1941, but allows producers of semivitreous ware to charge 5 per cent above these quotations to allow a "fair margin of profit." Stoneware and art pottery were not covered. The new action was in effect a denial of a price boost requested in February.

The tire order raised the ceiling on retail prices for new tires and tubes for passenger cars 16 per cent, effective April 25. The higher prices will be borne by the restricted list of vehicle owners who are eligible to buy new passenger car tires under ration regulations.

Seek to Help Dealers.

The announced purpose of the hike is to cover the cost to the government in an arrangement whereby retail dealers and jobbers who wish to liquidate their stocks can sell them to the Defense Supplies corporation, which in turn will resell them thru regular merchandising channels.

Under the tire return plan the dealers receive what they paid for the tires plus 10 per cent to cover their expenses of carrying inventories in a market shrunken by edict. The setup was designed not only to relieve the economic distress of the dealers but to discourage tire bootlegging.

DELIVERY SERVICE

Operators of all local delivery services, from department stores down to the corner grocery, were ordered to eliminate special deliveries, reduce certain regular operations, and to curtail the other mileage of their trucks at least 25 per cent. The action was interpreted as a long step toward forced pooling of trucking facilities in cities thruout the country.

Special deliveries and "callbacks" were prohibited after May 15 except to hospitals, military establishments, or for emergency deliveries of supplies necessary to public health or safety.

Trucks were prohibited from making more than one delivery to the same person in a single day. At the same time "call backs" were forbidden on the same day when the first call finds the customer not at home or for the purpose of making collections.

The order to cut mileage one-fourth under the figures of corresponding months last year, takes effect June 1. It was emphasized that mileage saved by curtailing the specific deliveries mentioned in the order can not be included in calculating the 25 per cent mileage reduction.

In another order, the Office of Defense Transportation laid down specific rules for wartime operations of the intercity trucking industry after June 1, except for certain vehicles exempt because of the nature of services they perform.

All trucks must be loaded to capacity on outgoing trips and to at least 75 per cent capacity on return trips. Contract and private carriers were ordered to revise their shipping schedules to comply with this provision, while common carriers, in addition to tightening up schedules, will be required to pool their facilities whenever necessary.

RAILS

In an order assuming control of all used railroad rail and rail joints, the WPB announced that, effective immediately, no one, even if he operates a railroad or junk yard, may sell, transfer, or otherwise dispose of any used rail without government authority.

The announcement explained that rail no longer serviceable for a main line of a railroad is useful in building spur lines to war plants and in lines within arm plants, ship yards and cantonments.

The restriction does not prevent a railroad from using used rail on its own tracks. However, when a carrier receives new rail for replacement, it is required to set aside a portion of the used rail for the WPB pool. The portion will be determined on a sliding scale.

CHICAGO STORES WILL PLAN NEW DELIVERY RULES

The new government restrictions on local delivery services will be discussed at a meeting of the war policies committee of the State street council and the Cook County Retail council when the committee meets today or tomorrow. H. W. Rieger, executive secretary of the State street council, said last night that steps will be taken to conform with the restrictions.

At present the department stores make three deliveries a week. Some of them do not make callbacks to deliver goods on the same day nor do they make more than one delivery to any one customer on a single day, but others do not as yet follow these practices.

ITALIANS ADMIT RAIDS ON 2 SICILIAN TOWNS BY BRITISH BOMBERS

ROME, April 23 [from Italian broadcasts]—(AP).—British bombing planes raided the Sicilian towns of Ragusa and Comiso last night, causing only slight damage, the Italian high command said today. [The British said it was the second recent raid on the airdrome at Comiso and said targets at Augusta also were bombed.]

Powerful bomber, dive bomber and fighter formations continued day and night attacks on Malta and nine British planes were shot down in aerial combats, the Italians said. Operations on the Libyan front were limited to patrol activity.

New Raids on Bengazi.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 23 (AP).—RAF headquarters today told of new bombing raids on the harbor and other objectives at Bengazi, Libya, night attacks on the Derna-Martuba-Tmimi area, day attacks on trucks on the Agedabia road and on an enemy merchant vessel off the coast of Libya. Six axis planes were destroyed and four damaged in two heavy raids on Malta today.

REPORT RAF RAIDERS IN BERLIN VICINITY; NAZIS BOMB BRITAIN

LONDON, April 24 [Friday]—(AP).—The royal air force attacked targets in Germany for the second successive night last night, it was stated authoritatively today. The German radio carried a DNB report that a British plane reached the approaches of Berlin, but said it dropped no bombs.

On the home front there was an attack during the night by a small number of aircraft concentrated mainly on coastal sections of southwest England. The government said there were some casualties, including a small number of deaths, and some damage. Two of the invading bombers were reported destroyed.

Copenhagen Under Alarm.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, April 23 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—An air raid alarm sounded here last night and lasted for an hour and a half. Residents of the Danish capital conducted themselves "in exemplary fashion," it was said. [A Stockholm dispatch said flashes of light and the sound of explosions believed to have been anti-aircraft fire were observed from the Swedish shore opposite Copenhagen.]

LIQUOR DEALERS WILL GIVE $5,000 FOR NAVY RELIEF

Speakers on the program were Col. Arnold Larson of the marine corps; Jimmy Councilman, coach of the Chicago Cardinals' football team, and Frank Brickacek, association president.

3 PRE-WAR FOES OF INTERVENTION FACE QUIZ TODAY

Sedition Jury to Question Committee Leaders.

The federal grand jury yesterday disposed of preliminaries in its inquiry into alleged seditious activities in the Chicago area. It heard an outline of the government's evidence by J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, and general testimony by an agent of the federal bureau of investigation.

Today the taking of more specific testimony will begin when William J. Grace, war veteran and active anti-interventionist in pre-Pearl Harbor days, appears to testify. He was one of five persons served with subpenas yesterday. The others included Mrs. Lyrl Van Hyning, head of We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America, Inc., and Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, a leader of the former America First movement. They were ordered before the investigative body this morning.

Bring Records, Grace Told.

Grace, who is chief of the Citizens' U. S. A. committee, once known as the Committee to Keep America Out of War, spent an hour yesterday with Woll and two assistants, William J. Connor and Paul Plunkett, after which he was told to return at 10:30 a. m. today, bringing with him records of membership, application cards, correspondence, and publications of his organization.

After the conference Grace disclosed he had been questioned about the financing of his organization. "It was financed thru the nickels and dimes of good Americans," he said, "and not by the subsidy of any axis government."

He denied that his organization is seditious or subversive, adding, "We are fighting not only the Japs and the Italians and the Germans, but enemies here—subversive communism and British imperialism. We're a strictly American organization!"

Mrs. Van Hyning Questioned.

Mrs. Van Hyning, her arms laden with ledger books and records, appeared shortly afterward, accompanied by an unidentified man, who also carried bound volumes. She also was questioned by Woll and his assistants, but made no statement.

When the grand jury convenes this morning the inquiry is expected to swing into high gear. Additional subpenas, more than 100 in number, will be served gradually while the grand jury hears witnesses. The entire investigation, Woll said, is likely to last several months.

Mrs. Helen Louise Reuper, a German enemy alien, is being held by the federal government for investigation, Albert H. Johnson, head of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation, said yesterday. Her husband, Karl Reuper, was recently sentenced to 16 years' imprisonment for espionage at a New York trial. Mrs. Reuper has lived in America 18 years, but only recently took out citizenship papers.

TRANSFER U. S. OFFICIAL.

LONDON, April 23 (AP).—Harold Shantz of Rochester, N. Y., first secretary of the United States embassy in London, has been transferred to Lagos, Nigeria, as consul general, it was announced here today.

BRITISH DEMAND PUBLIC AIRING OF WAR'S DIRECTION

Cripps Hears Singapore Echoes in Commons.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 23.—Members of parliament cheered Sir Stafford Cripps when he resumed his duties as leader of the house of commons today after his unsuccessful mission to India, but they immediately began to press demands for a public debate on England's war effort.

Before the house was cleared for a secret session Arthur Greenwood, leader of the Labor party, told Cripps there is strong desire on the part of both public and parliament for a public airing of the war situation. Sir John Wardlaw-Milne, Conservative, reminded Cripps that no commission has yet been set up to inquire into the Singapore disaster.

Seek Probe of Ship Losses.

"Whatever takes place in today's [secret] sitting will not alter the fact that a large number of members think it is in the public interest to have a debate in public on certain aspects of the conduct of the war," the earl of Winterton declared.

Cripps promised to "bear in mind" these demands. Members of parliament particularly want to know how far the political direction of strategy was responsible for the loss of Singapore and the sinkings of the battleship Prince of Wales, the battle cruiser Repulse, the aircraft carrier Hermes, and other warships in actions near Malaya and India.

Staff System Under Fire.

Few doubt that heavy pressure will be exerted on Prime Minister Winston Churchill to appoint a professional chief of the combined general staff to decide on problems of major strategy.

The London Times today complained that the composition of the war operations staff fails to fuse all fighting services under one professional chief, and that "the skein so closely woven at the lower level is notably loose at the top."

FLOOD COMPELS DENVERITES TO LEAVE HOMES

Denver, Colo., April 23 (AP).—Several hundred Denver persons evacuated their homes tonight as the turbulent South Platte river threatened to inundate industrial plants and dwellings along 10 miles of the river's course. Emergency quarters were set up in the city auditorium annex and other buildings to shelter the evacuees.

The river spread menacingly south of the city while policemen warned 15,000 persons along its banks to be ready to leave their homes.

In southern Colorado, the rampaging Purgatoire river had claimed two lives in the Trinidad area, where bridges were swept away and 50 business and residential blocks were flooded.

Buy Your Winter's Coal Now, Mayor Kelly Urges

Mayor Edward J. Kelly, in his capacity as United States coördinator of civilian defense for the Chicago metropolitan area, yesterday urged that persons who will need coal in the fall and winter buy it now. No coal shortage is imminent, but there is a problem in obtaining sufficient locomotives, cars and other shipping space if buyers wait until fall.

County in Long Island Blacks Out for 'Raid'

New York, April 23 [Special].—Suffolk county, at the eastern end of Long Island, was blacked out for an hour tonight to meet a theoretical raid of enemy bombers en route to New York City and an estimated 28,000 volunteers in the civilian protection services were mobilized to handle 55 instances of imaginary destruction.

MILITIA CALLED TO FIGHT FIRE IN PISGAH FORESTS

West Jefferson, N. C., April 23 (AP).—Gov. J. M. Broughton today ordered sweeping measures taken to combat forest fires in the Pisgah national forest, including the mobilization of one or more state guard companies and the use of civilian air patrol planes to spot new fires as they start.

Declaring there was "definite evidence of incendiarism in connection with the fires which have destroyed 14,000 acres of timberland since Sunday, the governor also ordered the state bureau of investigation to seek the firebugs.

In addition, he directed that more state highway patrolmen be assigned to the region, and appealed to CCC and WPA authorities to send any available men as reinforcements to the fire fighting crews.

GOVERNOR TAKES ACTOR'S ROLE ON W-G-N PROGRAM

Joins in Salute to State Reserve Militia.

With Gov. Dwight H. Green as narrator, station W-G-N last night saluted the Illinois reserve militia on the Ramparts program. More than 500 officers and men of the militia were studio guests.

The governor's participation in the broadcast marks the first occasion that the chief executive of a state has taken the rôle of a radio actor. He seemed to enjoy the experience and didn't miss a cue.

The program dramatized the inception and growth of the home guards in the United States, from the hurried rallying of the colonial fathers against the British on April 18, 1775.

Record of the Militia.

"Thus, the first history of the militiamen of America," the governor said, after the rout of the English soldiers had been dramatized. "But in a nation where every man is free to possess a gun and encouraged to learn how to use it and to respect it, the state's militia has had a record of quiet vigil at home, of battles won abroad, of invasions repelled, fifth column activity checked, industrial disorder quelled—all the many tasks which the regular army is too busy to attend to in time of war."

The program then turned to excerpts from the military life of the present adjutant general of Illinois, Leo M. Boyle, a private in the last war, who remained in the National Guard and rose by stages to his present rank.

Vital Areas Guarded.

Two days after Pearl Harbor, Gov. Green related, Gen. Boyle, anticipating an order from the army, had so prepared for the guarding of vital areas in Illinois that he was able to man them with militiamen the morning after the army ordered it.

"We can sleep safer in our beds tonight because of the foresight and patriotism of the officers and men of the Illinois reserve militia," the governor concluded. Then he stepped out of his rôle of narrator and identified himself—the first such notice the radio audience had had.

Boyle, introduced just before the program closed, said the militia now numbers 7,000 officers and men in three brigades of seven infantry regiments, plus an air corps of 150 privately owned planes. More than 1,900 of the militia personnel have been on active duty in the state since Dec. 7. He urged that men in deferred classifications join the reserve at one of the 57 armories thruout the state which are open nightly.

5 AIR PROGRAMS GIVEN CITATIONS FOR EXCELLENCE

Five citations for radio excellence were bestowed on Chicago programs at the annual awards luncheon of the Chicago Federated Advertising clubs yesterday in the Hotel Sherman.

The award for the best local night time program of 1941 went to the Northerners' hour, aired from W-G-N's main studio at 9:30 p. m. Tuesdays. The certificate of award will be presented by a representative of the club next Tuesday evening when the Northerners start their eighth consecutive year on W-G-N.

The Amateur hour, aired over WENR at 5 p. m. Sundays was named the outstanding local daytime program.

The "Vic and Sade" serial, aired five days a week on NBC and rebroadcast on CBS, was named the best daytime network program originating in Chicago. The "First Nighter" dramas, aired on CBS Tuesday nights, received the award as the best nighttime network program originating in Chicago.

WHEN WILL FOE ATTACK? CANAL ZONE'S ONE QUERY

Form Assault May Take of Less Concern.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BALBOA, Canal Zone, April 23.—The tri-cities community of Balboa, Panama City, and Ancon, at the Pacific end of the Panama canal, are waiting for war to come to them.

Every one, civilians and military alike, knows how that war will come—suddenly, with as little forewarning as possible. War to Panama will be growing dots on the sea horizon, evolving into superstructures of an enemy task force. Or war to Panama will be tiny pinpoints of metal in the sky, enemy bombers in the substratosphere.

The question of whether it will come next week, next month, next year, or tomorrow is the main topic of conversation. It is discussed over and over at night long conferences behind the blackout shutters of the Caribbean defense command headquarters on Quarry Heights. It is the subject of equally lengthy discussions in the Balboa offices of the 15th naval district.

Discussed at Kelley's.

This question also is discussed more vehemently, if less intelligently, in other locales by the dozens of "experts" and Saturday night quarter backs inevitably born of such a waiting situation as this.

In the few hotels of the tri-cities, evening war sessions are a regular feature. Sit in a park for half an hour, and you hear as many war discussions as there are occupied benches near you.

Even in the Club Nocturno de Kelley on the Avenida Central—the tri-cities' chief drinking and dancing establishment—war is the top topic, except when the floor show is on. With dozens of men to every girl in the zone area, this exception can be understood.

Almost Welcome War.

To the newcomer, however, the tension of the zone appears tighter than it really is. If he arrives by air, as this correspondent did, he flies the last lap in a plane with windows tightly shuttered against any possible glimpse of the Canal Zone or its fortifications. As he flies that last lap he is acutely conscious that, below him in the jungle, the muzzles of anti-aircraft guns are tracking his plane, "just for practice."

However, after 10 days or so in the zone the newcomer realizes that his first impression of dread was false.

At times, in fact, it seems almost as if the people are afraid that the struggle will pass them by. They have waited so long for it that they act as if they will be disappointed if it fails to pan out.

Doolittle, winner of numerous trophies and onetime holder of the world's high speed record for land planes, has been on active army duty for nearly two years. He was an army flyer in 1917-'30. Doolittle is 45 years old and his home is in Detroit. His present assignment was not disclosed.

If You Liked the Weather Yesterday, You Will Today

Chicagoans enjoyed another ideal spring day yesterday, as the mercury rose to the mid 70s. And, promised Weather Forecaster H. A. Downs last night, we're to have more of the same today, or close to it. The warm weather brought out summer clothes and many summer activities, and on the farms, all around Chicago, it brought out land tilling machinery.

BOY DROWNED IN LAKE.

Earl Smith, 8 years old, Negro, 3915 Langley avenue, was drowned yesterday when he fell from a row of pilings into a channel leading from the lake to the 39th street pumping station.

Friend of the YANKS

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and personally, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries. Persons are asked to keep their letters short because of the volume of mail.]

Mrs. L. M. writes: "My son is quite an accomplished musician and as he will soon be drafted I would like to see him get into a band. I heard that the navy has a school for band men. Can you tell me how he might enlist and the qualifications? What is the pay?"

ANSWER: You probably are referring to the Navy School of Music in Washington, D. C. Your son may obtain an application blank for this school at the naval recruiting office in the United States courthouse. Applicants must be between 18 and 31 years old, single, high school graduates and able to pass the navy physical examination. The applicant also must pass a general classification test and a musical examination.

An accepted applicant is enlisted as an apprentice seaman at $21 a month, and after four months, if qualified, is made a 2d class seaman at $36. He will receive the rating of musician 2d class—$54 a month—after 10 months if qualified. Upon graduating he is transferred as a member of a band organization to a ship in the United States fleet. He is then eligible for further promotions, with subsequent raises in pay.

Mrs. H. D. B. writes: "My son, a private in the army, has taken out military insurance. Who holds the policy?"

ANSWER: The policy will be sent to the person he named as beneficiary.

M. A. B. writes: "I have a son who is in the draft, but he has an ulcer of the stomach. Will he pass his physical examination?"

ANSWER: If at the time of your son's physical examination he is found to have an ulcer of the stomach and if the army physician's diagnosis is confirmed by the usual laboratory process, he will be placed in class 4-F, physically unfit for military service.

C. H. asks: "I would like to know if I can enlist in any branch of the army after I reach the age of 20—next September—or if after reaching that age I will have to wait for the draft?"

ANSWER: If you enlist while you are 19 you will be permitted to enlist directly into the branch of your choice, that is, the infantry, army air corps ground crew, armored force, cavalry, etc. You would not have to wait until you were drafted to join the army after you have reached your 20th birthday. However, if you wait until you are 20, you would have to enlist in the army unassigned, with no certainty of being assigned to the branch of your choice.

E. S. asks: "What is the salary of a medical officer with the rank of lieutenant in the navy?"

ANSWER: A medical officer does not receive any additional pay other than that accorded his rank. The annual base pay of a lieutenant is between $2,000 and $4,500 depending on the length of service.

INVESTIGATE SLAYING OF MOULDER.

Police yesterday were investigating the death of Joseph Kostrzewa, 54 years old, who apparently was killed by blows of an ax in his home at 12047 Indiana avenue Wednesday night. Kostrzewa was a steel moulder and lived alone.

WE'RE GOING BACK TO BATAAN!

BOMBS ON TOKIO.

That there was an air raid on Tokio and other Japanese cities seems now established by collateral evidence aside from the statements of the Japanese themselves, but no department of our government has vouchsafed a word regarding it. That is all to the good.

The administration has been properly criticized in the past for withholding news of disaster or casualties to units of our armed forces long after it was obvious that the Japanese, having wreaked the damage, were thoroly acquainted with what they had done. The circumstances of the Tokio raid are different, the difference being that the Japanese, if one may judge from contradictions in their own statements, are badly worried. They don't know just what hit them or whence the blow came. That's the way to leave them.

Encouraging as the news is, it will be a mistake for our people to give it too much weight. Japan is a powerful nation. The only safe assumption for us to take is that the Japanese people will be as stanch under air raids as the British have proved to be. If they are found later to lack moral stamina and to be thrown into a panic by raids to the extent that their war effort is crippled, that will be delightful news, but it is folly to indulge in such an underestimate of their qualities without evidence.

Raids on Japan will, no doubt, be repeated. They may do considerable damage to Japanese morale and military installations. We all hope so. There is no evidence, however, that such raids by themselves are going to win the war. That will take an offensive of far greater power and cost. Air raids, however successful, must not weaken our national determination to strike the harder and decisive blow.

Much of the Japanese mystification as to the source of the air raids springs from the fact that we have no known bases close enough to the Japanese homeland for the lighter types of bombing planes to make a round trip over Japanese cities. In this respect we are greatly handicapped by the fact that the Russians understandably have not sought a war on two fronts and accordingly have not made available to us their airports close to Tokio.

However, we are committed to deliver a large number of planes to the Russians for use against the Nazis. It might be possible for American bombers to make the trip to Vladivostok by way of Tokio and lighten their cargo en route. The Russians would get the bombers, the Japanese would get the bombs, and it is doubtful whether the Japanese would have any ground in international law to protest to Russia against accepting deliveries in that fashion.

BATTLE OF ARITHMETIC.

The navy is disturbed to find that large numbers of its recruits are unable to pass a test in simple arithmetic. Mr. Lyttleton B. P. Gould, special assistant to the chief of the bureau of navigation, reports that the average mark attained by a large sample of recruits in 1941 was 44.2. Those who took the test included college graduates. Most of the young men had had at least some high school work and the great majority of them had completed the grades, yet they were floored by problems which any eighth grade boy should have been able to solve easily. The showing in English and spelling was a little better, but still far from satisfactory.

Attention was directed to the matter a week or so ago in these columns and a good many readers have sent us their explanations and comments. Meanwhile, too, the facts have been developed at some length by the Rev. John Evans in his capacity as educational editor. We do not see how it is possible to avoid the conclusions stated here before that the American people are not getting value received for the money spent on the schools. The teachers are not held to sufficiently high standards of accomplishment, and for that reason the pupils are enabled to graduate without mastering the elementary subjects.

Some of our readers have attributed the failure to so-called progressive educational methods. There is some justification for these strictures, but not much. A good deal of carefully considered evidence is available to show that children from the progressive schools compare favorably in scholastic accomplishment with children of equal intelligence and similar background who went to old fashioned schools.

Progressive education has been cursed with faddists, but the theory is fundamentally sound. The progressives have assumed that a child who is interested in what he is doing will learn faster and will retain what he learns more thoroly than the child who is bored with his studies. That makes sense as almost any one, child or adult, can testify from his own experience in learning. The trouble has been that the faddists have run hog wild with the theory. They have been more concerned to keep the children engrossed in something than to keep them eager to learn what they must know.

The progressive method has been abused, but the corrective is an obvious one. Every teacher, whatever method he employs, should be required to show results to hold his job. There is no good reason why teachers and principals should be a specially favored class in the community who can continue to draw their pay without giving honest value for it.

There is really no excuse, as one of our contributors pointed out the other day, for poor teaching of arithmetic. In recent decades there has been fruitful research into the growing child's ability to understand and use the various mathematical processes. Where the curriculum and the methods of teaching have been corrected to take account of this new knowledge of mental development in childhood the results have been gratifying.

We know now what standards of accomplishment in arithmetic can reasonably be expected of an ordinary roomful of children in a particular grade. If those standards are not met, the fault lies with the teacher, and he should be held accountable for the failure.

OVER THE HUMP.

Mr. Donald Nelson told a congressional committee on Tuesday that the United States, Britain, and Russia are now producing far more weapons than their enemies are turning out. Germany, Japan, and Italy started with a large reserve, but even that advantage will soon be overcome, he thought. So far as production is concerned, he told the world, we are over the hump.

Mr. Stimson recently said much the same thing when he announced that the time is nearing when American armies can take the offensive. Lieut. Gen. Somervell, in charge of the army's supply service, has said publicly that we are already outproducing the enemy in tanks, and has encouraged the belief that we are making substantially equal progress in guns and ammunition.

This is immensely encouraging news, tho hardly surprising. It is nearly two years now since the rearmament program was undertaken with the almost unanimous approval of the American people. Funds have not been stinted. The most efficient manufacturing industries in the world have been devoting themselves increasingly to armament building. It would be remarkable if in two years they did not succeed.

In questioning Mr. Nelson, Sen. Ball of Minnesota made a suggestion which was offered a long time ago in these columns and is still a good one. The senator wanted to know why, if production is coming along so well, the War Production board doesn't release the figures? They can give nothing but distress to the enemy and nothing but encouragement to our own people and our friends overseas, he said.

Mr. Nelson agreed to give serious consideration to the proposal and it is to be hoped that he accepts it. In addition to giving the totals of production of machine guns, for example, he might find it useful to give the production of each organization making them. If the X company were found to be producing materially more than the Y company per man and per machine employed, the management and the men in the backward plant would be under a good deal of moral pressure to find out what's wrong and rectify it.

After the government took over the Brewster aviation factories, the action was justified on the ground that "no finished planes were being produced." If true, the failure was an appalling one which should not have been permitted to continue as long as it evidently did. If the government had published, week after week, that the ABC company was turning out a hundred planes a month, DEF company 95, and so on, while the Brewster company was turning out none, months would not have elapsed before the failure was corrected.

Such information would have been of no value to the enemy. It can be taken for granted that Hitler and his allies know where our war industries are located. The enemy has heard about the targets in Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Birmingham, Los Angeles, Seattle, and other centers, and no doubt can locate every one of our principal armament plants on the map. Such facts cannot be kept secret, and it is largely nonsense to pretend otherwise. If the enemy decides to bomb us, has the means, and is willing to undertake the risk he will know where to strike and nothing the WPB might publish about output would help him materially.

MR. DIES GETS HIS MONEY.

Altho the authority of the Dies committee to investigate un-American activities was extended by congress on March 11, its activities were brought to virtual stagnation because the New Deal chairman of the house committee on accounts blocked action to allot money for the pay of the investigating staff. This obstruction has now been blasted away by threats to take the matter to the floor of the house. The money has been granted.

The record of the Dies committee is a striking illustration that there is, in some matters of fundamental importance to our existence as a nation, a sharp division between the Democratic party and the New Deal administration. Time and again, by overwhelming votes, the house with its heavy Democratic majority has indorsed the committee's work in exposing efforts to subvert our government. The attacks on the committee and the attempt to sabotage its activities have originated in the administration in which it has exposed hundreds of Communists and fellow travelers.

As often in the past the latest attack on the Dies committee was led by the Communists' spokesman in congress, Rep. Marcantonio of New York. His line was that the committee was "helping Hitler." That is a frayed battle cry, used indiscriminately of late by those who wish to use the war as a means of imposing Hitlerian government on this country as well as by those who seek to stifle criticism of stupidity and incompetence. Nothing helps Hitler which guards the republic against subversion, as the Dies committee has been doing, or which insists upon the competence in public office which is essential if we are to defeat him.

Rep. Marcantonio's attack met an effective retort in the report of the Rapp-Coudert committee of the New York legislature, which complained that school authorities in the city of New York have been lax in ousting the Communists and fellow travelers whom the committee uncovered in the public school system.

Since Hitler's invasion of Russia, the committee noted, Communists in the United States have lain low lest they disturb relations between this country and their boss in the Kremlin. In consequence, the committee found, "large sections of the public, including certain prominent educators in this city, have been lulled into the belief that the Communist problem in this country has been permanently solved, just as the Communists want them to believe.

"For nearly 20 years, communism made no secret of its designs upon the United States. We are likely to indulge in the most dangerous form of wishful thinking unless we bear in mind that for the Communists to abandon their designs would be to discard their reason for existence."

Americans are well aware that the war may be decided this summer on the plains of Russia. They are eager to help the Russians defeat Hitler's attack. They welcome the soviets as a powerful ally and they wish the Communists every success—in Russia. But we have just as much reason for resisting the spread of communism here in 1942 as we had to resist the importation of the czar's absolutism when Russia was fighting on our side in 1917.

WHERE THE TEA COMES FROM.

Since the war is getting uncomfortably close to Ceylon, it is time to take a long-distance look at the place. It has been singularly neglected by American globe-trotters, novelists with a nose for exotic atmosphere, foreign correspondents, and almost every one except the administrative officers of the British empire; yet its fame runs back into the classical period of European civilization.

* * *

The Greeks and Romans knew of Ceylon before the Christian era began, and called it Taprobane. The Roman emperor Claudius sent an embassy there, perhaps for no particular reason except curiosity. Taprobane is mentioned in extant writings of Ptolemy, Curtius, and the elder Pliny.

* * *

To the average American, however, Ceylon has been merely the place where the tea came from—a kind of tea, reddish and strongly flavored, which rose to favor among thrifty housewives in the 1880s. It was called Ceylon tea until Sir Thomas Lipton thought that his own name sounded better. . . . Yet the island has also been productive of a more romantic article of trade—precious stones, especially sapphires and zircons.

* * *

Marco Polo, Europe's only oriental expert until the Portuguese and Spaniards started to sail the Seven Seas, gave Ceylon, which he called Zeilan, a brief chapter in his immortal "Travels." He gloated over its gems, thus:

"The island produces more beautiful and valuable rubies than are found in any other part of the world, and likewise sapphires, topazes, amethysts, garnets, and many other precious and costly stones. The king is reported to possess the grandest ruby that ever was seen, being a span in length and the thickness of a man's arm."

* * *

Rudyard Kipling skipped Ceylon in his oriental odyssey, but good old Burton Holmes didn't overlook the bet. His camera depicted it, about 20 years ago, as a land of fine landscapes, marvelously cluttered with ancient ruins.

A History of the Gold Coast—II.

In the beginning there was no gold on the Gold Coast or anything resembling it, except possibly the sand on the lake shore shining in the sunlight. The shore line began at a point on the north bank of the river about 100 yards east of the present Fort Dearborn bridge and ran north along what is now St. Clair street to about Superior, where it bore off to the west of north, crossing Michigan avenue at about Walton place and North avenue at about Astor street.

All land east of that line today was then water. The beach was lined with low sandbanks and small hills; to the immediate west was a forest of scattered scrub oak and pine. A small slough ran north from the river at about Michigan avenue. All thru the locality were low wet spots, and where the Holy Name cathedral now stands was a large pond. Where there were no trees the ground was covered with a tough, high grass.

The main highway was the Green Bay road, which followed the old trail to Green Bay, tramped down by countless generations of Indians. The Indians, in laying out trails, did not believe that a straight line was the shortest distance between two points, but that it followed the line of least effort. Consequently the trail to Green Bay wandered about on level, dry ground. Beginning at the foot of Rush street, directly opposite Fort Dearborn, it generally followed that street to Cedar, and State to Division, where it struck off to about North avenue and Clark street.

Another road ran along the north bank of the river to the forks, where there was a house occupied by a ferryman, who rowed the traveler across the river or the north branch as he wished. There was nothing attractive about this section of the old town; its main advantage was that it was somewhat dryer than the others. Captain John.

KEATS' LAST SONNET.

(Written in a copy of Shakespeare's poems.)

He could not know that Death must serve for Love,
And Life be only given as time for Song;
That solely on his lips the casual dove
Of Beauty's wing-soft kiss would linger long
Where woman's could not rest. Nor could he know,
As the slow ship made sail for Italy,
That wooing's dream must be as winds that blow,
And have no pausing-place on land or sea.
Yet to a star o'er England's coast he told
His lyric anguish in such pain-sweet lines
That from posterity's prim page their gold
Still sprinkles starlight on all lovers' shrines:
For lovers all still speaks the heartbreak sorrows
Of high-hoped yesterdays and doomed tomorrows.

SIDESTEPPING THE "BLUES" OF MIDDLE LIFE.

If our mothers and grandmothers who are in the "change of life" exhibit the "blues" we may look first to physical causes. As we know, many of this group will be subject to unusual emotional hazards. No longer possessed of the endurance of youth, the vital organs, including those concerned with digestion, will be open to attack.

Furthermore, disappointments may loom large. There is less buoyancy with which to overcome rebuffs and one may be prone to look back upon life rather than forward. Thus it is that bemoaning one's fate may become a favorite pastime. If we add to this a sensitive personality and a conscience which is delicately balanced, we may be confronted with increasingly difficult adjustments.

While this situation applies particularly to women, men exhibit a parallel. In fact, as the female pelvic organs lose their function so will the prostate in man. There is a period in life from 40 to 50 in women and from 50 to 60 in men wherein the attributes of "flaming youth" disappear. Every time a 70 year old beau marries a young girl, we may know that there is something organically wrong with his hormones.

As a rule, the type of depression which ensues is not a typical psychosis altho the ability to adjust oneself to surroundings—to find compensations—may disappear for a time. Whenever conversation is stimulated, the tendency may be to indulge in self-accusations which have no basis in fact.

What we wish to do is to forestall these episodes. Every woman on the approach of the menopause should visit her family physician for a complete physical inventory. With some, a flagging heart can be aided or a poorly functioning digestive tract restored. With the physical body in as good trim as possible we can then use both psychotherapy and hormone therapy.

Just as we can counteract hot flashes with potent secretions so we may be able to ward off dismal thoughts. Certain it is that the employment of theelin, testosterone, and certain other preparations has brought about an improved mental and physical outlook. Frankness with these patients is advised and for the susceptible one, changes in disposition need not be encouraged. With something to do and a healthful attitude the period of readjustment will pass without difficulty.

One circumstance needs attention particularly. By the time the age of 50 has been attained many women lose interest in life. Children have grown up and gone. No matter how attractive the home, it becomes an old story and the routine of the day may be deadly dull. Clubs, meetings, and activities of all sorts are outlets but they are makeshifts when compared with something which is productive—that will bring satisfaction.

A part of the healing program then must be a series of chores calling for the expenditure of enough energy to keep thoughts away from oneself. Worth-while war activities are open to all.

COCKED HEAD.

Mrs. R. L. P. writes: My 8 year old son has a tendency to hold his head toward the left side. Can this be corrected?

REPLY.

If due to habit, encouragement will effect a cure. If the muscles on one side are shortening [contracting], however, more drastic treatment may be required.

GENERAL AND SPECIFIC.

D. T. writes: What is the difference between rheumatism and rheumatic fever?

REPLY.

"Rheumatic fever" implies an acute illness, with involvement of the joints. This is identical with "rheumatism" which, however, may parade in scores of styles.

HOW TO SAVE FATS.

Chicago, April 21.—Have you wondered where to put that grease and fat from your skillet or drip pan from your oven? Here's a simple suggestion: Take an empty milk or cream carton, cut off the top, and you have a nice, flat, straight side on which to scrape your spatula with grease or fat. For a top, use the old one you cut off, or, better still, use a small sheet of waxed paper and a rubber band. Easy to handle and easy to store. Do not wash carton with hot water, use cold water. Allow grease to cool sufficiently so as not to melt the wax coating of the carton, as that will make the carton soft and weaken it. Remember: If we all turn in our grease and fat we may hold the price down, but if we throw it away we increase the shortage and thereby tend to raise prices. Our country needs waste grease and fat and has asked you for it. Let's coöperate. Take it to your butcher for pickup. ANTON PETERSON.

COMMUTER'S COMPLAINT.

Chicago, April 17.—This morning I was a commuter on the Lake street elevated when, because of a mechanical defect, something went wrong with the second car in the train, causing it to stop near Kostner avenue. The train crew located the trouble and we then proceeded to the Hamlin avenue yards, where the yard force was notified. But the train was ordered to proceed, and did so with caution the rest of the trip to the loop. At Clinton street, however, we were told to leave the train and take the following one.

When the car was known to be defective, why wasn't it cut out at Hamlin avenue and the passengers transferred to another car instead of causing all of this difficulty, tying up trains and causing hundreds of passengers to be late to work? If the Chicago Rapid Transit company wants to increase fares they had better improve their service and equipment. DISGUSTED COMMUTER.

THE AFL AND NEGROES.

Chicago, April 16.—In your paper Monday there appeared an article about 10 firms being told to end discrimination against Negroes and Jews, and among those on the commission appears William Green of the American Federation of Labor. It is strange he should be on this commission, as the AFL refuses to accept Negroes into its unions, except those of postoffice employés, Pullman porters, and one or two more. About a year ago the attorney for the AFL addressed the City club, and when his attention was called to this discrimination he admitted it and expressed regret.

Mr. Green should clean his own house before he becomes a critic of others who may be doing the same thing. G. R. J.

THE UNEARNED INCREMENT.

Palos Park, Ill., April 16.—The "unearned increment" thru which individuals profit by the growth of real estate values for which they were in no way responsible is a term well but not favorably known in political science. That this "unearned increment" does not always work to the disadvantage of a community can be seen in at least one instance.

Thru the courtesy of the Chicago Title and Trust company I recently had the opportunity of running thru the books of original entry in early Chicago real estate transactions. One of the names frequently met with was that of Walter F. Newberry. It is said that he made over a million thru fortunate early investments in Chicago realty. But going up North Clark street one sees the immense Newberry library at Walton place. For many years this library has contributed to the culture and service of the people of Chicago, the middle west, and even of the nation. If the "unearned increment could always be put to as good a use as Mr. Newberry made of it in endowing this institution the term would not be held in such disrepute. EVAN L. REED.

FRAMED SALOON MONEY.

Mantoloking, N. J., April 17.—I believe I have hit on an idea whereby, if there is full coöperation by all concerned, it might be a big help to us in this war. In practically every tavern in this country it is the custom for the owner to hold out the first dollar bill he has taken in and paste it on the wall behind the bar. This is more or less of a good luck charm.

At a time like this I think it is rather silly to have this money lying idle when it could be put to some useful purpose. Why not a campaign to have these tavern owners donate this money to the Red Cross or U. S. O., or invest it in defense stamps? JAMES J. BALDWIN, A. S.

MORTGAGE BOND.

Chicago, April 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Nine years ago I invested $400 in a first mortgage gold bond.

1. I received dividends from this up until 1939.

2. That year, upon moving to a new address, no further dividends were sent me.

Lately, I received a letter from the man, Mr. H., who controls the organization of the building. Upon contacting Mr. H. he said he had $40 in two checks for me. When I came there with my certificate [3] he told me I lacked the signature on my certificate of the man, Mr. G., who originally issued it to me. In order to get my dividends I had to present my certificate to Mr. G. and get it signed. Now this Mr. G of this mortgage company refuses to sign my certificate [4] until I give him a letter from Mr. H.

5. Mr. H. does not give me any letter and therefore I want to know [6] how I can force Mr. G. to sign the certificate to present it to this Mr. H., who will then issue me the new certificate of his and give me my checks? The certificate is in my name. The checks Mr. H. holds are in my name. Has Mr. G. the right to refuse to sign his name which he issued on the certificate? Has Mr. H. the right to withhold my checks?

The money involved is only $40. Therefore, to start with law I would probably have to pay a lawyer half of what legally is my own. This Mr. H. then wants to buy up my units [40] and give me one-half value of original, but only after the signature is there. K. Y.

1. We assume that you mean interest.
2. Ordinarily the mortgage holder has coupons representing the interest payments. Did you present your coupons for the payment?
3. If the note was so worded as to be payable to bearer it would not need indorsement. If it was payable to order it would need an endorsement.
4. You do not explain what is to be in the letter. We do not understand what point he has in mind.
5. We do not understand why he refuses. See 4.
6. Depends on facts that are not before us.

F. D. R. MOTHER'S ESTATE VALUED AT $1,089,872

Bulk of Holdings Were in Stocks and Bonds.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 23 [Special].—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, the President's mother, who died last Sept. 7 at Hyde Park, left a net estate estimated at $1,089,872, a New York state transfer tax appraisal showed today.

Under her will, probated earlier, President Roosevelt receives nine-tenths of the entire estate, including a small amount of real estate. The President's inheritance is thus valued at approximately $915,000.

The net value of the estate was reached after deduction of funeral and administrative expenses and debts totaling $38,489. A state tax of $48,431 was imposed.

Bulk in Stocks and Bonds.

The largest division of assets in the estate is the schedule of bonds and stocks, appraised at $939,993. The schedule shows that Mrs. Roosevelt held bond and stock interests in about 100 of America's leading corporations. She also had $30,000 in United States government bonds, including $10,000 in 2.5 per cent defense bonds.

Included in the general appraisal of assets were mortgages, notes, and cash, $119,606; miscellaneous items, $128,361, and real estate, $8,250. Real property listed consists of the James R. Roosevelt Memorial library, $6,000, and a small Hyde Park residence, $2,500.

The appraisal lists the most valuable jewelry owned by Mrs. Roosevelt as a necklace of 69 pearls valued at $1,800.

Grandchildren Get Bequests.

The proceedings show a bequest of $5,000 to St. James's church at Hyde Park, which is known as the President's church; grants of $5,000 to each of three executors in lieu of fees and commissions, and establishment of trust funds for Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, the President's wife, and the Roosevelt's four sons and daughter.

After these grants, the residuary estate passes outright to the President, who also is an executor. The other executors are Henry T. Hackett, Poughkeepsie, attorney for the estate, and Arthur J. Morris, New York City.

Mrs. Roosevelt's will, dated Sept. 30, 1928, directed that one-tenth of the estate be set aside for the trust funds. Her daughter-in-law and each of her five grandchildren will receive approximately $17,000.

3 Trusts Unnecessary.

Of the five trust funds for the grandchildren, however, only two will be established. These are for Lieut. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., East Norwich, N. Y., and Ensign John A. Roosevelt, Coronado, Cal.

The other grandchildren, Mrs. Anna R. Boettiger, Seattle, Wash.; Capt. James Roosevelt, Coronado, and Capt. Elliott Roosevelt, Fort Worth, Tex., having passed the age of 30, receive their bequests outright. Franklin Jr., now 27, and John, 25, will receive their shares when they reach 30.

Included in the proceedings is a copy of the will of Mrs. Roosevelt's husband, James, who died 40 years ago. The elder Roosevelt's will notes that his real estate, which included the Roosevelt's Hyde Park estate on the Hudson, passes to the President on the death of Mrs. Sara Roosevelt. James Roosevelt bequeathed the property to his wife for her use during her lifetime and upon her death to their son, Franklin.

Got Third of Father's Estate.

The President's father, who was president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Hudson River railroad and who had inherited a fortune made in the sugar business, left a gross estate of between $700,000 and $800,000. After establishing the property trust for Franklin, the elder Roosevelt divided the bulk of his estate into three parts. A third of the residuary estate was held in trust for Franklin and paid to him when he became 21. An equal portion went to his half-brother, James, who left to Franklin property valued at $100,000 when he died in 1927. The third part was held in trust, the income paid to Sara Roosevelt during her life, with directions that upon her death it be divided equally between Franklin and James.

Tax Already Paid.

It is understood that the estate left to the President thru the will of his father will pass to him entirely free of inheritance taxes, a small state inheritance tax having been paid at the time of James' death and there being no constitutional federal inheritance tax at that time.

Items of deduction from the gross estate left by Mrs. Roosevelt included a 1941 federal income tax of $12,482; attorney's fee of $5,000; funeral and administration expenses, $4,310, and total debts, $24,179. There was a stipulation that a number of debts were paid by the President on behalf of the estate pending settlement.

Bond and Stock Holdings.

The bond holdings include: $20,000 in Memphis Union Station company first mortgage 5s, appraised at $23,200; New York corporation stock for supply of water, $19,000 of 4.5 per cent of 1960, $23,465; $20,000 of United States treasury 3.25 per cent, $21,275.

COUNTY REVIVES 'FRIENDLY' SUITS FOR BACK TAXES

A tax collection program whereby the county board would at its discretion order tax foreclosure sales of any tax delinquent real estate properties was agreed to yesterday at a conference of county officials. Under the plan, the board would have broad powers to decide what properties should be foreclosed for taxes, and whether bids for less than the amount of back taxes due should be accepted.

The board plans to revive the system of "friendly" tax foreclosure suits, which since 1939 has enabled owners of properties owing 22 million dollars in back taxes plus additional millions in penalties to wipe out their tax bills by paying only 17 millions. Under this system, the owner asks the county to foreclose, and guarantees to bid a certain amount, usually 75 per cent of the taxes and nothing for penalties.

The friendly foreclosures, which were handled by the state's attorney's office, were discontinued last month by State's Attorney Courtney after Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington stated in an opinion that they encouraged tax dodging.

COMBINE FEVER WITH X-RAYS TO SUBDUE CANCER

St. Paul, Minn., April 23 (AP).—Good results in treating 50 cases of cancer with artificial fever of 104 to 106 degrees, combined with X-rays, was announced to the American College of Physicians today.

The 50 victims were Negroes, supposedly hopeless cases. Thirty-nine have improved. In a few cases all signs of cancer have disappeared. Eleven patients had no benefits.

The experiment has been under way for about two years at Meharry Medical college, Nashville, Tenn., and was reported by Doctors Edward L. Turner, Heddy S. Shoulders, and Lawrence D. Scott. They said they believed the results are better than those obtained by the use of X-rays alone. The purpose in adding the fever was to increase the sensitivity of the cancers to the X-rays.

WRITE-IN VOTES PUT INSPECTOR IN SHERIFF RACE

Want to know who's the Democratic candidate for sheriff of Lake county? He's John Stanton of Ingleside, a state license inspector. The Democrats had no official candidate for sheriff in last week's primary, so voters wrote in their choices. According to the count completed yesterday by County Clerk Jay B. Morse, Stanton received 245 write-in votes against Louis Zalar, who had 229. However, Republicans say it won't make much difference. They pointed to the records showing that the Republican candidate, Walter L. Atkinson, now chief deputy sheriff, received 16,642 votes, and to other records showing that only one Democrat ever has been elected in Lake county since way before grandfather's day.

ARMY IS READY FOR ATTACK ON PACIFIC STATES

Steps Taken Against New Pearl Harbor.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., April 23.—Many steps have been taken to arm the west coast in an effort to prevent another Pearl Harbor.

Troops in numbers are located along the coast to meet any emergency, with rapid movement from one place to another assured by long lines of transport trucks ready to move any part or all of the army anywhere.

Landing Places Guarded.

Big guns guard places where enemy landings might feasibly be attempted, and our best fighter and interceptor planes are perched at improvised takeoff grounds for instantaneous action. Hostile plane detector systems are in constant operation.

For 150 years the armed forces have been studying the problems of American defense. Thru the peacetime years, when the numerical strength and equipment of the fighting forces dropped to negligible proportions, a professional full time war personnel nevertheless was busy studying and planning.

The best military judgment is that an attack on this continent, if it comes, will be by way of the northern route, thru the Aleutian Islands and down the coast. But merely because this route is the most logical one, the armed forces are not blinding themselves to the possibility of the enemy striking in the south after by-passing the Hawaiian Islands.

Similar to Western Pacific.

Invasion by way of the Aleutians is regarded as most probable because it would involve tactics employed by the Japanese in their western Pacific campaign. This would involve successive attacks on Aleutian bases by the air force to clear a path for transports carrying mopping up and occupying troops. First the Japanese would be expected to attempt to establish themselves in Alaska and then to move down the coast.

In major war tactics, there is nothing new. Surprise moves win battles but not wars. In spite of being the victim of a surprise attack, Hawaii is probably one of the strongest fortified spots in the world today.

GRAND JURY TOLD O'CONNELL WAS A BIG RACE PLAYER

Lawrence J. O'Connell, former chief security supervisor for the Illinois industrial commission, who is accused of embezzling $54,000 of the commission's funds, was a heavy bettor on the horses and frequently deserted his work for the race track.

This statement was made yesterday by Peter J. Angsten, chairman of the commission during the Democratic régime in which O'Connell served. Angsten, now assistant city sealer, was called as a witness before the grand jury investigating O'Connell's accounts.

"It was my understanding that O'Connell was a heavy bettor on the horses," Angsten said, "and I gathered from other workers in the office that he consistently beat the races and made money."

O'Connell resigned last fall after the new commission chairman, Alfred J. Borah, reported a discrepancy in his records. Borah signed a complaint charging embezzlement.

O'Connell, who is 38 years old and lives at 1533 Pratt boulevard, has asserted the matter is a "political" one and that he could prove there is no shortage if permitted to inspect the audit.

Fake Furnace Inspector Slugs, Rapes Housewife

A young housewife on the northwest side was slugged into unconsciousness and raped yesterday by a tall, heavy set man. The rapist gained entrance to her home by posing as a furnace inspector. In the basement he slugged the woman with a gun. The victim, 27 years old, described her attacker as about 35 years old, weighing 195 pounds, light haired, and with scars over the left eye and on the back of the right hand.

L. PERRIN SCHWARTZ.

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—L. Perrin Schwartz of Royal Oak, Mich., editor of the weekly magazine Social Justice, appeared today before a special district grand jury which is investigating foreign propaganda.

The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Royal Oak, founder of the publication, issued a statement last week saying he was responsible for the policies of the magazine after Attorney General Biddle had directed the grand jury inquiry and described some of the contents of recent issues of Social Justice as seditious.

Attorney General Biddle today warned that any one who takes part in "transporting or distributing by any means whatsoever" a publication declared nonmailable under the so-called sedition clause of the espionage act is subject to 10 years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. Officials explained that this prevented even street sales of banned copies of Social Justice. Last week's edition of the magazine has been barred from the mails, and this week's issue is prohibited pending a decision by the postmaster general on its "mailability."

Appeals 99 Year Sentence for Watermelon Slaying

Athon Papas, 58 years old, who was sentenced in 1939 to 99 years in the penitentiary for the murder of a young woman, appealed yesterday to the Illinois Supreme court for a review of his case. He was convicted for shooting Miss Muriel Campbell, 18 years old, 1228 Maple avenue, Berwyn, in front of a fruit stand where he was a watchman, after she and some friends had broken a watermelon.

CHAPTER 1

THE story of the MacArthurs begins in Scotland, centuries ago. There the old Scottish clan of fighting MacArthurs carried on for generations. However, in the early part of the 19th century, General Douglas MacArthur's grandfather came to America as a boy from Glasgow, Scotland, with his mother, a widow. He studied law and was admitted to the New York bar in 1840. Later he moved to Springfield, Mass., and soon was made Judge Advocate. He married Aurelia Belcher. On June 2, 1845, the first MacArthur to be born in America was brought into the world. He was to become the father of the present General. His parents named him

CHAPTER 2

IN 1849, the year of the Gold Rush, young men were urged to "Go West" for fame and fortune. General Douglas MacArthur's grandfather, Arthur MacArthur, responded. With his wife and 4-year old son, he traveled to Chicago. However, a new state had just been admitted to the Union. It was called Wisconsin. It attracted him. Soon the family was settled in the city of Milwaukee. Within a few years, Arthur MacArthur became City Attorney of Milwaukee. Subsequently, he was elected Lt. Governor of Wisconsin.

In 1870, President Grant appointed Arthur MacArthur Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, a post he held for seventeen years. Many believe that the strong sense of justice of the present General Douglas MacArthur was inherited from his

ARTHUR MacARTHUR, father of General Douglas MacArthur, spent his boyhood in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Shortly after the outbreak of the Civil War, although he was only 17 years of age, he enlisted. He became First Lt. and Adjutant of the 24th Wisconsin Infantry. He soon showed the qualities of leadership that were to advance him through a long and illustrious military career. His bravery was proved time and again on the battlefields of the South. He was severely wounded and suffered many narrow escapes. His dauntless courage brought him rapid advancements to Major, Colonel, and Lt. Colonel, a post he held when he was mustered out of the service at the end of the Civil War, at which time he was but

GEORGE OFFERS NEW PLAN TO END PROFITS TANGLE

Acts as Senate Approves 19 Billion War Bill.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sen. George.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—After prolonged debate on war profits legislation, the senate today approved and sent to the White House a conference report on the 19 billion dollar supplemental war appropriation bill, which contains a discretionary profits limitation provision.

Sen. Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the finance committee, proposed during the senate debate that aggregate profits on war contracts over a three year period, or during the period of the war, be limited to 6 per cent of the cost, as computed for income tax purposes. The aggregate cost of performing the contracts would include federal income and excess profits taxes, and the 6 per cent limitation would apply to the aggregate of remaining profits at the end of the tax period.

Believed Hint to President.

Significance was ascribed to Sen. George's proposal because of reports that President Roosevelt will demand a confiscatory tax on corporation profits when he submits his anti-inflation program to congress next week. Friends of the finance committee chairman assumed that his studied formula for solution of the war profits problem was advanced in the hope that Mr. Roosevelt would take notice of it.

Sen. George said his proposal to limit war profits on a fixed percentage basis could be incorporated in the 7 billion 600 million dollar tax bill now being considered by the house ways and means committee, or could be adopted in separate legislation. He expressed certainty, however, that the question of excessive profits on war contracts cannot be answered by an excess profits law alone.

Favors Equitable Formula.

On the other hand, he added, a profits limitation formula, to be equitable, must be based on the aggregate of profits over a taxable period rather than on individual contracts, and it should be applied after and not before the payment of taxes.

Sen. George agreed with the opinion prevailing in the senate that the profits limitation provision in the bill passed today does not solve the problem. This provision, which was drafted by the legal experts of the government contracting agencies, directs them to renegotiate war contracts for the purpose of withholding or recovering profits deemed to be excessive. The departments are authorized to renegotiate all contracts heretofore or hereafter made at any time before final payments are made thereon. The law contains no yardstick or standard for the determination of excessive profits.

Disagree on Interpretation.

Whether the final determination of "excessive profits" would require the consent of the contractor was a question to which Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] could get no conclusive answer.

Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], manager of the bill, argued that the law will not require the consent of the contractor, while Sen. John H. Overton [D., La.] contended that it will require such consent.

Both Sen. Vandenberg and Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., O.] contended that the provision is so "ambiguous" that no contractor will know his rights, or whether, in fact, he has a contract, since the government departments may tell him at any time that his agreement must be renegotiated.

Arbitrary Powers Reviewed.

"The secretary is given absolute discretion to find out what are excessive profits," said Sen. Taft. "He may say that 1 per cent is excessive, or anything over 1 per cent. No right is given here for the courts to overrule the secretary as to what may be excessive profits."

The appropriation bill contains funds for 31,070 additional airplanes, for a vast expansion of naval construction and repair facilities, and for increasing the army to 3,600,000 men by the end of this year. It raises the total of war appropriations and commitments to more than 160 billion dollars.

U.S. JURY ACQUITS M'NEAR IN FIRST RAIL LAW TRIAL

George P. McNear.

Peoria, Ill., April 23 [Special].—Another chapter in the stormy history of the 239 mile Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad ended today with acquittal of its president, George P. McNear Jr., and two other officials by a federal court jury of charges of violating the national railway labor act by coercing union employés.

The trial was the first of its kind ever held under the criminal sections added eight years ago to the railway act of 1926.

"It was a fair trial and the only just verdict," said McNear, whose road was seized by the government a month ago as a result of a strike. "There never was any violation of the national railway act by any of the defendants."

Had the defendants been found guilty they could have been fined a maximum of $20,000 and sentenced to six months in jail on each of 24 counts.

McNear did not take the stand during the trial but the other defendants, Supt. Harlan H. Best and Trainmaster Bruce Gifford, made a blanket denial of the charges that the three executives had threatened workers with loss of seniority rights and their jobs in an attempt to prevent them from joining a union.

NOBODY SHOWS UP FOR HEARING; HERE'S REASON

Nobody showed up yesterday when the divorce case of Mrs. Suzanne Geiss against her husband, Frederic, 50 year old thrice married president of the Forest Milk company, was called before Robert Finke, acting for Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch. And it was revealed why:

All the principals in the case except Mrs. Geiss had engaged in a bloody fist fight before the commissioner on Wednesday and all were said at least figuratively to be licking their wounds.

As the story was told, fists began to fly when an unknown attorney for Geiss' first wife attempted to inject himself into the case. Samuel A. Rinella, attorney for the present Mrs. Geiss, objected. Geiss got into the argument and in a moment a battle ensued in which even the stenographer's books were spattered with blood.

Commissioner Finke admitted he was forced to call building attachés to pry the embattled men apart. He said the case has now been put over until next Tuesday, and added:

"But I have one exhibit in the case for them when they appear."

And he held up a tooth with a very crimson root.

Recover Dynamite Taken from Quarry Near Joliet

Walter MaGee, Joliet, chief deputy sheriff of Will county, last night recovered a case of 112 sticks of dynamite that had been stolen from a quarry of the Material Service corporation in Lockport township. He said he found it after a search of 24 hours, buried in a sand bank near the quarry. Under suspicion, he said, are a group of 10 and 11 year old boys who were seen near a shanty in which the explosive was kept.

STATE OLD AGE ROLLS HIT NEW MARK FOR MONTH

Springfield, Ill., April 23 (AP).—The number of old age assistance recipients, which has increased steadily since the program began in 1936, passed the 150,000 mark in March, it was reported today.

Fletcher C. Kettle, state superintendent of public assistance, said that payments totaling $3,897,509 were made to 150,266 old persons during the month, a gain of 291 over the previous month. The average monthly payment was $25.93.

Aid to dependent children payments totaling $721,977 were made to 22,165 families with 50,171 children during the month. This was an increase over March of 352 families and 819 children. Payments averaged $14.37 for each child.

GAS RATIONING QUOTAS IN EAST REMAIN A PUZZLE

Limitation to $2\frac{1}{2}$ Gallons a Week Doubted.

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—The question of how much gasoline eastern motorists will get under the new card rationing plan remained confused and highly uncertain tonight, with some officials scoffing at predictions that the ordinary driver might be limited to 2½ gallons a week.

Other informed quarters noted, however, that the exact ration figure had not yet been announced and they were inclined to believe that the motoring public should not raise its expectations unduly until actual developments warranted it.

Yesterday a source in the Office of Price Administration passed out word that the ration for average motorists under the program effective May 15 was likely to be from 2½ to 5 gallons a week.

Ickes Doesn't Believe It.

Today, Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, who is petroleum coördinator, branded such predictions as "without justification" and Price Administrator Leon Henderson was reported to have scoffed at the 2½ gallon figure as being too low. An aide to Ickes mentioned 25 gallons a month as a "more likely allowance." It is estimated the average motorist normally uses 55 gallons monthly.

Henderson appeared today at an executive session of a senate agricultural subcommittee studying gasoline and rubber problems, and afterward senators quoted him as saying that no such low figure as 2½ gallons was contemplated.

The subcommittee has been investigating production of synthetic gasoline and rubber and possible use of grains, fruits and other farm surpluses in this field.

Alcohol, Rubber from Grains.

One senator said Henderson brought along a "Mr. Newman from Philadelphia who told us that rubber could be made from grains. He said it first must be converted into alcohol and estimated that 200,000 tons of rubber could be produced from 57,000,000 bushels of corn or grain." Newman was identified as a large producer of industrial alcohol.

"We refuse to believe people will be put under such short rations," Ickes told newsmen. "Whoever gave out those figures was a poor prophet." He said he saw no prospect for nation-wide gasoline rationing now, adding that "I still see no reason for denying people gasoline where there is plenty, just because we are short of gasoline in the east."

He said he had recommended to Henderson that the prices of gasoline and house heating oil be increased in the east due to increased transportation cost and war risk insurance.

Railroads last week set another record for eastward movement of oil, using 44,000 tank cars to transport 600,000 barrels daily.

Ickes joined Henderson, Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman, Chairman Emory S. Land of the Maritime commission, and Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman in a statement that "motoring as usual is out" in the east, possibly for the duration of the war.

LEADER'S APPLE APPETITE TRAPS GANG OF GUNMEN

When Warren avenue police learned that the leader of three colored gunmen who had perpetrated 11 robberies in the district was always eating an apple, they started watching fruit stores. They soon learned that Harvey Furlong, 29 years old, of 2329 Maypole avenue, bought three apples every day. They arrested him, and Furlong confessed the robberies, implicating Ellis Miles, 27, of 2322 Lake street, and William Malcolm, 25, of 2234 Maypole avenue, both also colored. They were arrested by Detectives Fred Riley and Warren McCallen, who had solved the case—and who also are colored.

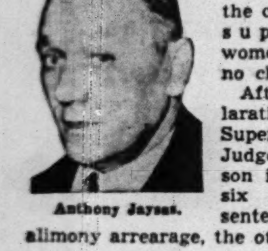
GOES TO ALIMONY ROW; PROCLAIMS SELF A MARTYR

Husband Refuses to Pay Estranged Wife.



Anthony Jaysas.

Anthony Jaysas voluntarily went into alimony row in the county jail yesterday. He did so, he said, because he wanted to be a martyr in the cause against supporting women who have no children.

After this declaration in the Superior court Judge Oscar Nelson imposed two six month jail sentences, one for alimony arrearage, the other for contempt. The terms are to be served concurrently.

Wife Charges Desertion.

Jaysas, 42 years old, of 922 East 62d street, a service man for the Commonwealth Edison company, is being sued for separate maintenance by his wife, Florence, also 42. They were married May 28, 1935, and separated Oct. 4, 1940. She charges desertion. It was his first marriage, and her second. Her first marriage ended in divorce.

When the hearing began yesterday Judge Nelson announced he opposed separate maintenance except in cases where religion or little children are involved. This met with Jaysas' approval; he preferred divorce.

Judge Nelson urged Mrs. Jaysas to change her suit to divorce, and this she agreed to do after a conference between her lawyer, John Cusack, and her husband's lawyers, Joseph H. and Norman Becker. Judge Nelson then suggested that Jaysas pay alimony for seven years—the length of his marriage.

Refuses to Pay Alimony.

"I won't pay her a penny," Jaysas shouted. "My marriage has not been happy. It's been a marriage in fact only four years. My wife always abused me, and wrongly accused me of seeking other women. I've paid her for the last 20 months, and 20 months of alimony is sufficient.

"I'll refuse to pay. I'll be a martyr to the cause of paying support to women without children."

Judge Nelson sentenced Jaysas for contempt because of his verbal outbreak, and added another sentence for being $88 behind in alimony payments of $5 a week. The Beckers then withdrew as his lawyers, saying they couldn't represent such a wilful martyr.

"I'm willing to stay in jail the rest of my life," Jaysas announced.

TWO CONTEMPT CITATIONS ASKED AT DILLING TRIAL

A petition to declare Attorney Maurice T. Weinshenk and his former client, Albert W. Dilling, in contempt of court was filed yesterday before Judge Rudolph Desort in Superior court as the sequel to Wednesday's stormy hearing in the Dilling divorce case in which Weinshenk attempted to connect Dilling's wife with 33 convicted axis agents or suspected axis propagandists and others.

Weinshenk, in a petition, had called upon Mrs. Dilling to produce any correspondence she may have had with the 33 persons he named.

The counterpetition was filed by William J. Grace, a lawyer and head of the Citizens' Committee of the U. S. A., formerly the Citizens' Committee to Keep America Out of War, who was one of the persons named in Weinshenk's petition. Grace charges Weinshenk's action is a smear effort.

Dilling, lawyer-engineer, and his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of "The Red Network," are suing each other for divorce. The hearings thus far have been boisterous; three times Mrs. Dilling has been held in contempt.

THE QUESTION.

What event at your house has caused the most fuss or preparation?

WHERE ASKED.

Madison and Crawford National bank, Madison and Crawford streets.

THE ANSWERS.

Robert Schufeldt, clerk, 4351 Gladys avenue — Housekeeping is a new thing for us newlyweds and each of us has many relatives the other hasn't met. When a new relative is about to pay us a visit, no detail is left undone. We do everything possible to make the best impression to convince them we both made a good choice.

Mrs. Alvin W. Gran, bookkeeper, 5334 Crystal street — For two years, more or less, I've been planning to be married. Finally on a three day notice it happened. It not only upset the routine at home, but even at the office, with shifting of vacations and all. When the shopping and packing was finished, my friends even managed a couple of showers.

A. J. Marschak, assistant cashier, 234 Pine avenue — When daughter goes formal, that's my cue to retreat to the kitchen and consider myself lucky to find even a cold sandwich. It seems like last minute fittings, hair-dos, telephones, and doorbells occupy everybody's time then. The only daughter angle might have a little bearing on the case.

Peter McDermott, policeman, 4213 Washington boulevard. Not since my son was born has there been as much commotion in the house as when he announced he was off to join the army. Relatives and friends flocked over with gifts and advice and the place was kept alive with his plans for leaving. It was the same when he came back to pay us a visit.

Mrs. Frank J. Counihan, housewife, 5012 Wolfram street—My two sons practically remade our home when they decided to take in four little puppies. They built a little house in the basement and one upstairs and removed all breakables and valuables from the floor and then adopted the puppies.

Andrew Philliotis, restaurant manager, 4433 Congress street—The one event in our home that is done up in the proper style is our Greek Easter celebration. We plan for weeks in advance and on that morning at 1 a. m. the whole family, plus relatives, gather at our home to enjoy the feast of barbecued lamb, wines, fancy cheeses and other traditional foods.

This Is Solid Comfort for Mother and Sandra Mae

Something new in vehicles for children has attracted attention of the neighbors of Mrs. Ruth Nemes, 1722 North Lawndale avenue. Since her daughter, Sandra Mae, now 3, was 15 months old, Mrs. Nemes has taken her about with her on a bicycle. Now that the child is big enough Mrs. Nemes has fitted a second seat to the neck of the handlebars. And to make it solid comfort, a windshield has been fixed in front of both the baby and Mrs. Nemes.

RAPIST CAUGHT AFTER ATTACKS ON 80 WOMEN

Brooklyn Man Trailed by Auto Sticker.

New York, April 23 [Special].—A 240 pound auto scrap worker, father of an 18 month old child, was seized by police today as "the worst sex criminal in Brooklyn in years" who had attacked at least 80 women. Police had sought the attacker for weeks, and detectives, dressed as women, had wandered thru Brooklyn in the quest.

A V-for-Victory sticker on the suspect's auto led to his arrest. Police, who booked the man as Eugene Levine of Brooklyn, said that he had followed most of his victims into the automatic elevators of their apartment houses and there attacked them after threatening them with a shoemaker's knife.

Chats with Victims.

As victim after victim identified Levine after his capture he chatted amiably with them, giving the police more information than his victims. Altogether 56 women identified him.

By day, police said, the man was a genial, hard working car wrecker. By night, however, they said, he would get in his gray sedan, a 1936 model, and cruise around Brooklyn from 9 p. m. to 2 a. m. in search of victims.

Usually, the police asserted, he would wait until he saw a woman alone getting off a bus or trolley car or walking from a subway station. Then he would follow her to her apartment house, get in the elevator with her, stop the elevator and flash his shoemaker's knife.

Seventy detectives were assigned to the man hunt. The only clews they had were his size and the story of many of his victims that he drove a gray sedan with a V-for-victory sticker on the windshield. It was a type of sticker distributed by a gasoline station chain, which required recipients to sign for them.

Trailed to His Car.

A week ago, because of his size, the prisoner was stopped on the street by Detectives Richard Manes and Walter Shea. They questioned him, but he answered blandly and they had to let him go. They followed him, however, and saw him enter a gray sedan with a V-for-victory sticker on the windshield.

The detectives went to the gasoline station chain; searched thru the list of 2,500 names of persons to whom stickers were given, and found Levine's name. They got a photograph which was on file with the state tax department because of his auto wrecking business. They showed this to half a dozen of the victims and all identified him.

So at 1 a. m. today police woke the man up at his home and took him to face the parade of victims.

HOLD CONFESSED KILLER OF DENVIR TO GRAND JURY

Ralph Elias, 18 years old, was ordered held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge John T. Zuris in Felony court for the holdup murder last Feb. 13 of John F. Denvir, loop clothing merchant. Elias, an American born Mexican, confessed that he fatally slugged Denvir and robbed him of $18 in Harrison street between Michigan and Wabash avenue. Denvir, 72 years old, was the president of a clothing concern at 67 West Jackson boulevard. Elias was ordered held without bail.

BRICK SWINGER GETS 8-10 YEARS FOR GIRL ATTACK

Judge Klarkowski.

Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski in Criminal court yesterday sentenced Jay D. Riney, Negro, 23 years old, to 8 to 10 years in prison for the assault of a storekeeper and a 12 year old girl during a holdup last March 15.

The court sentenced Riney on two charges of assault and ordered the sentences to be served concurrently despite the plea of Assistant State's Attorney Irwin Clorfene that the Negro be ordered to serve consecutive terms of at least 10 to 14 years. Judge Klarkowski set the term of sentence at 8 to 10 years under the law permitting judges to fix minimum and maximum terms with the statutory term. Conviction for assault carries the penalty of 1 to 14 years in prison.

The victims of his attack were George Cizinauskas, owner of the store at 1450 15th street and Dora Liebert, 12 years old. The girl suffered a basal skull fracture and only recently was released from County hospital. A livid scar across her forehead, she testified that she went into the store to buy two cents worth of candy when she was struck down. She spoke and walked haltingly. Cizinauskas identified Riney as the bandit.

After the hearing, Mrs. Albert Liebert, mother of Dora, expressed disappointment over the concurrent sentences. "You call this justice?" she asked. "My little girl won't recover from this in 8 years."

GETS 20 YEARS FOR RAPING GIRL IN SCHOOL YARD

Benjamin Baldwin.

Benjamin Baldwin, 20 years old, a machinist, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski in Criminal court to 20 years in the penitentiary for the rape of a girl, 13 years old, in a north side school yard. He was found guilty in a 15 minute bench trial.

Baldwin was arrested and confessed the crime last April 11 after he had gone to the Jefferson Park police station to report he had been held up and kidnaped by two men. Later he admitted he had used this story as an excuse for coming home late. He said he raped the girl in the presence of her brother, 7.

Judge Klarkowski denied a plea for leniency. "There is too much of this going on and we have got to put a stop to it," he asserted. Baldwin lived with an aunt at 5538 North Sayre avenue.

DIES OF INJURIES IN FALL.

Edward Rook, 59 years old, died yesterday in St. Elizabeth's hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday in a fall in his home at 1723 North Maplewood avenue.

INSTALMENT XLVII.

ACCUSATIONS.

Beth put her horse across the street now, and dismounted at the tie rail in front of the hotel.

These men watched her in silence from the shelter of the hotel lobby as she mounted the steps, crossed the veranda, and stepped into the room.

Sam had circled around in back of the buildings and come into the hotel thru the rear entrance. He stood there by the men, his face dark with fury.

Beth looked these men over and saw Gove, a head taller than the rest, watching her.

And then she saw Ives. He was leaning idly against the wall, his eyes alert and questioning and friendly. Beth had a second of deep bitterness then as she looked at him. If Ives had only been here to help when she needed him. If he could only help her now in what she was going to do.

The rifle fire started up again.

Sam said angrily, "Beth, you ought—".

She was paying him no attention and he stopped talking.

Beth walked toward the men and their circle split and she was face to face with Jess Gove. She looked at Sam then and pointed to Jess and said, "There's the man you should be hunting—Jess Gove."

The unexpectedness of her declaration left these men speechless, staring at her and Gove.

Jess said mildly, reprovingly, "Beth, what are you saying?"

Beth looked at him angrily. "That was a forged note I showed you, Jess. It wasn't from Wallace. And you had Sam there to kill him."

Her face was pale, and her lips were trembling in spite of her effort at control, but her eyes were bright and angry and determined.

She looked at Kinsley and said coldly, "Would you be interested in knowing, Sam, that Tip Macy was really murdered? Gove denied it, and I denied it when you asked us, but it's true."

Kinsley looked searchingly at Beth, and then shuttled his attention to Gove, a question in his face.

Gove said gently, "Beth, Beth. What will Sam think of us?" He looked at Kinsley and said quietly, "Yes, it's true. I didn't tell you and Beth didn't tell you, because Tip was rustling Chevron beef. We covered it up to save Martha Macy the humiliation of being branded as a rustler's wife."

"The same Martha Macy that left Chevron because her love affair with Pete Framm was discovered by you?" Beth asked bitingly.

Gove's face altered a little. "That's right."

"You're lying," Beth said flatly. "She left because she was afraid you and Arnie Chance would kill her!"

The accusation was like a whiplash popping in the still room. The occasional rifle blasting away outside did not seem to reach this stillness.

Kinsley stared stupidly at Beth, and Beth went on talking to Kinsley. "All this trouble with Wallace has come about because Dave knew Tip Macy didn't die in a blizzard, Sam. And Gove has tried to kill him or drive him out of the country—because he feared Wallace would learn the truth."

"You got that from Wallace?" Sam asked thinly.

"I did."

Kinsley snorted in angry contempt. "You're a headstrong girl, Beth. Don't turn into a busybody woman. Let us handle this. Go to bed."

Beth looked despairingly around her, and her glance settled on Ives. He was watching her quietly, gravely. And then Beth saw it plainly: He winked solemnly.

She turned on Kinsley. "But Sam, don't you see how it works out! Don't you—"

"Beth, go to bed!" Kinsley said flatly, harshly.

He strode the two steps toward her and took her arm firmly, and said angrily, "You're beside yourself. You don't know what you're saying. Go upstairs and lie down, and let us take care of this!"

Beth tried to shake his arm off, but he held her firmly. Desperately, she looked around at these men, at Ives. "Don't any of you believe me?" she cried.

And Ives again winked.

Sam moved her implacably toward the stairs. There was a movement, a murmur among the men, and then two of them moved, and Arnie Chance, dusty and sweating, stepped into the circle of men and came up to Gove.

Beth heard him say quietly, "Rollins wants to see you, Jess."

Beth, her foot on the bottom step, looked bleakly at Chance, and then she saw Ives push away from the wall.

He walked swiftly and silently up to Gove, raised an arm, and slashed him across the face with the back of his hand.

Then, turning, he said to Kinsley, "I can talk now, because Chance is here." He paused. "Gove is a murderer. He's a rustler, too, and I got proof that will hing him and Chance both!"

Arnie Chance had just arrived from Seco, and he had sized up the situation immediately. He knew he must get Gove away. And when Ives spoke out, something clicked in Arnie's mind. He remembered how soundlessly Ives had approached Gove, and he looked at Ives' feet. Here was the man with moccasins.

What happened then came with the speed of light.

Chance was standing near the window. He raised his foot, kicked out the sash, and dived out the window.

Ives made a grab for him, missed, and yelled, "Cut him off!"

But these men here were still too bewildered to act.

Chance hit the ground on all fours, came to his feet running toward the street. He saw the horse Beth had left at the tie rail.

He ducked under the rail, vaulted into the saddle, and roweled the horse savagely toward the bridge and the grade.

Dave Wallace, watching at the window, saw Chance duck under the tie rail, and he knew instantly that this had broken.

He ran for the door, tripping again on the hole in the rotten floor. He reached the door, yanked it open, and ran out into the dark street.

Chance was leaning over the neck of his horse, which was already on the bridge. Some one on the hotel veranda was shouting.

Dave lifted his gun, let it settle, and fired.

Chance's horse missed stride, and then his front legs buckled and he went down with a crash that boomed heavily on the bridge.

Chance went kiting over his head, landing on all fours and skidding on his face. He rolled over twice, came to his knees. In the half light that reached the bridge Dave saw him come to his feet, his hand streaking for his gun.

Dave stopped, and thumbed back the hammer of his gun and lifted it.

Chance shot from the hip, shot wildly, and the slug kicked up a geyser of dust at Dave's feet. Dave's hand steadied, and he brought Chance into the dim notch of his sight, and again Chance shot, and Dave heard the slug whisper past him, and then Dave, firing for Chance's gunflash, squeezed the trigger.

Chance stepped back, a full, bracing step, and now Dave walked toward him, shooting carefully, implacably. Chance backed to the bridge rail, shot again, and then Dave halted and took careful aim.

CAFES DRAFTING SUGAR RULES AS RATIONING NEARS

Some Decide to Remove Bowls from Tables.

Chicago restaurant owners yesterday said that plans for the relationship between customer and sugar bowl have not been completed. Two of the large chains said they had not yet formed a method for protecting the depleted sugar stocks from customers with a sweet tooth. One said no plans will be made until a copy of the rationing order is obtained. The other is waiting to see what other restaurant owners decide.

At one well known restaurant on Chicago avenue, a spokesman said sugar bowls will be taken off the table, and customers asked whether they desire any in coffee and other dishes. A limit of ½ to ⅔ of a spoonful for each cup of coffee is expected, and the removal of sugar from table it was said, probably will save several pounds daily since overeager users spill a lot each day, and wet sugar spoons also take their toll.

Other well known restaurant operators said they had not yet determined what to do, altho one restaurant in the loop said honey is being substituted for sugar in some baked goods.

Candy Bars Smaller.

Candy manufacturers reported that in some instances the size of individual bars had been cut down, due in part to a sugar shortage and in part to the increased cost of other materials. Some added that they might have to curtail the amount as well as the size, while others said they were using fruit and nut centers to save sugar.

Drug stores are expected to reduce the amount of syrups in sundaes and sodas, or to thin the syrups. Wholesalers will permit only a percentage of former syrup purchases to each customer, and spokesmen said that where a store's custom had increased greatly this might mean a real sweet tooth hardship.

Visitors Should Register.

Retail sugar users, according to an announcement from Washington, will be unable to buy sugar in the stores from next Monday until sugar rationing for retail users starts May 5. Local rationing officials said also that persons living away from home temporarily, such as college students or persons visiting relatives elsewhere, should register in their temporary residence district and apply for a transfer of their rationing application when they return home.

Boys and girls under 18 years old will be registered in their home districts if they are attending schools elsewhere, however, and their cards sent to school authorities for safekeeping. Registering for each family can be handled by one adult member of the family group, who should go to the nearest elementary school in the family's school district.

Report Supply on Hand.

Each family must report the amount of sugar on hand, and unless registration is made family units will be unable to purchase sugar anywhere. Servants register for themselves.

Institutional users of sugar, including boarding houses, will register next Tuesday and Wednesday, as will sugar wholesalers and industrial sugar users.

The Tribune Public Service office at 1 South Dearborn street, handed out 458 commercial rationing forms yesterday, bringing the total since Monday to more than 1,300. Rationing authorities have stated that such forms should be presented filled out —but not signed—when the applicants appear to register.

HERE'S A COLORFUL FRUIT COMPOTE TO SERVE A DUAL ROLE

This compote of colorful fruits may serve either of two purposes, for it's tart enough to serve as an appetizer and sweet enough to appear as dessert.

Avocado-Orange Fruit Cup.

[Serves six.]

- 1 medium-sized avocado
- 1 cup cubed orange
- ½ cup cubed canned peaches
- ½ cup diced apple
- ⅓ cup honey
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 cup orange juice
- ¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Cut avocado into halves lengthwise and remove seed. Pull skin from fruit and cut fruit into cubes. Combine with other fruits in stemmed glasses or fruit cups. Blend honey and lemon juice thoroly. Add orange juice and lemon rind, and stir to blend. Pour over fruits. Serve chilled.

Flavorsome Combination.

Green beans and mushrooms make a flavorsome pair for company dinner served with cheese, tomato, or cream sauce.

FOOD PRICES UP, BUT YOU'LL FIND SOME GOOD BUYS

Beef Is Leader Among Reasonable Meats.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1942: By The Chicago Tribune.]

There's no use denying it, prices are higher on several food commodities this week-end, particularly in the fruit and vegetable line. But don't get alarmed; there are still reasonably good buys, and some foods can be purchased for what you paid last week.

Beef holds the most important place among attractively priced meats. There are veal bargains at some stores, but they do not represent a great part of the city's meat markets. In fact, meat reports, except for beef, are spotty thruout Chicago, with bargains in lamb in some quarters, good chicken offers here and there, and a few reasonably priced smoked pork cuts.

Grapefruit has risen in price, to be expected at this time, since the season soon will be drawing to a close. Oranges also are up, as are almost all varieties of apples, including delicious, winesap, Rome, Ben Davis, willow twig, and Jonathan. Rhubarb prices are about the same, with some selling even a little lower. Pineapple maintains its rather high level, and pears continue to climb.

Avocados a Good Buy.

Avocados are a good buy. The strawberry trend is up, tho this may be temporary because the berries are between blooms. You'll agree that they're beginning to look like real strawberries.

It's still artichoke time, with the delicacy selling for a moderate price. You'll find a wide range in price of asparagus and it won't hurt to be "picky" about this vegetable. You will pay as much for good quality asparagus as you did last week. Green beans are scarce and high and the quality isn't too good, due to that 20 inch Florida rain, but as soon as Louisiana beans start coming, it will be a different story.

Bunch beets are a trifle higher, along with carrots and cabbage, but all three are considered good buys. Celery costs more but is worth while, especially the Pascal variety.

Kale Is Cheapest Green.

The cheapest green is kale, with spinach slightly higher; then come dandelion and mustard greens and turnip tops. Lettuce quality ranges, none being too good. You might take advantage of the plentiful supply of leaf lettuce, which contains more vitamins than iceberg lettuce because it's greener. Dry onions, mostly new and from Texas, cost less but are still a bit high. There is no change in the slightly high price of peas.

Irish potatoes show no change, altho new potatoes have come down a little in their high price. Sweet potatoes are still about the best buy, the Nancy Hall variety being the cheapest. While bunch turnips from the southern states cost more than beets or carrots, you may buy good cheap topped turnips.

The price of rutabagas is low, too, and mushrooms are a fairly good buy. Shallots have risen in price while tomatoes have come down, but only a little.

Fresh Water Fish Attractive.

Fresh water fish have the spotlight this week-end, with few salt water fish available. Lake herring, lake trout, yellow pike, and whitefish from Lake Erie and Lake Superior all are good buys, and the best buy of all is smelt. There's shrimp to be had, but oysters have practically disappeared.

Rib roast of beef is being offered reasonably many places in the city. Beef chuck roast looks worth while, and steaks are being featured by many meat retailers. Boneless stew and beef pot roast are two other moderately priced meats. Ground beef probably will be on your shopping list to balance the cost of some higher priced foods.

Here are the veal cuts, tho you must remember some stores may not be featuring them: Veal legs, boneless stew, and shoulder chops in the lower moderate price range; rib chops and boneless rolls, moderate; loin chops, fairly reasonable, and breast of veal, an economy cut.

Some Lamb Cuts Reasonable.

Leg of lamb is offered reasonably some places, with shoulder chops selling quite moderately and rib chops fairly so. Lamb stew has a medium price, and breast of lamb is cheap. Some stores are offering lamb shoulder roast at an especially good price.

Frying and roasting chicken prices look quite attractive, and there's stewing chicken offered reasonably. There are hen turkeys to be had, not too high, and inexpensive ducks.

In smoked cuts, hams are moderately high, the butt end being higher priced. While you pay less for the shank end, consider that there is more bone. To break that spring fever, take the family on a picnic and pack a meal with the convenient cold cuts, which are not too expensive.

Appetite Whetting Spring Salad

A colorful spring salad like this one is guaranteed to whet the appetite and lift the spirits. Combine sections of orange, grapefruit, and apple on a bed of crisp Romaine, and garnish the plate with a cluster of frosty grapes. Serve with French dressing, and pass a tray of toasty brown crackers as the accompaniment.

Bread, Parsley and Chives Combined in a Novel Way

Here's a Sunday supper suggestion: Slice a whole loaf of French bread within an inch of the base. Spread with one-half cup melted butter mixed with one-half cup finely chopped parsley or chives. Place in 350 degree oven until heated thru and serve at once.

Tint Cornstarch Pudding with Vegetable Coloring

Tint your favorite vanilla cornstarch pudding with vegetable coloring. Sprinkle with grated unsweetened chocolate while still hot. Chill and serve for a different dessert.

Time for Light Desserts; Try These Tasty Tortes

It's time for light desserts such as Schaum torte. Beat four egg whites until foamy. Add one-fourth teaspoon of salt and one-half cup of finely granulated sugar, a small amount at a time. Continue beating until stiff, but not dry. Fold in one-half additional cup of sugar and one teaspoon of vanilla. Drop by large spoonful on ungreased cookie sheet and bake for 45 minutes to an hour in a 275 degree oven, or until shells are lightly browned. Scoop out tops of tortes and dry in the oven. Top with ice cream or mashed strawberries.

This Gives Crisp Coating to French Fried Chicken

To make a crisp coating for French fried chicken, dip the chicken pieces into a batter made by beating together 1 cup flour, 1½ teaspoon salt, 1 beaten egg, and ¾ cup milk. Seasoned flour, cornmeal, or crumbs may be used for ordinary fried chicken.

FOOD SHORTAGE MAY DEVELOP, SENATORS TOLD

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—America may have some surprising food shortages thru meeting the increasing wartime demands of the united nations.

Senators said Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard disclosed this situation at closed sessions of a senate appropriations committee reviewing house action in slashing more than $30,000,000 from cash budget estimates for the agricultural department in the coming fiscal year.

Several senators quoted the secretary as saying that a shortage of shipping space now was the chief wartime obstacle to keeping this country's fighting allies well fed. Later the cabinet member said some farm production shortages might develop.

If the United States could ship all the food required or requested, Wickard said shortages probably would develop in dairy products, fats, and oils, meats and some other abundantly common products.

In connection with surplus stocks of cotton, wheat, and corn now held by the government as a result of price supporting loan programs, Secretary Wickard urged senators to remove a house provision in the farm supply bill prohibiting sales below a full parity price. A parity price is one computed to give a farm product the same relative purchasing power it had in a past period, usually 1909-'14.

The senate previously passed separate legislation barring sales of these government surplus farm stocks at less than a full parity after farm-minded lawmakers protested that such sales might hold market prices below levels set in the price control act as the minimum for cellings.

Speaking of Restaurant Women.

Gleanings from an evening with the Restaurant Woman's club: Many women restaurant managers are taking courses in nutrition. Five of this group are enrolled in classes at Northwestern university. . . . More than 50 per cent of the waitresses at the Victor Lawson YMCA are college girls, representing five different universities. The girls are supplementing an academic course in institutional management by practical experience. . . . Minnie, who has about 40 regular customers in a popular noon-hour spot, watches the diets of her business men patrons. Order what he pleases, Minnie just doesn't bring it if she knows it disagrees with the gentleman in question. Also, she picks up stories from this jovial crowd and relays them later to her co-workers. . . . An expert with a flair for mathematics can estimate, for example, 450 pieces of apple pie will be sold and come within 5 or 10 of being right. . . . These estimates are done on a percentage basis, but weather is still a problem to the restaurant manager. [Of 45 reservations, three guests appeared in a snowstorm last winter.] . . . It's easy to tell if the food is satisfactory. "There's a sort of hum in the dining room," they say.

Varied talents are required of these women who manage tearooms, school lunchrooms, college dining halls, industrial lunchrooms, club dining rooms, cafeterias, and experimental laboratories. First essential is an interest in the preparation of good food. Then, good health, common sense, a knowledge of accounting, application to hard work, a sense of humor, ability to manage people, even ability to type, were mentioned.

Equally varied are their avocations, as witness Miss Lema Weaver. Altho she does not drive a car she is learning to fly a plane and has applied for civilian aeronautics patrol. She thinks flying is a great form of relaxation from the restaurant business. As one of her friends remarked, "When Lema is so nervous she could fly . . . she does!"

The Working Girl Moves.

"Consider the plight of the poor working girl who must move," writes Jean. "After an evening of packing china I jumped like a startled faun when the bus boy dropped a plate this noon."

Wouldn't it be nice, adds Jean, if—like a game of stagecoach—you could call off the whole thing and every one stay where she is!

The Person You Are.

"You are a much more wonderful person than you ever have dreamed yourself to be.

"A peculiar but true thing about you is that you are the only one of your kind in all the world.

"There is a charm about you not possessed by any other human being . . . a sparkle in your eye . . . a tone in your voice . . . talents that are different from the talents of any one else.

"The world has a place for you, and if you are not filling that place it is vacant because no one else can fill it. The world has happy and profitable work for you to do, and if you are not doing that work it is not being done, for no one else can do it. You may have made a bungle of everything you ever tried to do. . . . There is happy work in which you could succeed without bungling.

Voters' League Directors Start Parleys Today

BY IRENE STEYSKAL.

Preliminary to the biennial convention of the National League of Women Voters, opening here next Tuesday with headquarters in the Palmer House, the board of directors are gathering for four days of conferences, beginning today.

Miss Marguerite M. Wells of Minneapolis, the national president, who arrived yesterday from headquarters in Washington, D. C., said the 14 board members would study at their preliminary meetings a "platform of governmental principles" and "an active list of current governmental problems" to be presented to the convention.

She explained the platform as "an attempt to give a not too detailed or formalized idea of the trend of the league's political action and governmental philosophy, as exemplified in what it has chosen to do during the 22 years of its existence," and the active list of governmental problems as "an attempt to function as tho we were just a large group of well informed, intelligent, and responsible citizens at a time when such citizens are so much needed."

Miss Constance Roach of Washington, D. C., the organization secretary, is to report to the board members tomorrow on the league's wartime service to help citizens understand government. Mrs. Walter T. Fisher of Winnetka, national treasurer, and Mrs. George Gellhorn, St. Louis, Mo., national finance chairman, will lead a finance discussion tomorrow.

FASHIONS

Smartly dressed women know the importance of shoes in making the costume complete. The wrong color or an unsuitable style of footgear can wreck the best laid plans for being the best dressed. The season of the year, the type of costume, the color combination, to say nothing of the comfort, the fit, and the becomingness to the person's individual foot contours, are all part of shoe buying. Equip your feet for spring and summer in the manner to which they are entitled all the way from play shoes to dressy afternoon.

At the top of the left column is the moccasin loafer that has continued season after season to be among the best sellers. It has to be good to do this in the fashion business which is known to be fickle. It is a good sturdy leather, available in either antique brown or antique red. A leather thong laces thru the turned cuff and ties over the tongue. Under $4.

Next down is another play shoe. Sandal, we should call it, with wide strips of leather crisscrossed over the toe and strap heel. You can match your summer slacks in white, beige, red, or a multicolor job that will go with anything in the way of sport or play clothes.

Another classic, even more venerable than the moccasin above, is the spectator sport pump. You don't need to be told any more than that you can buy it in brown and white, blue and white, or black patent and white, and that it costs less than $4.

Top of the right hand column is the high heeled sandal for afternoon wear. Colors? They are green, pink, blue, tan, black, yellow, red. . . . What more could you ask?

The requirements of casual daytime wear will be adequately taken care of by the low-heeled calf pump with the walled toe. It also has that very flattering V-shaped instep and a perforated toe. Look for it in brown or beige.

Very soft and pliable elkskin makes the wedge-soled moccasin at the bottom of the page. Lacing of a different color accentuates the toe.

Sally Offering Gas Stoves to Those in Need

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.].

It's a feast or a famine in this department!

Several days ago we requested a gas stove for a family in urgent need of one. We printed the appeal because none seemed to be obtainable thru the readers who contribute regular aid. The response to our plea was so large that even after filling a number of similar requests listed in our files, we still have many surplus offers on hand.

Any needy family or individual in need of a gas stove, but unable to afford one, may write to this department. Many of the offers come from outlying districts, including cities and suburbs north, south, and west of Chicago, as well as from local donors. We expect some information as to your circumstances, and prospective recipients must be prepared to assume cartage charges, since we have no delivery service.

Applicants for whom we can supply stoves will be notified by mail. Other requests will not be answered, but will be filed for future reference. It is not possible to send individual replies to all who write in.

Please do not telephone this office in regard to this offer. All requests must be written.

Post War Era Planning Urged at PTA Banquet

BY MARTHA MURPHY.

Present planning for the postwar world is as important as victorious armed forces, Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, declared last night at the closing banquet in the Stevens hotel of the 43d annual convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Theodore Gleichman.

"Our basic need is to construct attitudes and emotions which will habituate people to peace with other people in culture groups which vary from their own," Dr. Clinchy said. "The inability of the people of England and India to work together at this critical moment reveals how important education is in human relations. The problem in India involves religion, racial, and nationality factors. These elements will be increasingly important considerations in the postwar world."

Dr. Clinchy asserted that three spiritual concerns can be determined during and after the war. These are, he said: "Will the coming political organization be a tyranny or a government of all the free people, will it be a better world socially, economically, and spiritually, and can Americans avoid secularizing, leading to total state tyranny?"

Installation of five new state officers and 14 district directors was a feature of the banuet. Mrs. Theodore Gleichman of Moline is the new president; Mrs. Frank A. Damm of Chicago, first vice president; Mrs. Bruce Smyth of Blue Island, second vice president; Mrs. Christian Koch of Rock Island, third vice president, and Mrs. Irving V. Enevold of Libertyville, fourth vice president.

Life memberships were presented at the banquet to Mrs. H. M. Mulberry, Mrs. Smyth, Mrs. Elmer Geissler, Mrs. William Goldsmith, Mrs. C. C. Wiley, and Mrs. Fal E. Wood.

Speaking at an afternoon session of the convention, Irving F. Pearson, executive secretary of the Illinois Education association, said that an increase in school appropriations parallel with the increase of living costs will be necessary because of the war. Using state school figures in the last war as a basis, he predicted a rise of at least 25 per cent in appropriations will be necessary.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 heart	Double	2 hearts	2 spades
Pass	4 spades [final bid]

Actually, the best contract for North-South was five clubs, but this would have been difficult to reach by logical methods. Surely, South's two spade bid was correct, and when this reached North, the latter could not be expected to assume that South was bidding on a four card suit. The five honor tricks in the North hand, and lack of a heart stopper, made his jump to game in spades the most attractive action.

West opened the heart king and continued with the ace. South saw that he could not afford to discard on this trick because he would surely have to lose a diamond and a club. Hence, altho he was eager to preserve his trump length, he had to ruff. Now things did not look so good. It would be necessary to clear the club suit, and the opponents probably would lead another heart, forcing South again, and reducing him to two trumps. In sight were only eight top tricks, with the ninth possibly to be gained from a 3-2 club break. The 10th trick could not be obtained thru ruffing South's fourth diamond with the trump ace because, if that plan were used, both dummy and South would be down to two trumps and the defenders would have at least one trump trick.

There was one possible ray of hope, and declarer promptly seized upon it. After ruffing the second heart, he led three rounds of clubs. West took the third and continued with hearts, South again ruffing. Now declarer had to stake everything on finding a 3-3 break of trumps. He cashed the king and queen, then entered dummy with a diamond, and led the trump ace. To his great satisfaction, both opponents followed. This bit of luck permitted the declarer to cash the established fourth club for the fulfilling trick.

Elizabeth Lord Cheney's Troth to Naval Flyer Is Announced

BY JUDITH CASS.

LATEST of the war romances to be revealed concerns a popular young Barringtonian and a senior lieutenant who is a squadron leader in the naval air force. The news is told in the announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cheney of Oldfields, Barrington, of the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Lord, to Lieut. William J. Widhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Widhelm of Humphrey, Neb.

Miss Cheney last saw her fiancé two weeks ago or so when she went to the west coast with a friend, but their meeting was for three hours only, as Lieut. Widhelm abruptly departed for parts unannounced. Miss Cheney prepared at the Faulkner school on the south side, and was graduated from Sweetbrier college in 1939. Lieut. Widhelm was graduated from the United States Naval academy at Annapolis in 1932. Plans for the wedding are indefinite, of course.

Many Derby Enthusiasts to Stop at French Lick.

Word from Louisville is that the city is quite unsettled as to Derby plans, with hotels expecting cancellations and the status of transportation uncertain. From the number of advance reservations at French Lick Springs, Ind., however, it looks as if the annual running of the historic race on May 2 will not suffer from lack of attendance, either on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Average Racegoer or of Mr. and Mrs. National Celebrity.

Alice Marble, famed tennis star; Damon Runyon, author, and his wife of New York; Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt and Mrs. McNutt, who will come from Washington, D. C., for the gala week-end, and Charles S. Howard, owner of several first ranking race horses, and Mrs. Howard, who will come from San Francisco, all will be at French Lick Springs.

Among the Chicagoans with reservations at the resort are Stuyvesant Peabody, Mrs. Walter C. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marquis, Clement Nance, S. Ward Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Marquis, Dr. and Mrs. Morris Fishbein, Charles W. Bidwell, Carleton L. Elmes, Robert J. Dunham and his bride of a few weeks, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Colnon. Mrs. O. Nelson Tevander and her daughter, Mrs. John G. Holman, will stop there on their way north from Palm Beach, Fla.

Homestead at Hot Springs Welcoming Guests Again.

The Homestead at Virginia Hot Springs is welcoming guests for its 176th season now that the Japanese diplomats, who were sheltered there at the request of the government, have departed. Mrs. Paul Rowan has joined Mrs. Ambrogio Cassinerio at the cottage the latter and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Doering, have taken there.

The former Betty Smith, who has spent many happy holidays at the resort, and her husband, Gardner Brown, have returned for a spring vacation and plenty of tennis at the Homestead. The Robert L. Scotts also have gone to the Hot Springs for a visit.

Another name to be added to the 1942 debut list is that of Miss Mary Lois Everitt, a student at Mount Vernon seminary. Her mother, Mrs. George B. Everitt of Winnetka, tentatively has planned a summer tea for her at home.

Norwegians in Chicago are looking forward with especial interest to a talk Crown Prince Olav of Norway will give at 8 o'clock next Friday night in Orchestra hall. Thru the Looking Glass

The ancient Greeks, with their open sandals and barefoot dances, took care to keep their feet just as beautiful and lovely as possible. Their sculptures of women bear out the statement, for each foot depicted is as graceful and perfect as the rest of the figure. We're afraid they'd get an awful shock if they ever caught a glimpse of some of the pedal extremities of today! We take good care of hands, grooming them to perfection, and forget that we have feet at all. The word "pedicure" just never occurs to many of us, but it nevertheless is a good word and an essential part of beauty care.

With summer coming on, we'll be baring our tootsies on the beach and in revealing sandals, and right now is a good time to start getting them in presentable condition. The pedicure is best done right after the bath. The cuticle around the nails is softened and may easily be pushed back and trimmed to leave the nails clearly and neatly defined. Nail trimming calls for judicious work, for the shape of the toes can be harmed and much discomfort will ensue if it is not properly done. Don't cut the toenails too short or in fancy ovals, since they help to keep the toes in shape and resist the pressure from shoes. Naturally, they must be short enough not to be hard on stockings.

Polish on the toenails may sound silly to many, but it must be admitted that it does enhance their appearance. Apply it over the entire nail to give a longer look. If the bright red used on the fingernails seems a little too blatant for the toes, a softer, pinker tone may be selected, but we're of the opinion that matching shades on finger and toes look better.

Stock and His Symphony Say Farewell Again

Concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Frederick Stock, conductor. Presented in Orchestra hall, Thursday evening, April 23, 1942. The program:

Passacaglia and Fugue, C minor....Bach
[Orchestrated by Frederick Stock.]
Symphony No. 1, C minor........Brahms
Symphonic Waltz, opus 8............Stock
Siegfried's Death Music and Brunnhilde's Immolation, from "Twilight of the Gods"..........Wagner
Encores:
Love-Death, from "Tristan and Isolde"........................Wagner
"The Stars and Stripes Forever"..Sousa

BY CECIL SMITH.

The last Thursday evening concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra was a supercharged, dynamic occasion. It would have been enough if Frederick Stock had rested his case upon the magnificence of his orchestra's playing. But his bag of tricks was crammed full, and the evening was enlivened in a most heart-warming manner by surprises, by tokens of honor, farewell, and well-wishing, and by a most wonderful rapport between those on the stage and the members of the audience.

At the close of the intermission period Dr. Stock brought forward Edward L. Ryerson, president of the Orchestral association, who presented a silver plate to Franz Esser, the little violinist who joined the orchestra in its second season. The recognition of his completion of 50 years of continuous service happened to fall on his 74th birthday, and he was applauded heartily and long.

A little later, after the orchestra had played his own "Symphonic Waltz" with great zest, Dr. Stock bade his listeners his usual winsome and witty seasonal farewell, complimenting them on the fact that they have applauded even more than usual this year, but confessing whimsically that there is "still room for improvement."

The most exhilarating surprise of all came at the end of the concert. The "Love-Death" from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde" had already been played as an encore, and every one was getting up to leave when Dr. Stock abruptly swung the orchestra into the spirited opening measures of "The Stars and Stripes Forever." In a spontaneous outburst of patriotic feeling, the members of the audience whistled, sang, and kept time visibly and audibly. At the end, the evening's earlier ovations faded to nothing in the cheering of the crowd.

In its purely musical aspects the concert opened, as always, with "The Star Spangled Banner." With admirable taste and imagination, the timely and appropriate words of the third stanza were printed in the program, and the audience sang these with a will, instead of those of the more familiar, tho perhaps less immediately meaningful, first stanza.

The splendor of the orchestra thruout the majestic works by Bach, Brahms, and Wagner was memorable. The tonal ensemble of the orchestra possesses a round mellowness and a complete fusion which is unrivaled. Under Dr. Stock's essentially modest and straightforward direction the Chicago Symphony orchestra has been enabled to remain the only major American orchestra untouched by prima donna exhibitionism.

There was no escaping its preeminence last evening. Other orchestras may sometimes be crisper, lusher, and more sensuous in their manner of playing. But none is more honest or more complete than our own.

When Is a Shamrock?

The authorities at the Field museum feel that St. Patrick's day is far enough in the past to bring up the question: "When is a shamrock not a shamrock?" and "What is a shamrock anyway?" without provoking too heated a controversy.

That there is a considerable variance of thought as to what plant is the true shamrock has been learned by J. Francis Macbride, curator of the herbarium at the museum. [Mr. Macbride, incidentally, is a Caledonian Macbride, not a Hibernian McBride, so he is neutral.]

About half the Irishmen regard the wood sorrel, or Oxalis acetosella, as the real McCoy in shamrocks. The other half is just as vociferous in favor of the white clover or Trifolium repens. Another smaller school of thought claims that the rightful emblem of Eire is another clover, called Trifolium minus. Still another group is positive that the true shamrock is the black medic whose more esoteric designation is Medicago lupulina, and there are some adherents of half a dozen other plants, among them even the watercress!

By the Way.

Impressions from a preview of the Chicago Flower show, adjacent to the Morton arboretum: The almost unbearable beauty of the flower carpeted grass, the purling brooks, the clear trill of birds singing, the miles of shaded woodland paths, members of the Garden Club of Illinois already digging their plots in preparation for the show, starting May 14. . . . A sign of the times, a bicycle rack, in front of an Evanston shop, above it a bright red sign inviting the bicycle trade to "park here." . . . Flaxen haired Anna Neagle, in town for a day, on her way to Hollywood after seven months in England, where she portrayed the life of Amy Johnson Mollison, famous aviatrix who lost her life last year in a plane crash over England.

The American Way.

Three midshipmen in the naval reserve, soon to receive their commissions as ensigns, were given added assurance of the inherent generosity of their fellow men one evening this week as they stood talking on Dearborn street. A man watched them for a few moments, walked into a nearby theater, and came back with tickets to the evening performance, rushing off before they could thank him. After the show they went to a loop restaurant for supper, and when one of them went up to pay the check he was told that three women who'd just left had taken care of that little matter.

Bomb and Bull Story.

Mildred Barber of the department of architecture at the University of Illinois, submits this brain teaser:

Facts given: A bull is grazing in a field. A plane drops a bomb, bull looks up, bomb falls into bull's mouth, bull swallows bomb.

Problem: Find one word that completely describes the situation.

To continue the problem, assume that the bomb explodes after having been swallowed by the bull.

Problem: Find another word that now completely describes the situation.

Memorial Service Held for Jewish Service Men

Jewish soldiers, sailors, marines, and airmen who lost their lives at Pearl Harbor and in the Philippines were memorialized last night in a special service in the Hotel Sherman under auspices of the Chicago division of the American-Jewish congress. Rabbi Emanuel Green of Aurora conducted the service. He was assisted by Hadassah Linderman, who sang the traditional memorial chants. Following the service Mrs. Archibald Silverman of Providence, R. I., spoke on "South America: Nazi Playground."

Preview Given of Flower Show Site in Country

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The thousands of men and women who every year have counted a visit or visits to the Garden Club of Illinois flower show at the Navy pier as a good substitute for a week-end in the country will be even more invigorated and delighted by this year's show, for it really is going to be in the country. A trip yesterday to Thornhill farm in Lisle, where the 16th annual show will be held on May 14, 15, 16, and 17, made every one of the preview visitors feel as if she had enjoyed a vacation, and there was nothing of the actual show to be seen except four Lombard Garden club members in overalls working on a bit of land beside a brook and the skeletons of some of the booths that will house the commercial exhibits.

However, there was all the glorious countryside there, with the pale green of early spring, the fragrance and beauty of flowering shrubs, and the carpet of spring beauties that invited one to discard shoes and stockings and be a child again. All this and more will be there when the show is given, for there will be as many exhibitors as there ever were at Navy pier and, in addition, the famed Morton arboretum is adjacent to the estate.

Instead of providing artificial backgrounds, the garden club exhibitors will have such backgrounds as nature has developed, aided by talented landscape gardeners. Thornhill farm was the home of the late Joy Morton, who founded and endowed the arboretum, and the show will be held on the estate grounds lining the main road from the entrance gates to the house atop a hill.

Mr. Morton was the father of Sterling Morton and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy. The latter is a member of the executive committee of the Illinois Garden club, and she and her brother are giving the estate for the show. It was a coincidence, but a happy one, that the opening date of the show is the birthday of the first Mrs. Joy Morton, the mother of Sterling and Jean Morton Cudahy.

"Keep them growing and keep on showing" is the motto of the flower show committee, Mrs. O. W. Dynes, general chairman for the 12th year, said yesterday. Every member of the club has a war garden and is working privately to promote such gardens, but the flower show will not be a war project. It will be the first outdoor major flower show in this country and will rival the Chelsea flower show of England, which, if we remember correctly, was held last summer, as usual, and had the largest attendance in its history.

Among those working on arrangements with Mrs. Dynes and Mrs. Cudahy are Mrs. Raymond Knotts, president of the club; Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker, Mrs. George Plamondon, Mrs. Mark Cresap, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Mrs. J. Cameron Aspley, Mrs. L. T. Warren, Mrs. John T. Pirie, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. W. L. Karcher, Mrs. George M. Kendall, Mrs. M. Johnson Fuller, Mrs. Howard Countryman, Mrs. J. Wilson McAllister, and Mrs. G. McStay Jackson.

Good Morning!

Walt Disney never conceived anything more quaintly, tenderly, uproariously amusing than a kitchen sequence in "Woman of the Year."

In the scene referred to, Career Woman Tess Harding is brought at last to her figurative knees by the realization that she's been a bum wife, and makes a new start by attempting to get breakfast for the husband who has quietly brushed her off. . . .

She's never done such a thing before, and toaster, waffle iron, and coffee percolator seem to come alive as devils, determined to thwart her. . . . In the face of this hideous perversity of the inanimate, Tess is as completely inadequate as W. C. Fields. . . . Her struggles are valiant, her subjugation complete, and her final despairing cry—"Make them STOP"—an utterance that will probably go down as one of the notable entreaties in screen history because of its incredible laugh—and tear!—inspiring qualities.

"Woman of the Year" drags a bit in places but, due to the superb performances of its stars, manages even so to keep your interest alert.

The story is really very simple: The tale of a brilliant newspaper woman with her head in the clouds of her own popularity and her feet mostly walking on air, who marries a very smart but down to earth sports reporter. . . .

Tess and Sam have worked on the same paper for some time, unacquainted except by "by line," and, in their respective columns, have carried on a feud which results at last in their being summoned to the managing editor's office and told to lay off each other. . . . They follow the boss' advice to make up—and go farther than that. . . . They fall in love and marry. . . .

The Craigs now have a home [in Tess' apartment] which is no home at all, due to the outside interests of Mrs. Craig. . . .

A small Greek refugee whom she brings home, surrounds with toys, and then leaves to complete loneliness, proves the straw which breaks wedlock's back. . . . The marriage of Tess' diplomat father—widowed for years—to her aunt is the event which sutures it together again. . . . Learn further whys and wherefores from the picture. . . .

I'd never realized that Miss Hepburn was such a vamp. . . . She could get any man going two ways from Sunday—and DOES her Sam.

Supporting players and direction are tops.

See you tomorrow.

Immunization of Children Is a Necessity

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

As a recent article stated, the Child Health day proclamation issued by the President was the opening gun in a campaign to have all children in the United States immunized against smallpox and diphtheria before May 1, Child Health day.

It is well to mention here that physicians in some areas also will advise immunization of children against whooping cough, tetanus, or typhoid.

But it is diphtheria and smallpox that this year's drive is aimed to eradicate. This is especially important, because many of us have grown to feel that these diseases are extinct. As a matter of fact, they are not, and it is only eternal vigilance and "fight" that keep them down.

Neglect of these life saving preventive measures takes a heavy toll in illness and death of children, Dr. Martha M. Eliot, associate chief of the children's bureau, declared.

The campaign is particularly well timed as far as diphtheria is concerned, medical experts connected with the children's bureau pointed out. Diphtheria epidemics are at their height from November to January. A child's immunity to the disease is established only after an interval of four to six months from the time of immunization. Children immunized before May 1 should therefore be safe at the period of greatest hazard next autumn. The best age for immunization against diphtheria is the end of the child's first year, between the 9th and the 12th month.

Universal immunization against diphtheria this spring could have the happy result of banishing the usual autumn outbreaks of the disease, Dr. Eliot declared. "It is important at all times to give children maximum protection against disease and death," she said, "but in this wartime period it becomes more urgent than ever."

If your children have not been immunized, consult your state or local health department, your child's school, your physician, or hospital clinic.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., April 23.—You remember Ed Wynn's old gag about the violinist who made faces while he played, and explained, "Can I help it if I don't like music?" Well, there's a switch on that one out here now—a producer who likes movies.

This fellow is a pushover for pictures, good and bad. He loves 'em. He has been going to them every night for a dozen years. He writes about them, too, and never unkindly. He has never been cynical, like some of the rest of us smarties, and has never said What Was Wrong with This Picture. So Hollywood, in a fine fit of whimsy, has made him a producer.

He is Joe Turp himself—Damon Runyon—and there is quite a stir over him at the RKO plant. For one thing, his movie, "The Big Street," is the first big production the lot has had in many weeks. Some time ago RKO found itself ahead of its production schedule, so it just put a rocker on the front porch and sat down. "The Big Street" has caused a great commotion because there are live actors in the joint once more. Very live actors like Lucille Ball, Henry Fonda, and Sam Levene, plus the toughest looking set of extras you ever saw.

Another cause for a big stir is the mere sight of Runyon up in the morning. His picture started shooting Monday and he was there bright and early, but confused, because it might have been the first time he got up before noon in 40 years. When he woke up the sun was coming in the wrong window and he asked Mrs. Runyon, "How did it get over there?"

Damon is no dissipated night owl, tho. He's just an owl. He began as a newspaper man on the Pueblo, Colo., Chieftain in 1900, and with the exception of a hitch on the Denver Post has worked on morning newspapers all his life. Forty years of sleeping habits are hard to break. His first morning on the lot the crew presented him with a pair of sun glasses.

I caught Runyon on his set yesterday morning. He had a faraway look in his eye; it was partly an antemeridian daze, partly nostalgic, for the set was the street front of Lindy's restaurant on Broadway and there were cops, cabs, and muggs around in great confusion. The lettering on the show window said "Mindy's," as it does in the Runyon stories. Damon wanted to come right out and call it Lindy's, and Leo Lindy himself had promised to sign all manner of legal releases and provide a barrel of pickled herring a week, but the RKO law staff was afraid.

I asked Damon if being a producer had spoiled his liking for movies. It hadn't. He and his wife still go every night, and after they get home he writes a column and maybe works until dawn. But being a producer has put him behind in his work. He came out in October, expecting to knock off this picture in a few weeks and go back to New York. But Hollywood doesn't work that way.

They're called utility cabinets, those convenient little chests of drawers that stow away your odds and ends. Put one in the bathroom, another in your clothes closet. One we saw, the other day, that has five drawers and measures 14x13x32 inches is available in a walnut finish or a maple or a blond. Of wood construction, it's priced under $7. It is nicely styled and is a good looking piece of furniture.

His Often the Fault if Man Is Bored by Wife

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I had been going around with a married girl for about a year. When we got into one of our heated arguments we parted. Very soon after our break I met another girl who, after the sixth time out with me, accepted my proposal. In three months we were married. Before we married I told her I still was in love with the other girl. She said she'd make me forget her. However, I don't think I ever loved my wife very much. She's a good wife, but lacks appeal, such as charm, and she isn't very interesting to talk to."

Never mind dwelling on your wife's lack of charm. What have you to offer her? What did you offer her in the beginning on which she was willing to take a chance and give you a better break than we think you deserve? It strikes us that you got much the better deal. It's no bright promise for a wife to be informed another is installed in her mate's heart. She has something you should cherish to take you on with that nasy handicap. But she's gone thru with it and you admit she is a good wife. What have you done as your share? Nothing ,obviously, but sit back and decry her lack of charm and conversational ability.

On that score of charm and conversational talent, you may very well be to blame. Charm in a woman is developed thru appreciation, applause, sympathy. It doesn't sprout from fallow ground. Nor does it thrive without nurturing, feeding.

As for the conversation, a man fully centered in himself never is an inspiring conversationalist. On the contrary, he's pretty darned dull. Better look into this angle, too, while you're at it.

"Miracle Wheel" Cloth

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

This crocheted pattern is an old and still popular motif which may well be included in various really "old" designs. It is a simple motif which, when combined, forms a dozen different designs. It may be used for a tablecloth, luncheon doily, dresser scarf, or anti-macassar sets. Fine ecru cotton is a favorite medium for tablecloths. White is chosen for anti-macassar sets.

For instructions in crocheting the miracle wheel tablecloth, No. 1101, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Rash of Dots Breaks Out in Spring Fabrics

BY REA SEEGER.

The spring crop of white dotted costumes makes the town look like a breakout of measles or summer rash. There isn't a color ever worn that isn't available spattered with various sized white dots from the prim little pin points to the rather startling 50 cent size circles. Dresses in brand new shantung weave cotton or rayons flaunt white dots against copper, dark green, brown, grey, navy, red, and pastels. Piqué, poplin, seersuckers, linens, silks, and the many rayon crêpes also boast the contrast of white dots in smart one-piece and two-piece costumes.

Some of the smartest street outfits are simply cut dresses of white dotted material teamed with jaunty short jackets of emerald green, bright red, canary yellow, lime green and spanking white. And most of these trim little toppers feature short sleeves [business of respecting the restrictions], the collarless neckline and cuffless sleeves.

A new trick for the crowds that "make their own" is to make a dotted straight box coat and wear it over dark dresses. For instance wear a black dotted white coat to contrast a Kelly green or black dress . . . this same stunt can be managed with a beige coat dotted in either black or brown worn with a copper toned dress. In the yardage showings there are countless finds featuring dots in all sizes and in many unusual color combinations. Chiffons, nets, cottons, silks, rayons, shantungs, piqués, organdies, sharkskin, taffetas, and all the airy open meshed materials for warm weather costumes reëmphasize the crisp perennial charm of white dots against dark and high colored background shades.

Women in War Work

By India Moffett

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Miss Cynthia Harris, who made her debut last September, and Miss Nancy Blaine, a debutante of the 1937-'38 season, are engaged in volunteer war work that they term fascinating and that certainly must be exceedingly worth while. They are traveling in the east visiting secondary schools and colleges recruiting boys and girls for the volunteer land corps. Boys must be at least 16 and girls at least 18, and each volunteer must agree to stay on the farm to which he is sent until mid-September, whether he starts work on May 15, June 1, or June 15. It will be on Vermont farms that these young persons will work, for it was decided by those sponsoring the nonprofit organization that it would be wiser to make one thoro performance on a small scale than to spread out too thinly over a larger area.

If the project this summer is successful it will be duplicated elsewhere next summer. According to present plans, the boys and girls will live on the farms and will receive the same wages as soldiers, $21 a month, plus board and lodging. This service with the volunteer land corps is not a substitute for military service, however.

Land corps directors and field assistants and the Vermont supervising committees will have the power to exchange or to dismiss workers. Field assistants to the land corps and county committees of local citizens will supervise the work and living arrangements on the farms. Boys will do heavy work, such as haying and threshing, and girls will be engaged in lighter work, such as vegetable and fruit gardening and canning and milk room duties.

Miss Blaine, daughter of Mrs. Clark Lawrence and granddaughter of Mrs. Emmons Blaine, is a director, some others of whom are Dorothy Thompson, Louis Bromfield, Stuart Chase, and Peter Grimm. Dorothy Canfield Fisher, and Gov. William H. Wills are among the Vermont sponsors. The executive offices out of which Miss Harris, daughter of the Stanley Harrises, and Miss Blaine work, are at 8 West 40th street, New York.

The largest class of Gray Ladies ever held in the Chicago Red Cross chapter was graduated yesterday in the Crystal ballroom at the Blackstone hotel. Red, white, and blue, the colors of the Red Cross, and military uniforms lent an air of authentic patriotism to the ceremonies. The speakers were Mrs. James A. Cathcart, chairman of the volunteer Special Services of the Chicago chapter; Miss Gladys Cable, chairman of the Gray Lady hospital and recreation corps, and James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter, who presented the certificates.

Dr. Ralph W. Tyler, chairman of the department of education of the University of Chicago, said last night that war hysteria might cause us to echo the totalitarian plea for more children without considering the importance of bearing and rearing children with the best hereditary potentialities. He spoke at a dinner meeting of the midwest regional Conference of Planned Parenthood which is being held in Chicago thru today.

At the noon meeting in the Palmer House Mrs. Stanley G. Harris, president of the Illinois League for Planned Parenthood, said that because in the United States human life is not valued cheaply and our children become increasingly the most priceless possession of our country, all American parents must have the opportunity, the knowledge, and the medical service to make possible intelligent family planning. Eight states are participating in the conference.

Chi Omega Luncheon to Be Held Tomorrow

The Chi Omega Chicago and Suburban association will assemble at the Medinah club tomorrow for its annual spring luncheon. Miss Eleanor Lewis, librarian at Northwestern university, is to give a talk on "Fireside Conferences." The president, Mrs. Jean Sanford, will introduce Chi Omega members prominently identified with war work. Mrs. Douglas Beeler of Oak Park heads the luncheon committee.

TEAMSTERS VOTE TO OUST FARRELL, CZAR OF UNIONS

Accept Pact for Election and Accounting.

Cincinnati, O., April 23 [Special].—Members of 11 local unions of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters voted unanimously tonight in favor of an agreement under which Thomas J. [Brocky] Farrell loses the autocratic rule he has maintained over the whole teamster setup in this city for 24 years.

The agreement, acceptable to the international union and to litigant members who had brought a law suit to eliminate Farrell, provides that an accounting of funds will be made at once and an election held to choose officers [Farrell has appointed men to the posts arbitrarily]. The IBT forces in Cincinnati number 15,000.

Laugh at "Friend of Labor."

The agreement was presented to the meeting by Attorneys Sol Goodman and J. W. Brown, who represented the men in the litigation before Judge Stanley Struble. There were bursts of laughter when Farrell was referred to in the agreement as a "true friend of labor."

"There hasn't been an election held in all the 24 years Farrell has been boss," Goodman asserted. "Now we'll have one, and within the next two months. Further, altho Farrell will remain temporarily a trustee of the union, he is to resign as soon as the election is held.

"Third, we are really going to have an accounting of funds.

"Until officers are regularly elected a committee drawn from the unions will be the governing body of the Teamsters' Central Labor council."

Millions Not Accounted For.

The suit filed in court by the rebel members charged that Farrell and his appointed aids had collected between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000, and that the petitioners had no notion how it was spent.

One section of the agreement ratified tonight provides that the litigant members withdraw charges that Farrell had converted funds to his own use or had committed any illegal acts.

Despite all the heat that has been poured on Farrell recently, Daniel J. Tobin, president of the international, who has just been chosen as President Roosevelt's adviser in labor matters, has continued to show a disposition to be lenient with him. Under the agreement O. K.'d by the international's attorneys, Farrell is to be continued as international organizer even after the elections are held. The salary for that post is $15,000 a year.

EXECUTE KILLER; SCIENCE FILMS HIS DYING HEART

Jefferson City, Mo., April 24 [Friday]—(AP).—Ernest Tyler, 36 years old, a Negro murderer, was executed in Missouri's lethal gas chamber early today while scientists recorded on film the faltering beats of his dying heart.

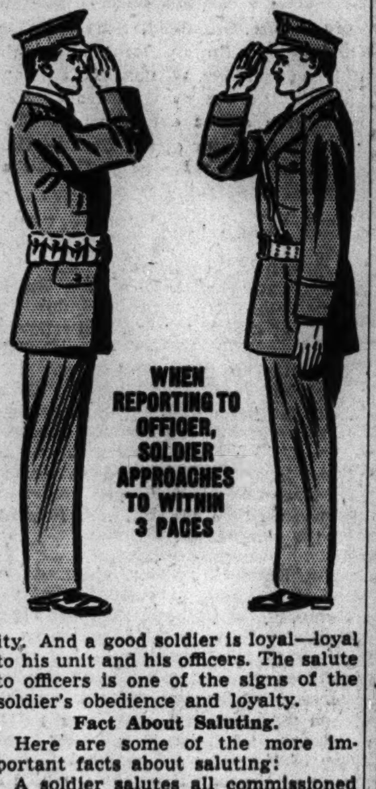
Dr. William Kountz of Washington university—one of the inventors of the new recording device—said Tyler's heart took three minutes to race thru the changes of a normal man in the last 30 years of life. He hopes to have found the exact point where heart muscles begin to fail. He explained:

"The ultimate purpose of this study is to take a normal heart which is changing and failing and establish the point at which the instrument begins to record muscle weakness. With this machine we hope to detect heart disease in its earliest stages while it can still be combatted."

Dr. Kountz said details of his study will be presented before the American Heart association June 5 at Atlantic City.

MacArthur GUARDS

BY BOB BECKER



WHEN REPORTING TO OFFICER, SOLDIER APPROACHES TO WITHIN 3 PACES

Military courtesy, a subject of importance to every member of the MacArthur Guards who expects to go into the army, is one of the more visible signs of discipline and a smart soldier. Courtesy is a desirable attribute in civilian life, but in the army it is absolutely indispensable and there is a definite and well established procedure of military courtesy that a good soldier must master.

Saluting is a form of military courtesy. The way the custom of saluting originated is something every soldier and civilian should know because the act had its beginning among free men. In the old days European free men used to greet each other by lifting their right hands to show that they had no weapons and were meeting as friends, whereas those who were held in bondage went past free men without making any sign.

Originated by Free Men.

Thus the salute became a sign by which soldiers [free men] greeted and recognized each other. In time civilians took up this custom with some modifications with the result that we have the custom of hat tipping, etc. Soldiers, however, have kept the idea of a hand salute and it is the accepted military greeting.

Forming the foundation of military courtesy are these duties and traits of the good soldier: A soldier must be obedient and execute the lawful orders of his officers. He never questions an order. His duty is to carry out an order to the best of his ability. And a good soldier is loyal—loyal to his unit and his officers. The salute to officers is one of the signs of the soldier's obedience and loyalty.

Fact About Saluting.

Here are some of the more important facts about saluting:

A soldier salutes all commissioned officers of the regular army, navy, marines, officers' reserve corps, and the National Guard. If a soldier should be running and meets an officer he comes to a walk before saluting that officer. The saluting distance is six paces from an officer who is approaching the soldier. But when a soldier is reporting to an officer he approaches the latter to about three paces [except at ceremonies].

The courtesy of the military salute also extends to all commissioned officers of foreign armies, a military requirement of importance to soldiers now on duty in Ireland, England, Australia, and other foreign countries where officers of our allies may be encountered.

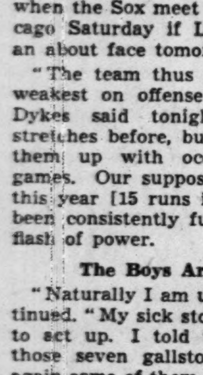
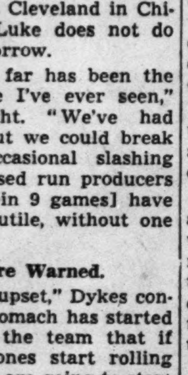
BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., April 23.—Altho he is more than a trifle disgusted with the feeble batting of the White Sox in the nine games played to date, Manager Jimmy Dykes said tonight that he contemplated only one change in the batting order when they meet the Tigers in the second and final game of the current series tomorrow. That will be Tom Turner catching instead of Mike Tresh.



Tom Turner.



Leo Wells.

Dykes intimated, however, following today's 9 to 0 plastering at the hands of the Tigers, that Luke Appling, now slugging .088 in the clean-up spot, would be benched in favor of young Leo Wells from St., Paul when the Sox meet Cleveland in Chicago Saturday if Luke does not do an about face tomorrow.

"The team thus far has been the weakest on offense I've ever seen," Dykes said tonight. "We've had stretches before, but we could break them up with occasional slashing games. Our supposed run producers this year [15 runs in 9 games] have been consistently futile, without one flash of power.

The Boys Are Warned.

"Naturally I am upset," Dykes continued. "My sick stomach has started to act up. I told the team that if those seven gallstones start rolling again some of them are going to start rolling too. I mean it."

Lyons' second 1942 flaunting of Sunday as his day of labor this afternoon turned out to be a sorrowful experience. Ted, who beat the Indians last Friday on a production of one Sox run, didn't get even one counter in his enterprise against the Tigers today and, even if he had, it would have done him and the Sox little good, for the old master was victim of one of the most severe thumpings in memory. The Tiger rookie, Hal White, up from Buffalo, gained his second shutout of the year.

The Tigers opened their sinful 16 hit attack on Lyons with a homer by Ned Harris with one out in the second inning and didn't go hitless in any round thereafter until the eighth.

The Sox hitters turned in another of their devastating batting orgies with a total of five hits, a double and a single by Don Kolloway, hero of yesterday's Sox victory over the Tigers in Chicago; a double and a single by Myril Hoag, and a single by Wally Moses. Kolloway's double opened the game.

A Single with Bases Full.

After Harris' homer had supplied the eventual winning run in the second, a single by Pinky Higgins, a double by Eric McNair, an intentional pass to Birdie Tebbetts, and a single by Jimmy Bloodworth with the bases loaded, netted two more runs for the inning.

There were three more runs on four more hits in the third. Doc Cramer doubled and Barney McCosky singled. Then there was a passed ball, followed by a single by Rudy York. Harry Sketchley's two base error, and the second of McNair's three hits.

After Lyons had struck out York and Harris in the fifth, Higgins and McNair put together a double and a single for a run. The last two were added in the seventh on singles by McCosky, York, and Higgins with the aid of a wild pitch.

DRAKE RELAYS TO OPEN TODAY; 57 TEAMS ENTERED

Nine Finals Are Listed on Opening Program.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., April 23.—The track and field stars of the central and southwestern states marched on this city today to open the 33d annual relay carnival tomorrow afternoon at Drake university. Altho the number of contestants is not as large as in other years, the number of universities and colleges equals the 1941 record total of 57.

Officials this afternoon completed preparations, and it is apparent that the caliber of the games tomorrow and Saturday will reach a new high. Entries include practically all of the midwestern track stars. The south and southwest will have more athletes in the games than ever before. The Big Six and Missouri Valley conferences are represented 100 per cent and nine of the Western conference squads, led by Ohio State, indoor champion, will be here. Michigan State, Marquette, and Notre Dame lead the midwestern contingent of the independents.

Randolph Wins Again.

Today's ceremonial start, the bellboys relay, was held at noon in Locust street. And for a fourth year the boys from the Randolph hotel, each running one block with a suitcase, whipped the bellhops from the other hostelries.

The complete entry list includes 24 universities, 33 colleges, 40 high schools, 12 junior high schools, and 34 elementary schools.

Final events tomorrow afternoon are the sprint medley relay for universities, sprint medley and half mile relays for colleges, the university distance medley relay, the half mile and one mile relays for Iowa colleges, the two mile run, the discus throw and the broad jump—nine in all.

Hurdles Field Is Classy.

Preliminaries also will be held in the javelin throw, high hurdles, 100 yard dash, shot put, and in several of the shorter relays. These include the 480 yard shuttle high hurdle race in which nine teams entered. Kansas agreed to drop out so that two heats of four teams each will be run to qualify four for the championship Saturday.

The field in the 120 yard high hurdles is a good example of the balance in this year's Drake meet. This group includes Bob Wright, Ohio State's hurdle champion; Charley Hlad of Michigan Normal, who whipped the national champion, Fred Wolcott, in an indoor race in New York this winter; Roy Bucek of Texas Aggies, Bob Saunders of Miami [O.] university, Bill Dillon of Notre Dame, and Rex Cummins of Rice.

Many Records Set in '41.

It is doubtful if there will be such a wholesale rearrangement of records as a year ago, since many of the marks already have been advanced beyond reach of the average performer. Last year four university relay records were established, three college relay marks were bettered, two college relay records were tied, and Al Blozis, giant weight man from Georgetown university, set a meet record of 161 feet 5 inches in the discus throw.

With the exception of the high jump record, Jack Torrance's shotput mark is the oldest in the Drake book. An exception should be made, perhaps, in the 100 yard dash since the record of :09.5 seconds first was made by Roland Locke of Nebraska in 1926. It was tied by Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette in 1932 and by Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 1935.

Farmer Entered in 100.

Stars in the 100 yard dash include Lee Farmer, of Iowa, Big Ten indoor sprint champion; Howard Millen of Marquette, and Orville Matthews of Oklahoma. Farmer is also entered in the broad jump as are Dal Dupree, Ohio State, and Ralph Tate, Oklahoma Aggies.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

A WASHINGTON columnist prefaces a recent offering with the query, "What's going to stop the Yanks?" . . . That's an easy one, pal—the last out in the world series. . . . Dr. Eddie Anderson of Iowa and Clark Shaughnessy of Maryland will co-star as football instructors at the Iowa High School Athletic association's annual clinic in August. . . . The basketball faculty will include Rollie Williams, the Hawkeye chief, and Eddie Hickey of Creighton. . . . Detroit fans are moaning because the Tigers passed up a chance to obtain Outfielder Felix Mackiewicz [try that name on your box score], who now belongs to the Athletics and looks like a comer. . . . President William Howard Taft instituted the custom of throwing out the first ball of a new season in 1910. . . . The Dodgers were shut out only four times last summer and three of the masterpieces were turned in by southpaws. . . . This news is passed along to rival National league managers for what it is worth. . . . Warren Wright, master of Calumet farm, whose horses earned $475,091 in 1941, is only the fifth owner to top $400,000 in annual earnings. . . . Manager Bucky Harris speaks: "No rookie's ability can be judged until he has been in the major leagues at least a year." . . . Charley [Babe] Adams of the Pirates pitched 21 innings against the Giants on July 7, 1914, without walking a man, and Carl Hubbell hurled the Giants to an 18 inning 1 to 0 triumph over the Cardinals, also without issuing a ticket. . . . Walter Hagen will celebrate his 50th birthday anniversary in December, thereby becoming eligible for competition in the PGA's annual seniors' tournament. . . . Need we add that the choice was unanimous? . . . Les MacMitchell, the nation's leading middle distance runner on the basis of indoor winter meets, has a classroom average of 90 at New York university. . . . Forged mutuel tickets, one of the race tracks' chief headaches, totaled only $1,000 at the New York courses last year. . . . Stewart Finlayson Jr., who went to the University of Missouri unheralded from Akron, O., to follow in the footsteps of his dad, a star pitcher there in the late teens, is the nine's No. 2 moundsman, altho only a sophomore. . . . Lou Boudreau modestly picks his Indians as a possible bet for fourth place. . . . For the first time since he returned to Detroit in 1933, Manager Del Baker deserted the third base coaching line for the bench on opening day.

Two Epitaphs for Unknown Soldiers.

[French.]

Land of little faith and fortune,
Look gravely on this soldier's head,
His is the everlasting life;
His is the freedom of the dead.
His were the hours of blood and battle,
His were the toil, the sweat, and strife—
Yours are the years of futile grieving,
Yours the tears to shed.

[American.]

Land of hope, incarnate land,
Look fondly on this soldier's brow,
His was the unquestioning faith,
For him the noble heads will bow.
Ours is the way beyond this sacred cross,
The consummation of his solemn vow—
Ours the incredible burden, loss,
His the victory now.

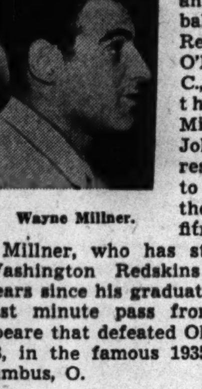
Name Millner to Notre Dame Football Staff

Notre Dame, Ind., April 23 [Special].—Wayne V. Millner, Notre Dame left end in 1933, 1934, and 1935, today was named an assistant football coach by the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the university. Millner replaces John Druze, who resigned Tuesday to participate in the navy physical fitness program.



Wayne Millner.

Millner, who has starred for the Washington Redskins for the six years since his graduation, caught the last minute pass from Bill Shakespeare that defeated Ohio State, 18 to 13, in the famous 1935 game in Columbus, O.

As early as his sophomore year Millner distinguished himself by blocking and recovering an Army punt for the first of two touchdowns that defeated the Cadets, 13 to 12. The Irish had lost five games and were trailing, 12 to 0, going into the last quarter.

Playing next to Millner in that game was Ed [Moose] Krause, left tackle and basketball center who was recently hired also as an assistant to Frank Leahy, former Irish tackle and now head football coach.

Millner was second to Krause in total minutes played in 1933 and led the squad over the three year period from 1933 to 1935, inclusive. He never took time out for an injury in three years of college ball or six years of professional ball. He is from Salem, Mass. He is married and has two daughters, Lillian, 6 years old, and Roberta, 2.

SHUT OUT SCORES IN BLUE GRASS; BLESS ME SECOND

Devil Diver Withdrawn After Cutting Leg.

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—Shut Out, one of the Greentree stable's Kentucky Derby candidates, carried on stanchly today in the $10,000 Blue Grass stakes after his highly regarded running mate, Devil Diver, had been withdrawn because of an injury sustained last night when he cut his left hind leg in his stall.

Shut Out came home three and a half lengths ahead of Edward R. Bradley's Bless Me in this gallop of a mile and an eighth, considered one of the more important tests for the Derby which will be run a week from Saturday at Churchill Downs. Hal Price Headley's Equinox, the only other starter, finished a little more than three lengths behind Bless Me. With today's program the Keeneland meeting ended.

Gives Well Judged Ride.

Eddie Arcaro delivered another well judged ride in landing the Greentree colt at the winning post. Sterling Young drove Bless Me into a two length lead around the first turn, but Arcaro moved up Shut Out to the leader's haunches on the backstretch. On the far turn he drove the Greentree colt up on the outside until they were head an dhead. Shut Out then forged gradually ahead and by the time they reached midstretch Bless Me was beaten.

From the standpoint of time the race was unimpressive. The winner completed the mile and an eighth in 1:52 2-5, three seconds slower than the track record.

Bless Me Withdrawn.

Following the withdrawal of Devil Diver, Bless Me was bet down to 3 to 5 odds, while Shut Out closed at 7 to 5. The winner paid $4.80, no place or show tickets being sold.

Trainer Jimmy Smith announced tonight that Bless Me would not be a starter in the Derby as a result of his unimpressive showing today. Smith said the form shown by the sole 1942 Derby eligible from the Bradley stable was "not what we had hoped for."

Save Him for Derby.

The injury to Devil Diver caused the Greentree stable to revise its plans for preparing the colt for the Derby.

"It's a cut which in itself may not be serious," Maj. Louis A. Beard, director of the Whitney thorobred interests, said, "but if he were raced today there would be danger of knocking him out of the Derby entirely. We're disappointed that we couldn't send him into this stake. We're going to try to work him either tomorrow or Saturday. If he works and comes out of it well, you may be sure that he's going in the Derby.

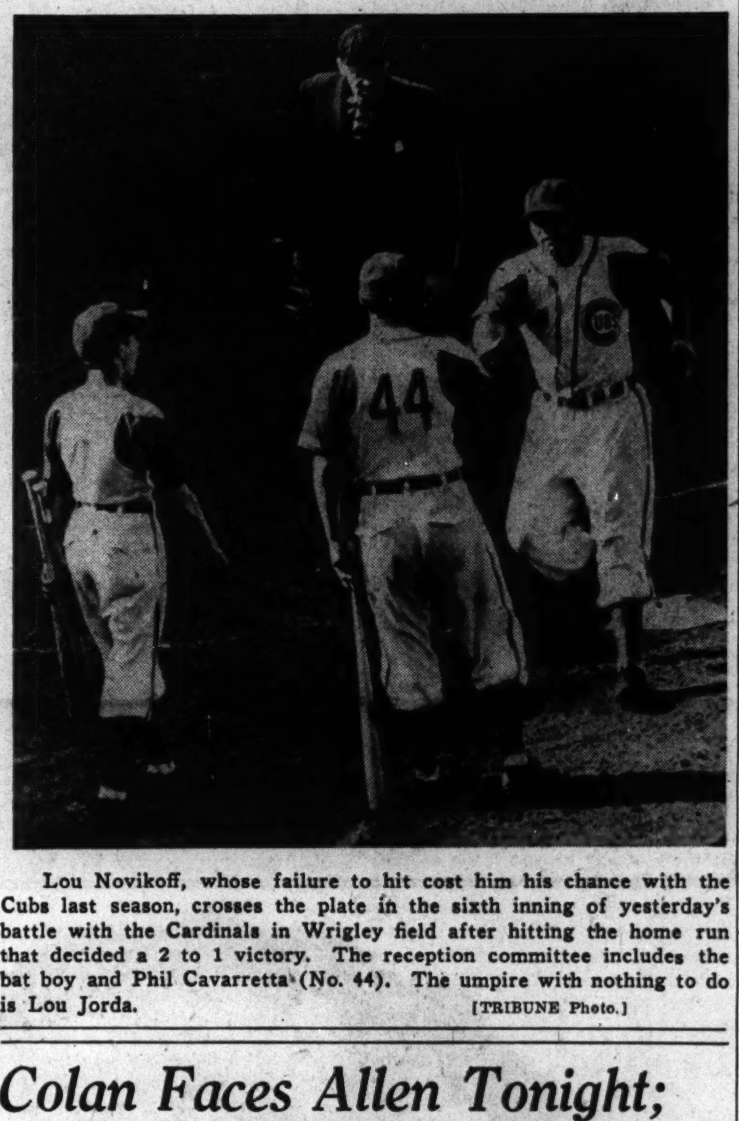
Maybe He Can Have Steady Work Now



Lou Novikoff, whose failure to hit cost him his chance with the Cubs last season, crosses the plate in the sixth inning of yesterday's battle with the Cardinals in Wrigley field after hitting the home run that decided a 2 to 1 victory. The reception committee includes the bat boy and Phil Cavarretta (No. 44). The umpire with nothing to do is Lou Jorda. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Colan Faces Allen Tonight; Seeks 7th Chicago Victory

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Altus Allen will attempt to deal Johnny Colan his first Chicago defeat tonight in the Coliseum, 15th street and Wabash avenue. Colan, who has won six previous appearances in this city, all by knockouts, last month attained recognition as a leading light heavyweight contender by virtue of a two round conquest of Jimmy Webb. Whether Johnny can do as well against Allen is problematical, since he will be meeting a heavyweight for the first time.

The contract reads 10 rounds, but most observers doubt the match will go the distance. As a matter of fact, Colan will be disappointed if he doesn't end it in two rounds.

Allen Is No Easy Mark.

Altho the squat, New York boxer is picked to win, Allen is no setup. In 21 professional fights since winning the 1939 International Golden Gloves heavyweight championship, Altus has scored 16 victories, half of them by knockouts.

The only doubtful quantity insofar as the 5 foot 11½ inch Allen is concerned is his ability to absorb a punch. That's because of two knockouts he has suffered during his three year campaign. Colan isn't immune to punishment either. He has been stopped three times, once each in 1939, 1940, and 1941.

As a result there is a possibility Allen may register an upset, especially since the 21 year old Chicagoan has an advantage in height, weight, reach, strength, and possibly hitting power.

Colan will rely on an accurate left hook to bring him victory, while Altus will depend on a dynamite right.

Four contests will back up the main bout—two at eight rounds and two at six. Charley Burley, Pittsburgh welterweight, will appear in Chicago for the first time in an eight round semi-windup against Joe Sutka, middleweight trial horse of Wyandotte, Mich. Burley will enter the ring in possession of 10 straight triumphs.

Pirrone Comes Back.

Joey Pirrone, Cleveland lightweight, who knocked out Charley Eschman in the first round of a recent local appearance, will return for an eight round preliminary against Maxie Shapiro, capable New York fighter. Shapiro will be making his local debut. In his last four starts he has conquered Frankie [Chief Crazy Horse] Martin, Nick Castiglione, and Sal Bartolo [twice].

Expect Quick Ending

Altus Allen.

The six round events will bring together Lou Woods, Detroit 150 pounder, and Mike Sopko of Indiana Harbor, and Isaiah Wells, Catholic Youth organization middleweight, and Billy White of Baltimore.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Lou Novikoff, the Mad Russian, isn't mad any more—at least not for a few days. Mr. Lou hit a homer yesterday, his first of the season, and the blow was so devastating that it laid out the free wheeling St. Louis Cardinals before 7,553 customers in Wrigley field. His monumental clout, which nestled into the left field terrace, fastened down a 2 to 1 victory for the Cubs, and at the same time enabled Bill Lee to take another step forward on the comeback trail.

Novikoff's contribution, which he held in reserve until the start of the sixth when the affair was in a 1 to 1 state, wasn't a sample of what the Cubs did with their bats at other stages. There were only six other hits, all singles off Max [Lefty] Lanier, who deserted after seven innings of toil, but out of the half dozen the victors got production on three of them. They all came in the fifth with the honors being shared by Chico Hernandez, Lee himself, and Len Merullo.

Lee's Second Victory.

Lee, who now owns two victories, which is one-quarter of his total of 1941 successes, crowded most of his troubles for the day into the early innings. By the end of the fifth he had had to contend with five hits, four passes and two errors, an assortment that the Cards could cook only into a third inning run. After the fifth, Lee gave up only two singles, both in the seventh with two out, and a pass in the ninth, but these merely became the last additions to a total of one dozen enemy members left stranded on the bases.

The meeting proved another unhappy occasion for Bill Nicholson, who was one of two Cubs unable to beg, borrow or steal transportation to first base. Bill fanned in the first inning after Merullo had walked. He grounded out later with two on, did it again in the fifth with two on and concluded with another strikeout incident in the seventh. That makes four strikeouts in two days for the gentleman.

Lee's Good to Pinch.

The Cards started to get fresh with Lee's offerings in the very first inning but he headed 'em off. Stan Musial the rookie sensation who didn't hit a ball beyond the infield, survived on a fumble by Merullo and, with two out, Enos Slaughter dumped a single in short center. This ceased to be annoying when Lou Stringer picked up Ray Sanders' grounder. The Cards tried it again in the second. Jim Brown led off with a two bagger down the left field line, but had traveled only as far as third by the time two outs were recorded. Then Lanier walked and Stringer threw out Frankie Crespi.

Speed, which is the first essential for a job with the Cards, enabled them to beat a path to the plate in the third. After Musial had popped out, Terry Moore slipped a single past Merullo. Moore hung around first until Slaughter had flied out and then stole second. Sanders walked and Brown followed with a single to right, Moore scoring and Sanders taking third. Remembering what Moore had done, Brown also tried to steal second, but this time Hernandez's throwing arm functioned properly.

O'Dea Wastes a Hit.

Lee refused to weaken on a single with which Ken O'Dea opened the fourth and also stood his ground in a slightly tormenting fifth, in which Hack's error on Moore and a pass to Slaughter occurred with only one out. Sanders tapped to Lee, and Brown, in view of his two hits, was passed purposely. Dahlgren ended this by spearing O'Dea's grounder and tossing to Lee, who covered the bag. Then, by way of celebration over the escape, Hernandez, Lee, and Merullo singled in the home fifth to tie it up. And in the next inning Novikoff launched his homer on Lanier's first pitch.

REDS NIP PIRATES WITH FIVE RUNS IN SEVENTH, 5-3

Cincinnati Held to 1 Hit by Lanning for Six Innings.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 23 (AP).—Breaking loose with their biggest rally of the season, a five run surge in the seventh, the Cincinnati Reds today beat Pittsburgh, 5 to 3, and gave Johnny Vander Meer his first victory of the year.

Johnny Lanning permitted the Reds one hit, a single by Bert Haas in the first, until the seventh, which Haas opened with a double. Lanning walked two and permitted two more singles before Nick Strincevich came in and yielded singles by Eddie Joost and Joe Abreu before retiring the side. Score:

GIANTS OVERCOME PHILS, 5-2.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23 (AP).—For the second straight day the New York Giants made their hits in timely clusters today and beat the Phils, 5 to 2. John Podgajny and Ike Pearson held New York to nine hits, two less than the Phils made off Hal Schumacher and Ace Adams.

Schumacher was making his first appearance since being suspended five days for a row with Umpire Ziggy Sears at Boston last week and received credit for the triumph, altho Adams was called upon for his sixth relief appearance in nine games after the Phils scored twice in the seventh.

DODGERS TRIP BRAVES, 9-5.

Boston, Mass., April 23 (AP).—Casey Stengel shook up his lineup today, but the strategy proved futile as the Boston Braves dropped a 9 to 5 decision to the Brooklyn Dodgers for the champions' fifth straight victory and Boston's sixth successive defeat. The game was a ragged affair with each team getting 10 hits and Boston making three errors.

The Dodgers practically sewed up the game with five runs in the fifth, two of them on Pete Reiser's first homer of the year.

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—The Washington Senators connected for hits when they were needed today to beat Boston, 10 to 5, and drop the Red Sox out of a first place tie with the New York Yankees.

Dutch Leonard.

Each team made 13 hits. Rookie Stan Spence led the Washington attack with a triple, a double, and a single. Bruce Campbell connected for three singles. Jim Tabor paced the Boston attack with three singles and a triple in four attempts. His three bagger sparked a ninth inning rally that produced three runs.

Dutch Leonard, Washington's leading hurler, suffered a broken ankle when he stumbled after being tagged out going into first in the second inning. Manager Bucky Harris of the Senators said Leonard would be out of the game for an indefinite period. Score:

OUTSIDE OF FIVE CRIPPLES, CUBS ARE JUST DANDY

Clyde McCullough will be out about 10 days as the result of the thumb injury suffered in Wednesday's game in Pittsburgh. Bob Scheffing hasn't recovered from the elbow bruise received from Wally Moses' bat during the spring series with the Sox. Charley Gilbert's charley horse remains balky; Bob Sturgeon has a bum ankle, and Vern Olsen can't pitch because of the two fingers cracked by a line drive in an exhibition game in Los Angeles. Outside of this the Cubs are in excellent health.

Altho his other young Cub pitchers encountered bad luck in their starts, Manager Jim Wilson will try again today with Johnny [Lefty] Schmitz for the final of the series with the Cards. Schmitz stopped the Cardinals in the last four innings of the season's opener, hence the assignment. Howard Pollet will be Schmitz's opponent.

The Cubs, after this afternoon's ladies' day exhibition, will hit the trail again—this time to Cincinnati for a three game set. They'll be back in Wrigley field Tuesday to meet Boston, the first of the eastern teams.

Ezequiel Padilla, Mexico's foreign minister, now on a tour of the United States, will attend this afternoon's game.

The Cubs are attempting to determine, by postcard canvass of the fans, whether they should play twilight and night games and change the starting times of their afternoon contests. The cards now being mailed carry seven questions, among them: Can you get away for an afternoon game, now and then? If so, what is the best day? What do you consider the most convenient time for a Cub game—2 o'clock, 3 o'clock, 4 o'clock, or 5? If the Cubs played twilight baseball, what time should games start—6 o'clock, or 7?

WHITE SOX SEND SMITH AGAINST TIGERS IN FINAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., April 23.—The Sox and Tigers will wind up their five game, two city series tomorrow. Eddie Smith, defeated, 1 to 0, with two out in the ninth in Cleveland last Saturday, will seek better luck tomorrow. He will be opposed to Al Benton, also eager for improved fortune. Al has lost two in this infant season.

If Don Kolloway hadn't fallen on his face after opening today's game with a safe drive to right center he would have reached third, gaining the honor of being the first White Sox to sock anything bigger than a double in the nine games this season. The sprawl, however, enabled Don to ring up his fifth double of the season.

Harry Sketchley's two base error on Rudy York's single in the Tigers' third inning today was the first miscue chalked against a Sox player this season, excepting Luke Appling, who previously had been charged with three, two of which, he avers, were wicked injustices on the part of official scorers.

A Signature THAT STANDS FOR THE STRICTEST WHISKEY STANDARD IN THE WORLD

THE MAN whose handwriting appears today on every bottle of Old Taylor is generally known as "the father of bottled in bond whiskey."

It was he who led the crusade to have the strictest whiskey standard in the world written into law—a standard which nothing less than 100 proof straight whiskey can meet.

And since the day this came about, no other kind of whiskey has ever been made in the Old Taylor distillery.

Such whiskey is costlier to make. There's no short-cut to age or excellence. These can be obtained only by art and skill and the passage of time, investment in barrels and bonded warehouses.

But we believe the result is worth its cost to us and to you. For it is the finest bottled in bond whiskey which the late Col. E. H. Taylor Jr. knew how to make—or which we can make today.

Try it and you will see how fine that really means.

GOLF PLEDGES SUPPORT TO HALE AMERICA TOURNEY

Ridgemoor Event to Aid Navy Relief, USO.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Chicago's golfing family yesterday pledged itself as one in support of the Hale America National Open tournament, to be played June 18, 19, 20, and 21 at the Ridgemoor Country club. The Hale America event is the year's No. 1 patriotic fairway show and after yesterday's first general meeting of all local organizations in the La Salle hotel it was evident that every group will coöperate with the three co-sponsors of the tourney—the Chicago District Golf association, the United States Golf association, and the Professional Golfers' Association of America.

Explain Relief Work.

The net proceeds of the Hale America will be divided equally between the Navy Relief society and the United Service organizations. Rawleigh Warner, local chairman of the Navy society, and Jeffrey R. Short, Chicago chairman of the USO, told the gathering of golf officials of the work their organizations are doing for men in the armed forces and their families, and expressed their appreciation of the combined efforts of the CDGA, USCA, and PGA in conducting the Hale America.

The Hale America is truly a Chicago event, CDGA President Thomas G. McMahon of Skokie brought out. The incumbent president of the USGA is George W. Blossom Jr. of Onwentsia, a Chicagoan. Mr. Blossom was among the speakers yesterday and urged the joint coöperation of all associations on the basis not only of a golf event but also of the game's biggest contribution to the war effort.

Ridgemoor Is Ready.

Among others who pledged their efforts for the successful conduct of the tournament were Mrs. F. A. Bunte of Evanston, president of the Women's Western Golf association; Mrs. G. M. Mellor of Elmhurst, president, the Chicago Women's District Golf association; Cameron Eddy of Glen View, representing the Western Golf association, and Alex Cunningham of North Shore, president of the Illinois section of the PGA. President Frank Le Row of Ridgemoor and a number of his fellow officials indicated that the well conditioned and easily accessible northwest side course is ready to tee off on the job of making the Hale America the biggest golf tournament of this or any other year.

Joe Roseman, managing director of the Pickwick Golf club, advises this department that the course is in exceptional shape and open for play. Altho the rumor is being circulated that Pickwick has been taken over by the government, club officials have not been informed of any such action to date.

Jerry Glynn, popular Knollwood professional, reports that he has just completed his annual spring training session with four of golf's outstanding women players. They are Lucille Robinson Mann of Omaha, Neb., Women's Western Amateur champion; Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., runnerup for the 1941 crown; Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia., and Iva May Pitcher of Mexico, Mo. Jerry state that the four will take part in all of the leading women's tournaments this year, as well as in a number of war relief matches.

NOTRE DAME RUN IN EIGHTH BEATS PURDUE, 4 TO 3

Notre Dame, Ind., April 23 [Special].—Notre Dame defeated Purdue, 4 to 3, today behind the six hit pitching of Hal Smullen, sophomore right hander. Smullen issued only one walk and struck out 11. Notre Dame filled the bases with none out in the eighth, but after a double play had erased two runners, Ed Misselhorn issued an intentional pass to Capt. Bernie Crimmins. He then walked Smullen to force in Jack Tallet with the winning run.

Tallett continued his hitting rampage altho two of today's three safeties in four trips were somewhat tainted. His five game total is 14 hits in 21 appearances for a .667 average. Smullen hit safely twice in three trips. Catcher Walt Smith got two singles in three trips for Purdue, and Shortstop Bill Burghardt knocked in two runs. Score:

Notre Dame	101	000	11*—4	9	0

MAROONS TO OPEN TENNIS SCHEDULE WITH IOWA TODAY

The University of Chicago's Maroons will open their drive to regain the Big Ten tennis title this afternoon, meeting Iowa's team on the Midway courts at 2:30 in the first meet of the season for both.

Cal Sawyier, Chicago's No. 1 player, will meet Capt. Earl Crain of the Hawks in the feature single match. Sawyier and his mates are favored to win. Last year Chicago beat Iowa, 8 to 1, and tied for second with Northwestern in the Western conference standings, while Iowa was seventh.

Iowa hopes rest largely on Karl Ryerson and Louis Wurl, in addition to Crain. The Maroon lineup will be Sawyier, Walter Kemetick, Bill Self, Bob Lifton, Walter Michel, and Howard Husum.

Tho the matches today will not count in determining the conference champion, the Maroons will be preparing a team of title caliber for the Big Ten meet.

ANGLERS READY TO WHIP MICHIGAN TROUT STREAMS

Season Opens at Midnight Tonight.

BY BOB BECKER.

Michigan, one of the real "fishin' states" judging by the number of licenses sold each year, opens its trout season at midnight tonight. When dawn breaks tomorrow scores of streams in both the lower and upper peninsulas will be whipped by thousands of anglers who look forward to the opening of the trout season as a 5 year old waits for Christmas.

Indications are, however, that the number of fishermen on the trout streams will be smaller than usual because of the transportation problem and the necessity of men in defense plants sticking to their jobs. Nevertheless every Michigan trouter who can get away will be trying to fool the big ones on opening day.

Stream Conditions Normal.

Officials of the Michigan department of conservation report that stream conditions are about normal for this time of the year. Some trout streams, including the famous Au Sable and the Manistee, are a little high now, and fishermen heading for the area around the towns of Grayling and Roscommon probably will leave these two better known waters in favor of smaller streams such as the Robinson and the Beaver. In general, however, most of the Michigan streams are at normal spring water levels.

Anglers who want to be sure of going in where there is a good supply of trout may be interested in the report received this week from C. O. Bradfield of the Conservation club of Paw Paw, Mich. Bradfield states that more than 10,000 legal sized trout have been planted in the Paw Paw river and other trout streams in and around that town and that more will be added after the season opens Saturday. Paw Paw is about 125 miles from Chicago, 16 miles southwest of Kalamazoo.

There's Weight Limit.

The Michigan game laws permit the taking of a total of 15 trout of the brook, brown, and rainbow varieties, but a new provision in this year's game law specifies a weight limit of "10 pounds and one fish." In other words the total creel must weigh not more than 10 pounds after one fish has been removed. The minimum size is 7 inches.

N. U. BASEBALL, TENNIS TEAMS TO SEE ACTION TODAY

Nine Plays Iowa, Net Squad Host to Wisconsin.

A busy week-end for Northwestern university teams will get under way today as the baseball and tennis squads swing into action against Big Ten opponents.

The baseball team, holder of first place in the conference race, will meet Iowa at Northwestern field at 3:30 o'clock in the first of a two game series. The second game will be played on the same field tomorrow. Also on today's program is a tennis match with Wisconsin in Evanston. The Wildcat racquet wielders will resume play again tomorrow against Iowa.

Northwestern golf team, undefeated in matches with Indiana and Purdue, will seek to extend its winning streak at the expense of Chicago at the Olympia Fields Country club tomorrow. Coach Ted Payseur has fashioned one of the strongest teams to represent the Wildcats in several years. The squad is built around the veterans, Capt. Burt Abrahams and Dick Haskell, and Sophomores Manuel De La Tore, John Stoltz, and Ed Greer.

The Northwestern tennis team will be at full strength for its opening match with Wisconsin today as a result of the recovery of Bobby Jake, sophomore star, who sustained a back injury in basketball. Jake, who holds the Wisconsin State singles title, will team with Capt. Seymour Greenberg, conference singles champion, in forming what is expected to be the strongest doubles team in the Big Ten.

Iowa's veteran baseball team, which is tied for second place in the Big Ten standings with three victories and one defeat, will offer a test for the Wildcats. Four members of the Hawkeye nine are hitting over .300. Dick Hein and Bob Faber, veteran pitchers who have won four out of five games, are expected to share the hurling duties in the two game series.

Champaign, Ill., April 23 [Special].—Chicago and Illinois, which started playing each other in baseball in 1893, will meet in their 106th game tomorrow in the opener of a two game series.

Coach Wallie Roettger of Illinois has moved Paul Milosevich from catcher to the outfield and installed Bill Brewer at backstop. Andy Phillip, who lost his starting position in the outfield when his hitting slumped, is working as a pitcher.

Chuck Campbell is expected to be tomorrow's pitcher for the Illini and Chuck Schiller will follow Saturday, with Bob Roth next in line.

HAMILTON DUE TODAY FOR START OF TURF SEASON

William A. Hamilton, who is serving his second term as steward representing the Illinois racing board at Illinois tracks, will arrive from Keeneland to report at Sportsman's Park, where the racing season will open tomorrow. Hamilton will serve in the steward's stand with Robert McAuliffe, who will begin his first year as a steward, and James J. Grady.

Racing Secretary Patrick C. Galliger is expected to have a well balanced program scheduled for the opening day. The feature is the $1,500 Inaugural handicap at seven furlongs.

_but give me an Up-to-Date WHITE OWL

Any White Owl smoker can say: "My cigar is up-to-date—recently improved!" But can you say as much for your present brand?

What changes recent years have brought in the art of cigar making! Lower tariffs . . . scientific tobacco research . . . better manufacturing methods . . . have enabled us to raise White Owl standards year by year. Result . . . the up-to-date White Owl is richer—milder—better. Domestic tobaccos are richly blended with finest Havana leaf.

ANOTHER POINT! White Owl, like many other cigars, once cost more. But today hundreds of thousands of men are joining the ranks of White Owl smokers—not because it once sold for more—but because it tastes better than ever now. Try one today.

We don't plan to race him again before that time."

Two major tests remain on the schedule before the running of the Derby. These are the Wood memorial Saturday at Jamaica and the Derby trial Tuesday at Churchill Downs.

The Wood, which is a gallop of a mile and a sixteenth, is expected to indicate just how good a horse William Woodward's Apache is.

Saturday's race should settle this question pretty well because Apache is expected to encounter both Colchis and Requested. Colchis, a non-Derby eligible, won the Chesapeake Stakes last Saturday and Requested scored in the Flamingo, Hialeah's most important event for 3 year olds.

Sun Again's Last Chance.

The Derby trial at a mile on Tuesday will bring out the Valdina farm's dangerous pair, Hollywood and Valdina Orphan. It also will give Alsab another chance to show whether he is approaching good form after his early season failures. Calumet farm's Sun Again also is expected to go, and it will be his last chance to earn a starting assignment in the Derby.

The racing colony will move from Lexington to Louisville tomorrow for the opening of the Derby meeting at Churchill Downs on Saturday.

PIT TERRIER PAYS $102; YOU SHOULD HAVE HAD HIM

Pit Terrier, THE TRIBUNE handicapper's first choice in the eighth race at Narragansett Park, paid $102 for $2 to win yesterday. The 6 year old brown horse recently was shipped to Narragansett from Jamaica where he had been running in $1,200 races. In his last workout he went three-eighths in 39 seconds. Dropped into the $1,000 class yesterday he romped to victory, paying $23,70 to place, and $12 to show.

Pit Terrier was one of four first choices in THE TRIBUNE selections to win at Narragansett. The others were La Scala in the first race, Castleridge in the second, and Nice Enough in the third. LaScala paid $7.20, $4.30, and $3. Castleridge's prices were $12.70, $6, and $2.70. The daily double paid $48.50. Nice Enough returned $11.80, $5.80, and $3.70.

Meet Stan Musial, Ex-Pitcher, Who Became Cardinal Slugger

The Cardinals are always coming up with some guy fresh out of nowhere and their offering as the probable surprise package of 1942 is Stanley Frank Musial, currently engaged in a series with the Cubs. So far the Polish lad, who has to spend much of his time explaining that his name is a natural and that there never was a ski attached to it, has made good on all predictions. And he made good so quickly that in one season—1941—he blasted his way from the Western association to the International league to the big time stuff.

The 21 year old lad is a sample of what can be done in the way of shifting a man from one position to another and it also is an indication of the long reach of the Cardinals' farm system. He was just a pitcher on a zinc works team in Donora, Pa., his home town, but a Cardinal attaché gave him a recommendation, his talents were quickly diagnosed and what do the Cards have now? Well, they have a youngster who last season hit .379 in the Western association, .326 in the International and .426 with the Cardinals in 12 games at the close of the race.

Cards Have Scouts All Over.

Musial was pitching at the Donora zinc works in 1936 and 1937 and when not thus engaged was attending to his high school lessons. Across the river was the Monesson Pennsylvania State league club, the business manager of which was Andrew French, who had Cardinal connections. Musial made his start from there. The Cardinals had him working at Williamson, W. Va., in 1938 and 1939. He reported each year after school was out. He did enough to earn promotion to the Daytona Beach farm of Florida State league for 1940.

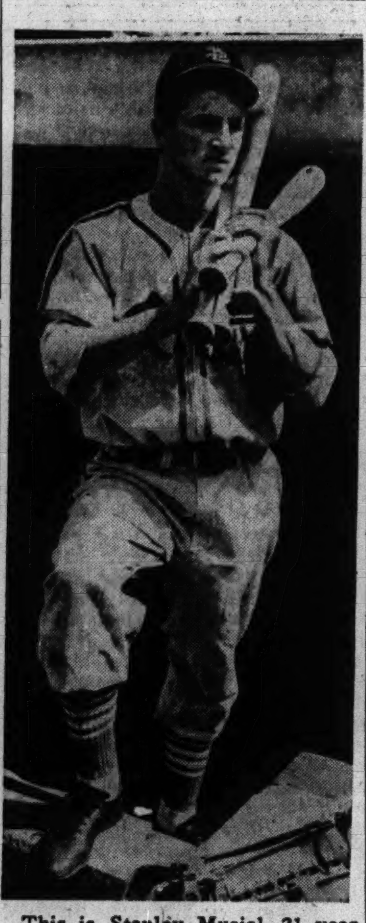
Now the Cardinals are firm believers in operating on a thrifty basis, so players are not plentiful. When Musial wasn't pitching, he played the outfield, and his latter duties consisted of 113 games chasing flies. Before the season ended he tumbled on his shoulder, pursuing a fly ball, and when he tried his arm in the 1941 spring camp he discovered he'd lost his stuff. But the astute Branch Rickey, the overseer of the Cards' system, knew the answer. Musial would become an outfielder. He did and how—thus far.

What a Slugger!

The first move for Musial was to Springfield, Mo. His .379 in 87 games there indicated he was too good for such company. There arrived a ticket for Rochester, N. Y., and in a little while that's where he landed. After 54 games with Rochester, he reached the Cardinals last fall and what he did there was enough to load his shoulders with opinions from the so-called experts that he was destined to be the Pete Reiser of 1942.

IRVING VAUGHAN.

New Cardinal Star



This is Stanley Musial, 21 year old outfielder whom the Cardinals are calling the Pete Reiser of 1942. He was a pitcher in the minors until an injured arm forced him into the outfield.

It was the first victory for Evanston and the fourth straight loss for Highland Park. Each club used three hurlers, Lomoro, Antonetti, and Veitch working for the losers, and Strahs, Leyes, and Olson for Evanston. TWO RELAY MEETS.

The fifth annual Wheaton relays tomorrow in Wheaton—morning and afternoon—have attracted 450 contestants from 20 schools. Evanston is the defending champion in class A, while Wheaton holds the class B title. Calumet, Schurz, Senn, and Von Steuben of the City league will compete in class A. Others entered in this division are Evanston, Joliet, La Grange, Maine, New Trier, Proviso, York, and Oak Park, which probably will win.

In class B eight schools will send their teams into action. They are West Aurora, Downers Grove, Glenbard, Highland Park, Hinsdale, Mooseheart, Riverside, and Wheaton.

Any profit derived from the 10th annual Palatine relays tomorrow in Palatine will be turned over to the Red Cross. Since 1938 the meet has been divided into two classes, and Naperville has taken the class A title each year, while the class B reign of Geneva was halted last season when Palatine finished on top.

The meet is limited to schools with an enrollment of less than 700. Class A schools entered are Argo, Arlington Heights, Batavia, Belvidere, Crystal Lake, Lake Forest, Leyden of Franklin Park, Libertyville, Naperville, Niles of Skokie, and St. Charles. Class B for schools with less than 325 students will consist of Antioch, Barrington, Bensenville, Geneva, Harvard, Hononegah of Rockton, Marengo, Palatine, Oswego, West Chicago, and Woodstock.

NORTH TEXAS IS BACK FOR MORE PENN TROPHIES

Transplanted New York Sprinter Leads Cowboys.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23 (AP).—Each year come April a bunch of kids down in the cow country pile into whatever cars are handy and lay a 2,500 mile course for Philadelphia. And this year, in spite of rubber rationing and threatened gasoline shortage, the running robots of North Texas State Teachers college are back.

Indeed, it has been suggested that should they be caught short after tomorrow and Saturday's Penn relays, they easily could make it home on shank's mare, altho handicapped somewhat by the bagfuls of trophies which they usually collect.

They've a New Yorker.

There are no rideout twins on this year's small squad which made it from Denton, Tex., in 72 hours. But there is one transplanted New Yorker who brought along an arm rest to put him at least on even terms in sprint starts with those of the 3,000 athletes whom he'll meet on the straightaways.

Ed Rogers has been clocked in 9.8 seconds for 100 yards without the rest and his coach believes the device may help on the start.

"After that," said Coach William Cooper conservatively, "he's on his own and that guy Rogers has speed to burn."

A football injury left Rogers' left arm considerably crooked and he's been taking off with only one hand to provide leverage. Cooper borrowed the rest from Marshall Farmer, Texas Tech's great one armed hurdler who used it to advantage.

May Run in Five Events.

Rogers is this year's workhorse, ticketed for four relay events—the mile, 880 yards, distance, and medley—and probably will go to the post in the 100 yard dash. He was a member of the half mile relay team which ran the East's best in 1941.

Today's premeet audience watched New York university's Leslie MacMitchell and Campbell Kane of Indiana and their teammates work out, but MacMitchell's and Kane's coach paid little heed. They're sure of what their boys are capable of—so they moseyed around to where North Texas warmed up.

To a Girl in College.

Some day the fleeting flock of years you spend
In school will be remembered like a dream
Of pleasant scenes you wish would never end.
The petty problems which today may seem
To rob the hours of happiness you seek
Will in the after-years come to your mind
As incidents whereof you love to speak;
Perhaps the only comfort you can find.
Then store those cool mementos in your heart,
And wind each one upon the golden spool
Of memory; for after you depart
And live a little while away from school
You will look back and sometimes even yearn,
If only for a moment, to return.

CHICAGO FINDS NEW WAR JOB IN WOOD WORKING

Vast Industry Will Be Centered Here.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Lawrence H. Whiting.

Chicago is to become the mobilization center of the nation's wood working industry, including the giant furniture industry, in a program now being completed for its conversion to a war footing. On completion of the program Chicago will hold a position in the wood working industry analogous to that of Detroit in the conversion of the automobile industry to arms.

This new assignment for the city in the nation's war effort was disclosed yesterday by Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the American Furniture mart. He explained that Chicago will mobilize the resources of the wood working industry, providing the "know how" in the production of the many articles made of wood which will be required for the war.

Furniture Stock Large.

Whiting said, however, that the war program will not interfere, at least for the time being, with the operation of the furniture business, which will continue to take care of the nation's needs for home furnishings. Large inventories of home furnishings have been built which will enable stores to meet the public demand for a long time ahead.

Because of the dominant part Chicago will have in wood working, its resources are to be utilized in the building of the new wood plastics freight carrying airplanes expected to be assembled in a Douglas Aircraft corporation plant under consideration for a Chicago site.

There are about 3,500 wood working manufacturers in the United States, Whiting said, of which more than 90 are located in the Chicago area. Included is the Kroehler Manufacturing company, one of the world's largest furniture manufacturers, which recently announced that it would manufacture moulded plywood parts for the Doak Aircraft company, Hermosa Beach, Cal.

Plan Information Booths.

With the expectancy that eventually the furniture and home furnishings makers would have to get directly into war work, officials of the American Furniture Mart began a program which would coördinate their activities and make it easier to swing directly into war jobs.

To help the wood work manufacturers booths are being set up in the first floor of the mart which will be staffed by representatives of the war production board, army, navy, maritime commission, coast guard, treasury procurement division, national housing agency, and other governmental agencies, Whiting said.

The armed forces and governmental departments require huge amounts of things made of wood, including wheel barrows, tool chests, gun stocks, life rafts, cots, lockers, and hundreds of other items. Wood is stepping into the gap to ease the demands made on steel, Whiting explained.

No Shortage of Wood.

"Fortunately wood is not a critical material and there is no shortage of it," Whiting said. "Even in the manufactureof furniture, only about 5 per cent of the materials used consist of critical items."

Whiting said that altho there is plenty of transportation available for the movement of furniture, there might possibly come a time during peak war movements when shipments of furniture might be delayed or curtailed because of its bulky nature. That is one reason for making preparations now.

During the national defense market, the designation for the customary spring market which opens at the Furniture Mart on Monday, the nation's war requirements will be stressed. There will be samples and information on the many war items which may be made in the plants of the home furnishers. Several government executives will explain war problems at meetings to be held during the market week which will close May 2.

Thousands of men skilled in the wood working industry in the Chicago area will unite their efforts with those of the big wood working centers of the south, Grand Rapids, and other localities in aiding the victory program, Whiting said.

Leather Firm Gets Loan in War Guarantee Plan

New York, April 23 [Special].—The first loan in the second federal reserve district under the government's new regulation "insuring" war production grants was made in Newark today when the Fidelity Union Trust company advanced $39,600 to the Travins Leather Products corporation of Roselle to finance needs for 50,000 aeronautical kits.

Small Decline in Chicago Area Employment Shown

Employment in the Chicago area declined 0.9 per cent, while pay rolls increased 0.4 per cent between mid-February and mid-March, Francis B. Murphy, director of the Illinois department of labor, reported yesterday. Downstate employment gained 0.3 per cent and pay rolls were 1.4 per cent higher.

Offer Farmers Help of High School Pupils

More than 4,000 farmers in Cook county will be contacted by mail within the next few days to determine what their labor needs will be this summer during harvest time. Farmers desiring help will be offered the labor of high school boys and girls who have voluntarily enlisted to work on farms.

The labor questionnaires will be sent by C. A. Hughes, county farm agent, to all farmers in the county. In the meantime, high schools are being contacted by the Illinois State Employment service to enlist the services of boys and girls who are willing to give up their summer vacations to help out on the farm.

Revive World War Group.

"We are reviving the Boy Workers' Reserve that proved so valuable to farmers during the last World War," Hughes said. "In each school contacted so far from 50 to 100 boys have indicated their willingness to do farm work."

When the labor survey has been completed, Hughes said, the farmers will be sent boys or girls according to the type of help they need. The boys and girls registering for farm work will be asked what experience they have had, what type of work they can do, and where they would be able to work.

Hughes added that the youths will not necessarily be given valuable machinery or animals to handle, and probably will do nothing but manual labor in the fields. The girls, he said, will help with the chickens, work on vegetable farms, or even help out in the farm homes where the wife can work in the fields.

Oppose "Farmerette" Idea.

The majority of farmers are against the "farmerette" idea, Hughes declared, for they know city girls cannot do the heavy work necessary on a farm. They appreciate, however, the willingness of the girls and boys to go to the farms and help where they can, Hughes said.

In other counties thruout the state, labor surveys are being carried out either by the state employment service or county agent. When the surveys are completed the employment service then will register any boy or girl who wants to do farm work.

MOVE TO REDUCE ACCIDENTS AS WAR LABOR AID

The start of a movement organized by a group of corporation executives to curb the depletion of industrial man power thru accidents was announced in New York yesterday by W. A. Irvin, former president of the United States Steel corporation and chairman of the newly formed War Production Fund to Conserve Manpower.

The new organization is affiliated with the National Safety council, which has its headquarters in Chicago. President Roosevelt and Donald M. Nelson, WPB head, commended the undertaking yesterday in communications read at a meeting of safety council trustees in New York City.

The War Production fund followed a proclamation of President Roosevelt asking the safety council to mobilize the nation's volunteer resources against an increasing accident toll that thru deaths and injuries last year deprived industry of an estimated 460 million man days of labor.

INTERLAKE IRON NET MAY FALL, WILLARD WARNS

Earnings of the Interlake Iron corporation, which has its main offices in Chicago, probably will be lower this year than in 1941, Leigh Willard, president, told stockholders at the annual meeting in New York City yesterday. He said the company is operating at capacity, but that taxes and certain other costs are increasing.

Bankruptcy Suit Is Filed Against Jap Ship Line

San Francisco, Cal., April 23 (AP).—A petition asking that Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Japanese shipping line, be thrown into bankruptcy, was filed in Federal court today by three creditors. Before the war NYK operated passenger liners and freighters in the Pacific trade. The creditors charge the company concealed and removed property to the home office in Japan, intending to deprive creditors. The manager of NYK for San Francisco, Yahei Taoka, now is in an internment camp in Montana.

GROUND UNDER SHOPS BUILDING ON WABASH IS SOLD FOR $450,000

The ground under the six story Shops building at 19-21 North Wabash avenue was sold yesterday for a stated consideration of $450,000 to the Shops Realty Trust. By the transaction the Shops Realty Trust merges the fee and the leasehold.

The ground was sold by Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, Judson F. Stone, and the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, administrators for the estate of Miss Mary Virginia McCormick, who died in May, 1941, at the age of 80. She was a daughter of the late Cyrus Hall McCormick Sr., reaper manufacturer.

Title to the property, which fronts 72 feet on Wabash avenue with a depth of 162 feet, was taken by Joseph M. Reich, George S. Lurie, and Sidney J. Wolf, trustees for the Shops trust.

The George S. Lurie company was the broker.

SEEKS U. S. SILVER AT WORLD PRICE FOR INDUSTRIES

Washington, D. C., April 23 [Special].—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today disclosed that the treasury will recommend legislation to make newly mined domestic silver available to industrial users at the world market price just as imported silver is now. He also urged that "this would be a good time to strike all silver legislation off the books."

Morgenthau had been asked whether he had turned over to domestic industrial users the billion ounces of surplus silver whose loan for war use was sanctioned recently. It is to be used as a substitute for copper in the electrical conductors known as "bus bars." He replied that the matter had been delayed by the insistence of Defense Plant corporation—one of Jesse Jones' RFC subsidiaries—that it be assured of indemnification against loss before acting as a medium for distributing the silver.

About 1,200 employés will be transferred within the next four months to five regional offices in Chicago, New York City, New Orleans, Philadelphia, and San Francisco. The remaining 500 employés of the bureau, comprising the executive and policy making staffs, will be transferred to Baltimore, where the bureau already has about 4,600 employés.

Nut Crop Loss in Brazil Hits Paint Industry

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

The failure of virtually the entire Brazilian oiticica nut crop this year is a serious blow to the domestic paint and varnish industry, which has become increasingly dependent on oiticica oil as a drying agent.

Otto Eisenschiml, president of the Scientific Oil Compounding company, Chicago, a distributor and processor of vegetable oils, disclosed yesterday that reports from Brazilian correspondents indicate that no new crop oil is available, altho normally the crushing season should now be at its peak.

"I have been unable to learn the causes of the crop failure, except from unauthenticated reports that drouth and the cyclical occurrence of a lean year in every 10 years has prevented the oiticica trees from bearing fruit," he said.

Oil Controlled by WPB.

The War Production board has recognized the seriousness of the crop failure by subjecting existing oiticica oil stocks in this country to the same controls imposed on tung oil, supplies of which are scarce. Use of the oils is restricted to military orders and essential food conserving products.

Oiticica oil is a sweet smelling liquid which when processed can be used satisfactorily in many applications to replace tung oil, imported principally from China. Like tung oil, processed oiticica forms a hard, lustrous, protective finish required in varnishes. In the war effort, it is being used in paints for ship bottoms, airplanes, and for camouflage purposes.

Eisenschiml estimated that 3,000 tons of oiticica oil are stored in this country from old crops, of which about half is held by his company against contracts now frozen by government order. No supplies of the oil have entered the country this year. Last year's imports amounted to about 20,000 tons compared with only 8,700 tons in 1940.

Predicts "Difficult Times."

Discussing the effect of the oiticica nut crop failure and of other adverse influences, Eisenschiml forecast difficult times ahead for the paint and varnish industry, especially makers of house paints and other lines not considered essential to the war effort.

The wholesale prices in Chicago per pound compare as follows: tung oil, 40 cents; oiticica, 27 cents; dehydrated castor oil, 20 cents; linseed oil, 14 cents, and fish oil, 12 cents. These prices represent a 50 per cent increase in the last year.

Eisenchiml said that substantial tung oil shipments from China are continuing to arrive "because the Chinese have an uncanny way of getting it out."

IRON TO REPLACE BRASS IN BASES OF LAMP BULBS

Bloomfield, N. J., April 23 (AP).—Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company announced today substitute materials to replace vital war metals would be used in millions of Westinghouse lamps in 1942 to maintain the supply of light bulbs for essential civilian needs.

"All civilian lamp bulbs in the 10 watt to 300 watt sizes and most industrial lamps will have iron instead of brass bases this year, altho the change will be unnoticeable to the consumer," said A. E. Snyder, assistant general manager of the company's lamp division. "To prevent corrosion, these bases will be protected with a thin coating of brass."

Union Station Loses Suit to Reduce Its 1936 Taxes

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday overruled an objection by the Chicago Union Station company that its 1936 property tax of $1,728,000 was $250,000 too high. Attorneys for the company argued that the properties were recently valued by the Interstate Commerce commission at only $32,000,000, compared with the 1936 assessment for taxes of $49,059,460. Judge Jarecki held that no fraud in making the assessment was shown and that the court had no power to change the tax.

New York Court Denies Plea to Bank of France

New York, April 23 (AP).—The state Supreme court today denied an application by the Bank of France to vacate an order of attachment on its funds on deposit in the federal reserve bank. The attachment was obtained last year by assignees of the National Bank of Belgium in a suit to recover $228,000,000 entrusted by the Belgian bank to the Bank of France for safekeeping just before the Nazi invasion.

EXPORT CONTROL PLANS TO SAVE SHIP SPACE TOLD

Export control officials are attempting to utilize ocean shipping space with the highest possible efficiency by determining in advance the weight of shipments scheduled for export.

The groundwork for this cargo-space conservation program was described yesterday by George C. Payne, regional manager of the United States department of commerce, before a luncheon of the Chicago Association of Credit Men in the Hotel Sherman.

Payne said exporters must list the gross poundage of shipments for which they request export licenses. The applications also require detailed information about the location of the freight to be shipped, the port of exit, and proximity to this port.

Costs of Food Far Above '41, Still Climbing

With family food bills recording new gains each day wholesale prices yesterday continued upward from the highest levels since the fall of 1928. A survey of retail food costs made by the bureau of labor statistics indicated that food which a year ago could be purchased for $1 cost $1.20 on average as of March 17.

March prices are mentioned most frequently as likely market ceilings in the administration's plans to curb inflation. Average retail prices in Chicago on March 17, compared with average prices in 51 cities as determined in the bureau's latest survey, and the average of prices charged yesterday by two of the largest food chains follow:

The bureau of labor statistics said that by the end of March preliminary reports indicated further advances for flour, canned tomatoes, canned salmon, lard, and sugar.

The bureau found that in Chicago all foods advanced 2.1 per cent between mid-February and mid-March. Cereal and bakery products were up 2 per cent; meats, 6 per cent; fruits and vegetables, 9.9 per cent; beverages, 1.9 per cent; fats and oils, 2.8 per cent, and sugar, 2.9 per cent.

Potatoes Up Most.

Food prices in the last year have risen 19.4 per cent in Chicago, the bureau said. Among the foods recording the sharpest increases at retail are potatoes, up 63.2 per cent; eggs, 35.1 per cent; canned tomatoes, 40 per cent; pork chops, 35.1 per cent; coffee, 30.4 per cent; flour, 24.5 per cent, and bread, 11.5 per cent.

Wholesale prices of hogs, butter and eggs, already at the highest levels in move than a decade for April, recorded new advances yesterday.

RAILROADS LOAD 846,562 CARS AS FREIGHT GROWS

The nation's railroads handled 846,562 carloads of freight during the week ended April 18, or 32,329 more than in the preceding week and 137,769 more than during the corresponding 1941 period, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. All classes of freight showed sizeable increases except less-than-carlot merchandise. The gain was considered more than seasonal.

The association's report classified the loadings as follows:

40,000 Ladies' Garment Workers Get Pay Hike

New York, April 23 (AP).—Forty thousand ladies garment workers were granted an approximate 10 per cent pay increase in a decision announced today by former Mayor James J. Walker, impartial chairman for the industry.

STOCKS DRIVEN TO 9 YEAR LOWS ON DOUBTS OVER INFLATION CURB

Washington Rumors Outweigh Better News from War.

New York, April 23 (AP).—Selling attributed to inflation control fears sent the stock market today into low ground on the average for nine years. Brokers reported a major selling motive was word from Washington indicating the government's forthcoming anti-inflation program would call for sharply increased corporation taxes along with price freezing in many lines of consumer goods. Better news from the war fronts was ignored.

The slide was broad and fairly steep for many issues. Closing losses generally ranged from fractions to more than 2 points. Many new 1942 lows were established.

Tax Prospect Chilling.

Washington reports that one of the measures considered might involve business taxes only a little short of confiscatory levels had a particularly chilling effect on speculative sentiment.

Penetrating last Friday's bottom range the Associated Press 60 stock composite dropped .8 of a point to the lowest since April 28, 1933. It closed at 32.5. Share dealings totaled 429,473 shares, compared with 257,030 yesterday.

Emphasizing the market's one sided character, there were only 83 advances, against 494 declines, while 161 issues closed unchanged.

Favorites Set New Lows.

Among the bellwethers reaching new low territory were American Telephone, United States Steel, Boeing, Douglas, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Anaconda, Kennecott, Eastman Kodak, and Standard Oil [N. J.]. Giving up 1 to 2 or more points were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears-Roebuck, Harvester, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, and Philip Morris.

CHICAGO LIST SAGS.

Price declines were general on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transactions of 21,000 shares, the largest volume in three weeks. Of the 102 issues traded, only 13 advanced while 63 declined and 26 closed unchanged.

BONDS JOIN DECLINE

New York, April 23 (AP).—The bond market absorbed some of the pessimism existing in other financial quarters today, losing fractions to around a point in the main group of domestic corporates.

A few bright spots included substantial gains in some foreign dollar loans, persistent support for a few favored rails and industrials which kept them in the plus column most of the day.

Bonds of some public projects which derive most of their revenues from tolls collected from motorists turned weak on prospects of motor travel curtailment when gasoline rationing becomes more effective.

Trading expanded moderately, reaching $8,651,600, par value, against $7,202,600 on Wednesday.

United States governments gave up small sums on the stock exchange and over the counter coincident with Washington news that the treasury would come into the market in May with new financing proposals.

WHEAT AND BEAN FUTURES SLUMP; ALL GRAINS WEAK

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Liquidating sales of grain futures dragged wheat prices down as much as 1⅛ cents and soy beans down more than 3 cents on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Selling, which started in the bean pit following announcement that the Office of Price Administration had no intention of lifting soy bean and linseed oil ceilings, spread rapidly to other markets.

Wheat closed just fractionally higher than the lows for the day, with net losses of 1⅛ to 1¼ cents a bushel. The bread grain for May delivery finished at $1.20. Corn declined ¾ to 1 cent; oats, ½ cent; rye, ⅞ to 1 cent, and soy beans, 2¼ to 3¼ cents a bushel.

Mill Support Disappears.

Milling support practically disappeared from the wheat pit and outside speculative interest failed to develop. Some brokers said the decline was a natural reaction after the recent upturn when no emphatic buying or selling incentives appeared to sway the markets in one direction or another.

Liquidating and hedging pressure in corn futures offset the effects of the higher hog market, an increase in the corn-hog ratio at Chicago to 17.4 in the week ended April 18 from 17.0 a week earlier, and the expansion of trade in the cash market.

Cash Corn Trade Big.

A boost in the prices the processing companies were offering country shippers and a slash in the prices at which Chicago dealers were offering grain to eastern buyers accounted for a sharp increase cash grain business. The processing companies bought around 125,000 bushels of corn to come to Chicago, while other dealers sold between 185,000 and 200,000 bushels of corn to eastern consumers.

The department of agriculture reported that a number of oil mills have shut down because they lack soy beans to crush. It said there are millions of bushels of beans in storage.

U. S. TOLD HITLER CAUSED BOOM BY BANNING CARTELS

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold told senators today that "when Hitler broke the cartel system" in Germany there was a boom within six months.

Arnold, head of this government's anti-trust prosecutors, quickly added that Hitler used a "type of anti-trust enforcement which is a lot meaner than anything I would advocate."

But the justice department official urged the senate patents committee to press ahead with a revision of patents laws, saying this should reduce chances for monopoly.

Arnold testified that a cartel agreement between the Aluminum Company of America [Alcoa] and Dow Chemical company, another United States concern, and the I. G. Farbenindustrie of Germany created a virtual monopoly restriction of magnesium production here and gave the German firm world domination in this field.

Bolivia Pays Standard Oil $1,729,375 for Holdings

New York, April 23 [Special]. —Bolivia has paid the Standard Oil company [New Jersey] $1,729,375, it was announced today. The amount represents the principal of $1,500,000 with interest at 3 per cent a year from March 13, 1937, and is in payment for all the rights, interest, and properties in Bolivia of Jersey and its subsidiary, the Standard Oil Company of Bolivia, as they existed immediately prior to March 13, 1937.

General Rationing Threatens Nation, Congressmen Warn

Jesse Jones.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—A solemn warning that the American people, sooner or later, face general rationing of nearly all commodities because of the war was sounded in congress today during consideration of legislation to help automobile dealers liquidate their frozen stocks.

Several members of the house banking and currency committee asserted that passage of the measure might set a dangerous precedent obligating the government to use public funds to take care of the many other enterprises which they predicted will be affected by rationing before the end of the hostilities.

Missourian Cites Dangers.

"There will be a vast extension of the field of rationing before long affecting almost every commodity," said Rep. Clyde Williams [D., Mo.]. "What will be the effect of such a bill as this on our national economy? Will it not be a dangerous precedent?"

Chief witness before the committee today was Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones, whose testimony was enlivened by a clash with Rep. Herman P. Kopplemann [D., Conn.]. Angered at slighting references by Koplemann to the aid given small business by the Reconstruction Finance corporation since the start of the war program, Jones lashed back with the charge that the New Englander had tried to get a $60,000 RFC loan for a friend on property costing $8,000.

Approved by Senate Group.

The bill under consideration when the brief verbal encounter took place would require the government, thru the RFC, to purchase or make loans on all new automobiles frozen in the hands of dealers and manufacturers. A somewhat similar bill was approved by the senate banking committee yesterday and it is expected that the house version will be ready for floor consideration early next week.

The automobile rationing program was denounced in congress last week and demands were made that the army and navy take what cars it needs for the war while releasing the rest for immediate sale to the general public. According to the members, thousands of dealers face financial ruin because they cannot dispose of their frozen supplies to meet mounting storage costs, service charges, and other expenses.

According to the testimony before congressional committees, between 525,000 and 600,000 passenger cars were frozen in the hands of dealers and manufacturers, of which approximately 125,000 are in the hands of manufacturers awaiting sale in 1943. Leon Henderson, President Roosevelt's price fixing czar, has announced that automobiles now in the hands of dealers are to be sold under the rationing system before the end of this year.

AMERICAN STEEL FOUNDRIES HIKES NET DESPITE TAX

Drastic Federal Levies for Quarter Reported.

Drastic increases in federal taxes accompanied moderate upturns in earnings of American Steel Foundries during the March quarter and the six months ended March 31, an interim report of the big Chicago castings producer indicated yesterday.

American Steel Foundries announced its net profit for the six months ended March 31 was $2,513,208, equal to $2.12 a share, after provision of $8,438,200 for federal income and excess profits taxes. The indicated net for the corresponding six months a year earlier, on the basis of the company's quarterly reports, was $1,842,614, or $1.55 a share, after provision of $1,098,143 for federal taxes.

Quarter Profit Shows Gain.

Indicated results for the March quarter were a net profit of $1,243,473, equal to $1.05 a share, after providing $4,817,900 for federal taxes, compared with $979,526, or 82 cents a share, in the first quarter last year after provision of $780,588 for federal taxes.

Container Corporation of America, Chicago, announced its profit for the three months ended March 31 was $548,646, equal to 70 cents a share, compared with $368,365, or 47 cents a share, in the first quarter of 1941. Shipments for the period totaled $15,068,000, against $8,071,000 a year before.

First quarter profits of Procter & Gamble company, big Cincinnati manufacturers of soap and other vegetable oil products, dropped to $6,037,308, equal to 92 cents a share, from $7,166,041, or $1.09 a share, a year before. President Richard D. Deupree reported that the company had investments of $3,000,000 in the Philippine Islands, now occupied by Japanese.

Commodities

Hedge selling combined with light demand to force cotton futures down 40 to 60 cents a bale yesterday. Closing prices were at the day's lowest levels. Reports that Secretary Wickard has urged the senate to remove from the farm supply bill the provision to prohibit sale of surplus farm commodities below parity prices also served to restrict buying, traders said. Wool tops were down 1 to 2 cents a pound. Grease wool declined .7 cent a pound. Other commodities were unchanged.

OFFER AMERICAN TOBACCO CO. LOAN OF 100 MILLIONS

20 Year Debentures Are Priced at Par.

New York, April 23 [Special].—A nation-wide underwriting syndicate of 146 members, headed by Morgan Stanley & Co., tomorrow will offer to the public at par 100 million dollars of American Tobacco company 20 year 3 per cent debentures due on April 15, 1962.

One of the largest offerings of industrial bonds in recent years and the first public financing by American Tobacco in 25 years, the offering will be distributed by about 500 dealers thruout the country, in addition to the 146 underwriters.

Pre-Offering Interest Big.

Institutional investors, exclusive of banks, are expected to absorb about 40 per cent of the issue. Based on the pre-offering interest, it was said today, the distribution of the debentures probably will be more a matter of allotment than of selling.

Underwriting commissions will amount to $1,750,000, or 1¾ per cent, leaving to the company receipts of $98,250,000 before estimated expenses of $342,400.

Net proceeds with other funds of the company will be used for the payment of $28,977,000 of its outstanding 2.45 per cent serial debentures and 2 per cent notes, and to the payment of its short term bank loans, which on April 10 aggregated 75 million dollars.

Constitute Most of Debt.

These constitute the entire outstanding funded debt and bank loans of the company, except for $926,900 of noncallable bonds. Cash requirements to effect the payments amount to $104,477,000.

Some of the unsold bonds of the 4½ per cent 5 million dollar issue of Iowa Southern Utilities company, due in 1966, originally offered a few weeks ago, will be reoffered to the public at 96, less three points dealer concession. The bonds originally were offered at par, less 2½ points to dealers.

A block of 153,053 Standard Oil company [New Jersey] shares held by General Aniline and Film corporation, stock control of which was taken over recently by the United States treasury, will be offered by a group of dealers headed by Morgan Stanley.

PENSION PAYMENTS UP.

Pension payments out of the federal old age reserve fund amounted to about $10,300,000 in March, continuing the gradual increase of the last year. February payments were about $9,600,000 and January about $9,300,000.

AIRCRAFT PLANT SITE SOUGHT IN AERIAL SURVEY

Plan Building of Large Cargo Planes.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Six governmental and war department officials headed by Merrill C. Meigs, chief of the aircraft branch of the War Production board, and four executives of the Douglas Aircraft company spent seven hours yesterday making aerial surveys of Chicago and its environs in search of a site for the new Douglas airplane plant that is to build 20 ton cargo carrying airplanes. The surveys began shortly before noon and continued until dusk.

In conformity with war department restrictions, none of the members of the party would discuss any sites under consideration except to say that they were in the general area of Chicago. No decision on the location of the plant has yet been made.

Why Chicago Was Chosen.

Meigs said that the Chicago area had been picked for the new plant because of its protected inland position and because of its huge labor pool. Labor shortages in the Pacific coast air centers and in the Detroit area, he indicated, have virtually ruled them out.

The most important members of the site surveying party arrived at Chicago airport in a privately owned airliner shortly after 10 a. m. In this group was Meigs and three officers of the army air corps—Maj. A. J. Wehrell, Maj. M. K. Downes, and Lieut. H. B. Neely and several officials.

Useful for Peace or War.

Before departing on the survey flights Meigs said the new cargo planes would be of a type that would be important to both war and peace time aerial operations. He said they will combine cargo carrying and accommodations for passengers, altho their freight capacity will be stressed.

Meigs said new methods of manufacturing would be used, but denied that the planes would be constructed entirely of plastics. He remarked that the party had hoped to be able to return to Washington last night but indicated that certain members of the group would stay in Chicago for several days discussing the freight plane program.

INCREASE SHOWN IN DEPARTMENT STORE TRADING

Department store sales in the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district during the week ended April 18 increased 8 per cent over the preceding week and 15 per cent compared with the same 1941 period, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Chicago volume gained 4 per cent from the week before and was 12 per cent higher than a year ago.

The reserve bank, in noting the district's increase over the 1941 week, said it was a small dollar volume gain since the week ended April 18 this year compared with the post-Easter period last year. In addition, the bank said, "It may be assumed that the physical volume of goods sold did not increase as the rise in the price level from a year ago is about 18 per cent."

Of the large cities in the district, Detroit made the best showing with a gain of 27 per cent over 1941. Milwaukee and Indianapolis were 13 and 6 per cent higher, respectively.

Department store sales in the nation's 12 reserve districts were 15 per cent above the corresponding 1941 week.

$100,000,000

The American Tobacco Company

Twenty Year 3% Debentures

Dated April 15, 1942 — Due April 15, 1962

Interest payable April 15 and October 15 at the office or agency of the Company in New York City. The Company has appointed Guaranty Trust Company of New York as paying agent for the Debentures.

A cumulative Sinking Fund of $3,000,000 each year commencing in 1943 payable in cash, to be applied to the purchase or redemption of Debentures, or in Debentures; the Sinking Fund being subject to reduction in amount upon retirement of Debentures otherwise than through the operation of the Sinking Fund. It is calculated that the amount of Debentures to be retired by the Sinking Fund plus the amount, if any, retired otherwise than through operation of the Sinking Fund will aggregate at least 75% of the issue by maturity.

Redeemable, at the option of the Company, in whole or in part, at any time upon 30 days' notice, at the following prices and accrued interest: to and including April 15, 1945, 103%; thereafter to and including April 15, 1948, 102½%; thereafter to and including April 15, 1951, 102%; thereafter to and including April 15, 1954, 101½%; thereafter to and including April 15, 1957, 101%; thereafter to and including April 15, 1960, 100½%; and thereafter, 100%.

Also redeemable for the Sinking Fund on any interest payment date after April 15, 1943, upon 30 days' notice, at the following prices and accrued interest: to and including April 15, 1954, 101½%; thereafter to and including April 15, 1957, 101%; thereafter to and including April 15, 1960, 100½%; and thereafter, 100%.

The following is merely a brief outline, prepared by the Company, of certain information contained in the Offering Prospectus and is subject to the more detailed statements in the Offering Prospectus and the Registration Statement, which also include important information not outlined or indicated herein. The Offering Prospectus, which must be furnished to each purchaser, should be read prior to any purchase of these Debentures.

THE COMPANY The Company, incorporated in New Jersey in 1904, and its subsidiaries are engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling cigarettes, smoking and chewing tobaccos and cigars. In 1941 the net sales of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries (including $186,976,249 in Federal revenue stamps affixed to the products) were $363,548,664, made up as follows: cigarettes—88.65%, tobaccos—7.38%, cigars—3.50% and miscellaneous—0.47%. The principal product of the Company is Lucky Strike Cigarettes, the sales of which constitute the preponderant portion of total sales. American Cigarette and Cigar Company, a partly owned consolidated subsidiary, manufactures and sells, under a brand leased from the Company, Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes. The three chief manufacturing plants of the Company are at Richmond, Virginia, and Durham and Reidsville, North Carolina, at each of which locations Lucky Strike Cigarettes are manufactured. The Company and its subsidiaries also own various storage areas on which are located numerous sheds for the storing and aging of leaf tobacco. As such aging process generally requires about two years, the Company and its chief leaf-buying subsidiary normally have on hand very substantial inventories of leaf tobacco. Leaf tobacco has been subject to wide fluctuations in price.

CAPITALIZATION OF THE COMPANY	Outstanding as of December 31, 1941
Funded Debt	$31,817,900
Short Term Notes payable to Banks	69,350,000
Preferred Stock, 6% Cumulative; par value $100 per share (outstanding 526,997 shares)	52,699,700
Common Stock; par value $25 per share (outstanding 1,609,696 shares*)	40,242,400*
Common Stock B; par value $25 per share (outstanding 3,134,184 shares*)	78,354,600*

*Including $1,220,650 par value Common Stock and $4,158,975 par value Common Stock B, held in the Company's treasury. Does not include $6,824 Dividend Certificates, exchangeable for not exceeding 273 shares of Common Stock B.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE The total proceeds ($98,250,000 before deducting expenses estimated at $342,400), plus accrued interest, from the sale of the Debentures, together with other funds of the Company to the extent necessary, are to be applied to the payment of $28,977,000 of funded debt and $75,500,000 of short term notes payable to banks (i.e. the entire outstanding funded debt and bank loans of the Company as of April 10, 1942, except for $926,900 of non-callable bonds), thus positioning the Company for purchases of its requirements of leaf tobacco. The Company intends to pay from other funds its expenses of sale of the Debentures and the accrued interest on its obligations to be paid off as above stated. During the year ended April 10, 1942, there was a net increase of $54,650,000 in short term bank loans of the Company, the additional working capital derived therefrom being required principally by the increase both in dollar amount and quantity in inventories of the Company and its subsidiaries, occasioned by higher prices being paid for tobacco and the increasing volume of business. The Company may borrow additional amounts from time to time as occasion arises.

EARNINGS The following condensed statement of results of operations of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries has been prepared from the consolidated financial statements in the Offering Prospectus and has been reviewed by Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, independent certified public accountants. Such statement is subject to, and should be read in conjunction with, the financial statements in the Offering Prospectus together with the notes accompanying such statements.

The Underwriters, including the undersigned and the others named in the Offering Prospectus, have agreed to purchase these Debentures when, as and if issued and subject to the approval of Messrs. Davis Polk Wardwell Gardiner & Reed, counsel for the Underwriters, and to certain further conditions. It is expected that delivery of Debentures in temporary form, exchangeable for definitive Debentures when prepared, will be made on or about April 28, 1942, against payment therefor in New York funds.

Lilacs Begin to Bloom.

April 23, 1942.

THE lilac bushes at the Du Page county farm are filled with new leaves and flowers. The bushes are on schedule this year and promise a bumper crop of blooms for the 14th annual "Share Your Lilacs" campaign.

Earlier in the season, the bushes were carefully pruned. Old stems and dry wood were cut back and sucker shoots destroyed. Proper pruning of lilac bushes lengthens their life and assures a profusion of blooms. As a result of good care the bushes now are sporting miniature flowers almost two inches long, dainty promises of magnificent flowers later. The leaf buds have unfurled and the small green leaves are about three inches long.

Need Sun and Moisture.

The gardener pinched off several of the slower buds to see how they were progressing. Upon opening the buds one could see the embryonic flowers and leaves that are awaiting more warmth and moisture before opening.

The gardener believes that if the warm weather continues and there are no severe frosts the blossoms should be at their peak the early part of May. Then they will be cut and shipped into the city on Lilac days to bring cheer and a breath of spring to shut-ins.

The lilac is one of the most amiable plants in the garden. It can stand abusive treatment better than most plants. The lilac is not indigenous to America yet it flourishes thru the northern part of the country and is one of the most loved of blooming plants.

Originated in Asia.

Lilacs may be found in most of the world. Originally they came from Asia and central and eastern Europe. The old fashioned lavender lilac, which is familiar to every one, is a native of Bulgaria, Hungary, and Rumania. However it also may be found in Persia and China.

Many of the different varieties of lilacs used in gardens are the result of years of work by horticulturists in Holland, Belgium and France. When the great westward migration started in America, many of the settlers carried lilac cuttings and seeds with them in their covered wagons.

The gardener at the farm has found that heavy cutting of the blooms has helped the shrubs to greater production. To thrive perfectly, lilacs should be planted where they can get plenty of sunshine.

OIL STOCK SALE IN BANKRUPTCY CALLED ILLEGAL

Ex-Officer of Hoagland & Allum Protests.

A former officer of Hoagland & Allum Company, Inc., La Salle street investment concern which failed four year ago with more than $600,000 loss to investors, yesterday declared that the trustee for the bankrupt concern had sold illegally stock in a Louisiana oil firm to Ralph A. Bard, now assistant secretary of the navy, at a ridiculously low price.

The assertion was made by Henry A. Engel, once secretary and treasurer of the investment firm, in a reply filed in federal District court to the trustee's suit to force disclosure of assets.

Served Four Year Term.

Engel was released from prison April 7 after serving four years on state and federal fraud convictions. Two other officials of the company also served similar sentences.

Engel declared that 204 shares of D'Arbonne company capital stock sold to Bard, its president, for $2,040 on Dec. 6, 1938, by John H. Chatz, federal court trustee, did not belong to the bankrupt estate. He said the stock was the property of General American Securities corporation, a Hoagland & Allum subsidiary.

Asks Better Price.

Engel said that D'Arbonne owns valuable gas and oil properties in Louisiana with a potential worth of several hundred thousand dollars. He asked the court to set aside the sale in order that a better price for the stock be obtained and the proper share of the proceeds be made available to Hoagland and Allum investors.

Chatz and his attorney, William S. Kleinman, said the stock sale had been consummated under court order and that they had been unable to obtain a better price. They said the stock certificate was in Engel's name and, therefore, properly part of the bankrupt estate.

MEAT PACKER.

Please report on John Morrell & Co. I am particularly interested in a comparison of its 1941 sales with preceding years. How does the company compare in size with other packing companies? G. D.

Answer: John Morrell & Co., Ottumwa, Ia., ranks fifth in size among domestic meat packers. Incorporated in Maine in 1915, the company operates plants in Ottumwa, Ia., Sioux Falls, S. D., and Topeka, Kas. Capitalization is $4,700,000 in serial notes outstanding and 389,700 shares of par common.

Sales in the fiscal year ended Nov. 1, 1941, totaled $122,727,034, marking the first time that more than 100 million dollars worth of products were sold by the company in its 114 year history. The total was 22 per cent larger than the $99,361,767 volume of the preceding year. Dividends have been paid in each of the 13 years since 1928 when the company's stock first was sold publicly. Except 1937, the company has operated at a profit every year since 1928. Financial operations in the fiscal years ended Nov. 1 were:

	Net sales.	Net income	Per share.

CHICAGO AND N. W.

Has the Chicago and North Western been granted permission by the federal court to pay interest to security holders out of 1941 earnings? If so, how much will payments total? I shall appreciate any other information in this regard. S. D.

Answer: The Chicago and North Western railroad was granted authority by the United States District court on March 24 to pay a total of $8,038,532 to security holders out of 1941 earnings. Payments are subject to adjustment in the event of a revision of the road's reorganization plan and will be made between June 1 and Aug. 30 this year. The amount of interest will range between 1.64 per cent on first and refunding 4½ per cent bonds to 4 per cent on Sioux City and Pacific and Des Plaines division bonds.

SHOE MANUFACTURER.

Are any International Shoe company 6 per cent preferred shares still outstanding? How did 1941 sales and earnings compare with 1940? F. W.

Answer: All International Shoe company 6 per cent preferred stock was redeemed in 1933 but was carried in the company's treasury as authorized and unissued shares until January last year when it was eliminated from the capitalization. Sales in the fiscal year ended Nov. 30, 1941, were $116,530,244, compared with $88,257,329 in the preceding year. Net income was $7,207,037 against $6,473,612 in 1940.

HOGS CONTINUE ADVANCE, RISING 5 TO 15c FOR DAY

Hog markets continued upward yesterday with advances of 5 to 15 cents general in Chicago trading. The market was about on a par with the 22 year April high point established last week and exactly $1 a hundred pounds above the average of the day that federal pork price ceilings first became effective.

Packers paid a 10 cents higher average price of $14.50 a hundred pounds for the day's hog supply. Top loads reached $14.60.

The heavy drain by lend-lease buyers has resulted in a shortage of some cuts of pork for domestic trade. Packers report a good outlet for all cuts at ceiling prices.

Lambs advanced 25 cents more to a top of $14, the highest since January, 1930. Steers and yearlings met narrow demand on a weak price basis.

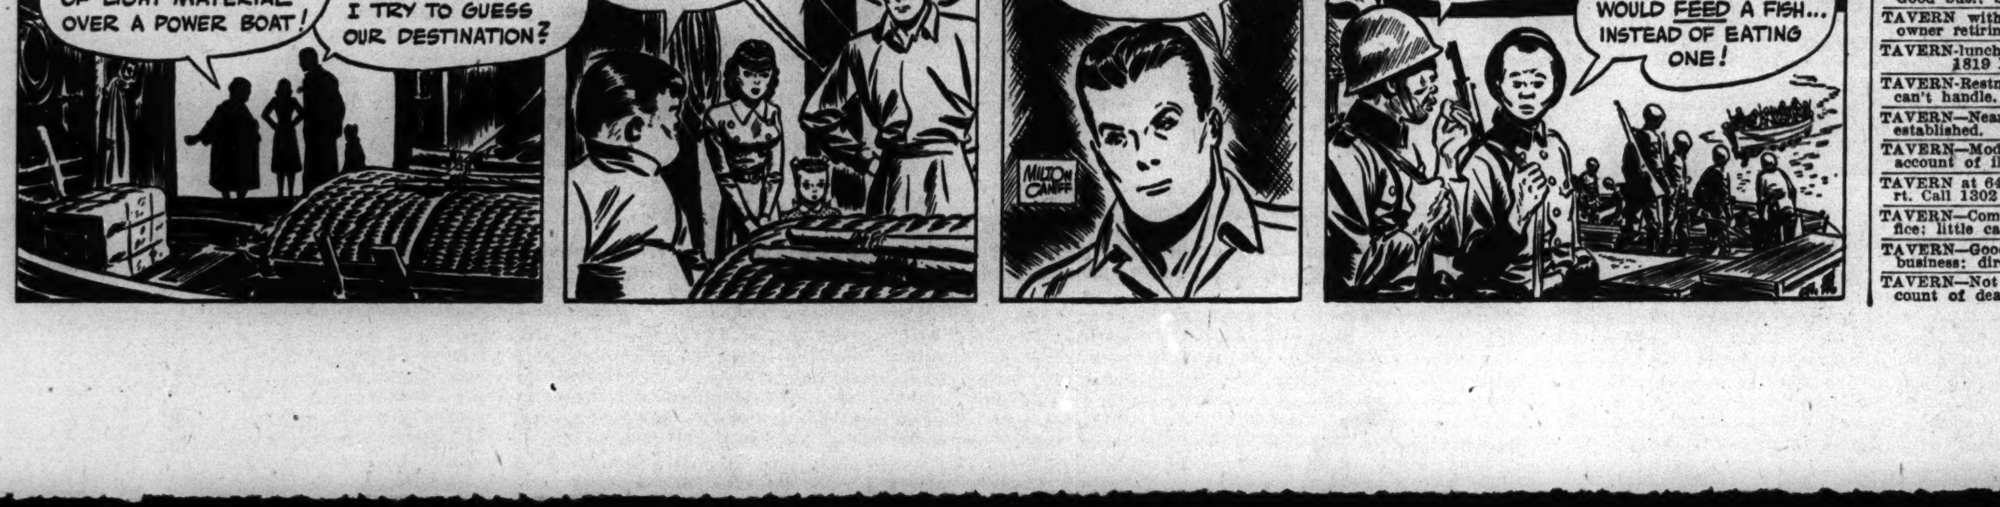
TERRY AND THE PIRATES—B-17 IS A MEAN MACHINE



4-24 Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1942, by News Syndicate Co. Inc.
YOU SEE, MR. RYAN, WHILE OUR GUERILLAS BROUGHT STOLEN EXPLOSIVES, I BUILT THIS FALSE COVERING OF LIGHT MATERIAL OVER A POWER BOAT!
YOU WILL POSE AS A FARMER CARRYING HIS STUFF TO MARKET —THEN TRY TO BREAK THROUGH TO... OR SHOULDN'T I TRY TO GUESS OUR DESTINATION?
MR. RYAN IS A DIPLOMAT... FOR THE MOMENT WE WILL CONCERN OURSELVES WITH NOT BEING CAUGHT!
WHAT IF WE ARE CAUGHT, PAT?
WELL..
...THE JAPS WOULD PRACTICE FLOWER ARRANGEMENT ON US — BUT WE WOULDN'T BE ABLE TO APPRECIATE THE SCENT!
MEANWHILE...
TO THE BOAT! AGAIN WE BROIL IN THE SUN ON THE ACCURSED RIVER PATROL!
...COUNT YOURSELF FORTUNATE THAT YOU ARE NOT ON A TRANSPORT FLEEING FROM A YANKEE FLYING CASTLE! THEN YOU WOULD FEED A FISH... INSTEAD OF EATING ONE!
